1. Executive Summary

Scope

RiskTech Pty Limited were engaged by Hanson to undertake an Environmental Site Assessment (ESA) and Hazardous Materials Survey of the property located at 1/1A Bridge Road, Glebe NSW to assess the potential contamination that the current site activities, as a concrete plant, may have had on the upper level of the wharf structure of the site.

In addition, a hazardous materials assessment of the construction of the buildings and structures of the upper level of the wharf structure of the site was also undertaken.

Key Findings

The key findings are as follows:

- The upper level of the wharf structure on the site represents a low environmental contamination risk.
- Current site activities are considered unlikely to give rise to significant contamination and no visual evidence of contamination, due to these activities, was observed during the site inspection.
- Historical site activities are considered unlikely to have given rise to significant contamination on the upper level of the wharf structure.
- The adjacent sites including the adjoining wetland area behind the seawall on the site are unlikely to be a cause of potential contamination of the upper level of the wharf structure.
- No bulk underground or aboveground fuel storage tanks were identified on the wharf structure.
- Some cleaning chemicals and concrete additives are not stored within secondary containment.
- The site is not listed on the NSW EPA's List of NSW contaminated sites notified to EPA; or the Contaminated Land: Record of Notices.
- There are minor situations of asbestos/hazardous materials associated with the buildings and structures on the site.

Recommendations

The key recommendations are as follow:

- Consider removing or repairing/sealing the localised damaged fibre cement sheet panelling in the skylight area of the lunch room.
- Install secondary containment for cleaning chemicals and concrete additives to contain potential leaks and prevent spillage to stormwater drains.
- Undertake an intrusive hazardous materials assessment prior to renovations/demolition to help identify materials that may be present in currently inaccessible locations (eg; beneath floor coverings or above set ceilings).
- Engage an appropriately licenced (Class A/B) Asbestos Removal Contractor to remove asbestos materials prior to renovations/demolition under controlled conditions.
- Engage an asbestos consultant to undertake hygiene works (air monitoring and clearance inspections) during and following the removal of asbestos materials.
- It is imperative that demolition/refurbishment works cease pending further sampling if materials suspected of containing asbestos or unknown materials are encountered.
- Remove identified SMF and PCB materials under controlled conditions prior to demolition.
- When demolition works are to involve the disturbance of confirmed lead-containing paint, dust suppression techniques should be utilised.

2. Introduction

RiskTech Pty Limited were engaged by Hanson to undertake an Environmental Site Assessment (ESA) and Hazardous Materials Survey of the property located at 1/1A Bridge Road, Glebe NSW to assess the potential contamination that the current site activities, as a concrete plant, may have had on the upper level of the wharf structure of the site.

In additional, a hazardous materials assessment of the construction of the buildings and structures of the upper level of the wharf structure of the site was also undertaken. This report includes an asbestos register for the site, prepared in accordance with NSW Work Health and Safety Regulation, 2011 and the Safe Work Australia Code of Practice How to Manage and Control Asbestos in the Workplace, 2016.

2.1 Site Description

Site Address	1/1A Bridge Road, Glebe NSW
Construction Date	Circa 1970's

2.2 Scope

2.2.1 Environmental Site Assessment

The objective of the Environmental Site Assessment was to conduct a site inspection and collate historical information in order to establish whether activities have occurred on site, during its occupation by Hanson Construction Materials Pty Ltd, which have resulted in contamination of the upper wharf structure.

Furthermore, the scope of assessment was limited to the upper level of the wharf structure and excluded the adjoining leased wetland area on the site and any intrusive investigations beneath the upper level of the wharf structure and in the adjoining leased wetland.

The assessment incorporated a review of available historical information and current site operations. The assessment methodology involved:

- Conduct historical investigations to identify the nature and extent of potential contamination from previous operations and activities by the current site occupier;
- Identify the nature, location and extent of potential contamination from the operations and activities by the current site occupier;
- Identification of the type, extent and level of hazardous materials and potential contaminants on the upper level of the wharf structure; &
- Preparation of a report detailing the type, location, extent, condition and risk of these hazardous materials and contamination and also provide recommendations to address these hazardous materials and contamination.

The assessment involved the review of relevant historical information such as historical aerial photography, historical title searches, SafeWork NSW Site Licence search for Schedule 11 Hazardous Chemicals and NSW Environment Protection Authority Contaminated Land Database search and other relevant site documentation such as asbestos/hazardous materials register, asbestos/hazardous abatement records, hazardous chemicals registers and safety data sheets (SDS), where available.

2.2.2 Hazardous Material Assessment

The Hazardous Materials Survey process encompassed an inspection of the exterior and interior areas including plant areas within and outside of the buildings and structures on site. This report documents RiskTech's survey findings as per this scope.

The Hazardous Materials Survey was undertaken in accordance with:

- NSW Work Health and Safety Regulation, 2011.
- Code of Practice: How to Manage and Control Asbestos In The Workplace, 2016 (SafeWork NSW).

The scope included a Hazardous Building Materials survey of the buildings and structures, with express intent to identify the presence of the following:

- Asbestos Containing Materials (ACM);
- Synthetic Mineral Fibres (SMF);
- Polychlorinated Biphenyls (PCBs); &
- Lead Paint.

The survey involved:

- Discussions with relevant personnel to ascertain the buildings and structures age and history.
- Review of relevant documentation including previous audit reports and abatement records where present.

- A visual inspection of accessible and representative hazardous materials.
- Detailed sampling and identification of suspected asbestos materials. Small representative samples of suspected asbestos-containing material were collected in plastic bags with clip-lock seals. A total of 3 samples were collected and subsequently analysed in an external NATA-accredited laboratory (Safe Work & Environments) for the presence of asbestos by Polarised Light Microscopy (refer to Appendix 3 for laboratory results).
- Sampling using an on-site lead paint swab test kit ('Leadcheck') to assess for lead-containing products. Leadcheck swabs can detect lead in paint at concentrations of 0.5% and above. A total of 2 lead swabs were used in this inspection. The objective of lead paint identification in this survey is to highlight the presence of lead-based paints within the building, not to specifically identify every source of lead-based paint.
- Access to the capacitors within in-situ light fittings was not available at the time of the audit, as a qualified electrician was not present to access the fittings. An assessment on the likelihood of light fittings containing PCB capacitors has been made in lieu of a visual inspection, based on the apparent age and style of the light fittings.

A strategy of using representative samples of suspected hazardous materials has been used to minimise the number of samples and degree of disturbance. Because of this strategy, findings of the audit should be interpreted such that all visually similar materials in the same vicinity must be assumed to be composed of the same material until proven otherwise. Where these factors have indicated that there is a possibility of exposure to airborne asbestos fibres or other hazardous material, appropriate risk control measures are recommended.

2.3 Limitations/Areas Not Accessed

- Detailed testing/intrusive investigations were not included in this assessment.
- The upper level of the wharf structure was the focus of the assessment and the leased wetland portion of the site adjoining the wharf structure was excluded in this assessment.
- The assessment is limited to those physical aspects that could be observed during inspections of accessible areas.
- The assessment does not cover defects in inaccessible places or latent defects.
- We have generally used and relied upon information supplied as being regarded as authoritative and reliable. Review of reports and certification documentation is limited to those that were supplied as part of the Environmental Site Assessment and historical searches.
- This is a non-destructive hazardous materials assessment for occupational purposes. It is not to be used for any major refurbishment or demolition, where a more invasive destructive survey would be undertaken in line with plans for re-development. In accordance with the NSW Work Health and Safety Regulation, 2011 inaccessible areas that are likely to contain asbestos must be presumed as containing asbestos material until further inspection and analysis of samples has been undertaken by an approved analyst.

Typical areas likely to be deemed inaccessible under this regulation are:

- Height restricted areas e.g. Façade and inaccessible ceiling spaces;
- Within set ceilings;
- Inaccessible sub-floor spaces/tunnels;
- Service shafts, risers, ducts and voids;
- Under carpet/vinyl or other floor coverings;
- Wall cavities/partitions;

- Behind or beneath ceramic tiles;
- Inside mechanical equipment e.g. within air conditioning re-heat boxes & boilers;
- Gaskets/sealants to pipework, ductwork, mechanical equipment & construction joints;
- Waterproof membranes;
- Sealed fire doors or access panels;
- Energised services, gas, electrical and chemical pipes / conduits;
- Concealed behind other materials and linings; &
- Within live electrical switchboards.

Limited access was available to active batching areas at the time of the inspection. Other specific areas not accessed are outlined below:

- External upper exterior silo (height restricted);
- Within silos (filled at the time of the inspection); &
- No roof access to the office buildings and silo structure.

3. Site History

3.1 Property Location and Adjacent Land Uses

3.1.1 Location and Description

The subject site comprises a wharf and also a small portion of adjoining reclaimed wetland area behind a sea wall in Blackwattle Bay. The site comprises Quarry Depot (weighbridge) underneath a silo, several work/storage/plant areas, aggregate bins, two office buildings and conveyor belts to move aggregate around the site. The remainder of the site comprises hardstand roads for truck movement around the site and two car parking areas.

The concrete plant was constructed circa 1970's prior to which the site appeared to be used for storage of containers and stockpiles of building materials (potentially sand/soil/aggregates etc).

3.1.2 Surrounding Land Use

The site is situated approximately 2 km west of Sydney's CBD. The following provides a summary of surrounding land uses:

Direction	Land Use
North	Blackwattle Bay
South	Bridge Road across which lies Wentworth Park and residential and retail buildings
East	HDSA Hope Diving, Blackwattle Bay Marina and Sydney Fish Markets
West	Parkland along the Blackwattle Bay foreshore, retail and residential properties

The nearest water body to the site is Blackwattle Bay which is underneath the majority of the site and bounds the northern eastern and western sides of the site.

3.2 Previous Environmental Reports & Documentation

No reports that relate to environmental liabilities were available as part of this assessment.

A previous Asbestos Materials Survey Report was undertaken by Workplace Environment Consultants Pty Ltd in November 2012. This report noted that the following types of asbestos containing materials were identified/suspected in the following locations:

Asbestos Item	Location
Compressed fibre cement sheeting	Site Office – Infill panel surrounding the air-conditioner unit Amenities – Ceiling Weighbridge 1 & 2 – Ceiling Amenities – Outside door
Vinyl floor tiles	Site Office Amenities Weighbridge 1 & 2

3.3 Historical Title Information

Historical title searches are typically undertaken to indicate possible sources of contamination based upon the likely operations carried out on the site by the owner/tenant of the property.

A limited historical title search was undertaken for this property. A summary of historical title information has been provided in the table below.

Historical Title Summary – 1/1A Bridge Road, Glebe NSW

The site was originally owned by the Sydney Harbour Trust Commissioner from the early 1900s until 1939 where it was purchased by the Maritime Services Board of NSW. The site was then purchased in 2004 by Waterways Authority of New South Wales, who still currently own the land, and has been sublet to a number of different corporations including Ausgrid and Hanson Concrete.

Refer to Appendix 6 for the copies of the title search information.

3.4 Historical Aerial Photographs

Historical aerial photographs may indicate possible sources of historical contamination based upon the activities carried out on the site/adjacent sites. Historical aerial photographs for the site were viewed from 1930 - 2016. A summary of findings from 13 of these is provided in the table below:

Historical Aerial Photography
1930	Site	The site appears under construction in the central and northern portion of the site. The south western portion of the site has a large warehouse style building present and the central and eastern portions of the site are unclear in this image.
	Surrounds	The area surrounding to the west of the site appears to be high density warehouses associated with shipping and cargo. The area to the south of the site is residential and commercial buildings. The area to the east is open parkland and to the north is Blackwattle Bay.
1943	Site	The site appears similar to the previous image. The southern central and eastern portion of the site can be seen in this image and contain approximately 4 small buildings surrounded by a sealed open area.
	Surrounds	The surrounding area appears similar to the 1930 photograph, with the exception of the area to the east of the site where the large open grassed area has been replaced with large warehouses.
1951	Site	There are no discernible changes to the site from the 1943 photograph.
	Surrounds	The surrounding area appears similar to the 1943 photograph, with the exception of the area to the east of the site where the large warehouses have now been removed and only a visible footprint of the buildings remain.
1955	Site	There are no discernible changes to the site from the 1951 photograph.
	Surrounds	There are no discernible differences to the area surrounding the site from the 1951 photograph.
1961	Site	The southern portion of the site remains similar to the previous aerial photograph however the northern portion of the site has no structures and is now a sealed area with stockpiles of material present.
	Surrounds	There are no discernible differences to the area surrounding the site from the 1955 photograph.
1965	Site	This image is unclear, however, there do not appear to be any discernible changes to the site from the 1961 photograph.
	Surrounds	This image is unclear, however, there do not appear to be any discernible changes to the surrounding area from the 1961 photograph.
1970	Site	The site is similar to the previous image, however there are fewer stockpiles of material on the site and shipping containers stored in the north western corner of the site.
	Surrounds	There are no discernible differences to the area surrounding the site from the 1965 photograph.

Historical Aerial Photography
1982	Site	The site is completely different from the previous aerial photograph. All of the previous buildings have been removed and replaced with the Hanson Concrete Plant that is still present on the site today.
	Surrounds	There are no discernible differences to the area to the east or south of the site, however many of the buildings to the west of the site have been removed and the area appears to be under construction.
1991	Site	There are no discernible changes to the site from the 1982 photograph.
	Surrounds	The area to the west of the site now comprises green open space and a large apartment complex. The remainder of the surrounding area looks similar to the previous photograph.
2000	Site	There are no discernible differences to the site from the 1991 photograph.
	Surrounds	The surrounding area appears similar to the 1991 photograph.
2009	Site	There are no discernible changes to the site from the 2000 photograph.
	Surrounds	The surrounding area appears similar to the previous photograph.
2014	Site	There are no discernible changes to the site from the 2009 photograph.
	Surrounds	The surrounding area appears similar to the previous photograph.
2016	Site	There are no discernible differences to the site from the 2014 aerial photograph.
	Surrounds	The surrounding area appears similar to the previous photograph.

Historical aerial photographs of the site show that there was little change visible between 1930 and 1961 where the site appeared to be under construction to create the reclaimed area that the site is on today and then left unsealed with approximately 4 buildings. From 1961-1982 the site appears to have a sealed surface with various materials stockpiled on it. In 1982 the current site structures can be seen on the site and it has remained similar to this image until the current time.

The area surrounding the site was mainly industrial/wharf activities to the west of the site until 1982 when the area was in the process of being redeveloped into open park area and apartments which are still there today, this can be seen in the 1991 aerial photograph.

The area to the south of the site appears to have been a mixture of commercial and residential properties from 1930 until the current time.

Wentworth Park is to the east of the site and has been there since the 1930 aerial photograph. In the 1943 aerial photograph the park is covered with either large temporary tents or warehouses, however these structures have been removed by the next image in 1951.

Copies of the aerial photographs can be found in Appendix 2.

3.5 NSW WorkCover

A WorkCover Storage of Hazardous Chemicals Search was undertaken for the site. The information from the search indicated that there was an underground 6,000 gallon fuel (diesel) storage tank located in the south western portion of the site in 1974, which appears to be located adjacent to Bridge Road behind the sea wall in the wetland area (south of the wharf structure).

Furthermore, the search also indicated that a 10,000 litre above ground fuel (diesel) tank was also present in the far south western corner of the site in 1994, which is also located behind the sea wall in the wetland area (south of the wharf structure). It should be noted that the underground tank was not in the same location on the site sketch dated 26/6/94 as those on the site drawings dated 15/1/1974.

Neither the above ground nor underground fuel storage tanks were observed on the site at the time of the inspection. RiskTech was advised that the underground storage tank had been previously removed in the 1990s, however, documentation to support this was not available for review. It is noted that no further investigation was undertaken concerning the underground and aboveground storage tanks as it is outside the scope of works.

Refer to Appendix 4 for the WorkCover Search Results.

3.6 NSW EPA Search

In NSW the management of contaminated land is shared by the Environment Protection Authority (EPA), the Department of Planning and Infrastructure and planning consent authorities (usually local councils). Under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 (CLM Act), the EPA regulates contaminated sites where the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation. Contaminated sites that are not regulated by the EPA are managed by local councils through land-use planning processes.

The EPA has 2 online lists and a public register:

- List of NSW contaminated sites notified to EPA;
- List of Contaminated Land: Record of Notices; &
- Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997.

Subsequent to amendments to Section 60 of the CLM Act 'Duty to Report Contaminated Sites', the Environment Protection Authority (EPA) has received many notices from owners or occupiers of sites where they believe the sites are contaminated (i.e. 'List of NSW contaminated Sites notified to the EPA').

The sites appearing on this 'List of NSW contaminated sites notified to the EPA' indicate that the notifiers consider that the sites are contaminated and warrant reporting to EPA. However, the contamination may or may not be significant enough to warrant regulation by the EPA. A site will be on the 'Contaminated Land: Record of Notices' only if the EPA has issued a regulatory notice in relation to the site under the CLM Act.

3.6.1 Searches

An online search through the EPA contaminated land public records was completed for the current site being investigated. It is noted that an absence of a site from the list does not necessarily imply the site is not contaminated.

- The site is not listed on the 'List of NSW contaminated sites notified to EPA'.
- The site is not listed on the 'Contaminated Land: Record of Notices list'. There are no sites noted nearby to the site.

A search of the public register maintained by NSW EPA under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 (POEO Act) was undertaken and the search identified that, for the site, there were:

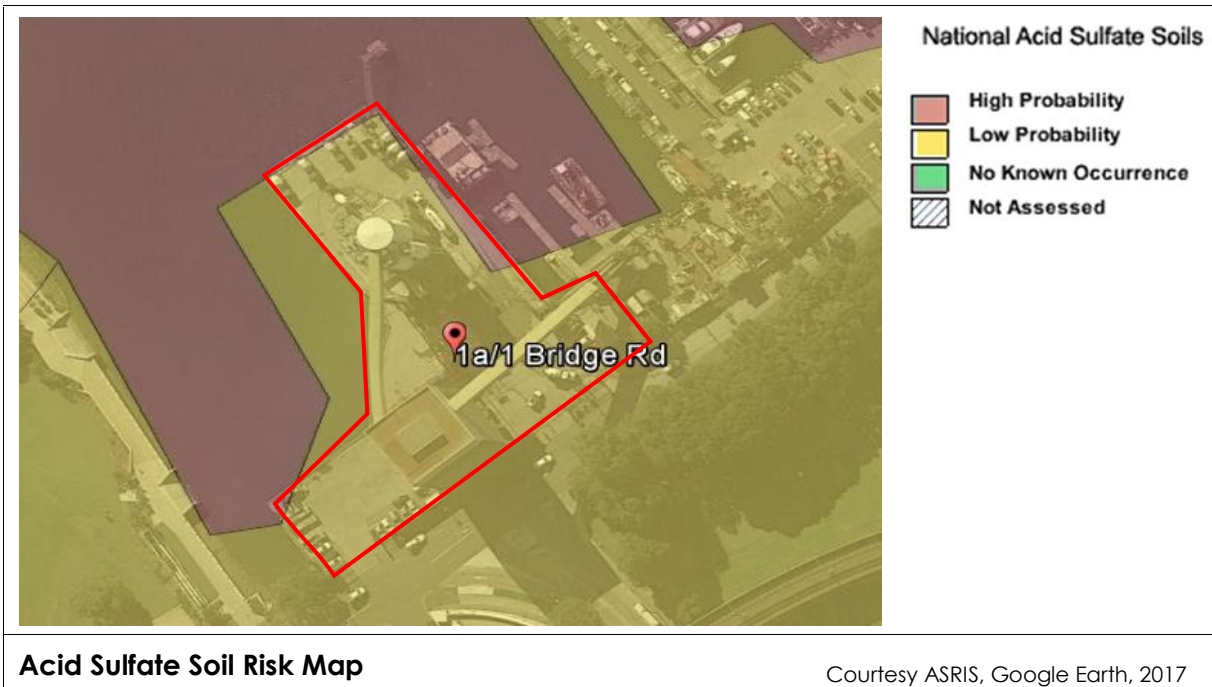

- An Environmental Protection Licence (Licence Number 3801) issued to Hanson Construction Materials Pty Ltd (licensee) for the scheduled activity (shipping in bulk: > 1000,000-500,000 T loaded and unloaded).
- A Licence Variation (Notice Number 1511596) for the issued to Hanson Construction Materials Pty Ltd (licensee) for the scheduled activity (shipping in bulk: > 1000,000-500,000 T loaded and unloaded), which included minor changes due to the new licencing system and changes to the lot and DP description made by the licensing system.

4. Site Information – Other Searches

4.1 Planning Searches

4.1.1 Acid Sulfate Soils

Acid sulfate soils are naturally occurring soils or sediments that are formed under waterlogged conditions containing iron sulphide minerals, and when disturbed release sulphuric acid.

A search of the Australian Soil Resource information System (ASRIS) National Acid Sulfate Soils Risk Map was carried out for the site. The search revealed that the site is in an area with low – high probability of acid sulfate soils.

It is noted that the Acid Sulfate Soils Maps do not describe the actual severity of acid sulfate soils in a particular area, but provide an initial indication that acid sulfate soils could be present on the site. The drainage from acid sulfate soil lands can create conditions which are toxic to aquatic and terrestrial life and grazing animals. The best management option for the problem of acid sulfate soils is not to disturb the soil. However, land development and agricultural activities in coastal areas will often interfere with acid sulfate soils. The presence of potential acid sulfate soil is an important consideration when developing a site with any structures that contain steel or concrete. The local government may require the submission of an Acid Sulfate Soil Management Plan prior to development consent.

4.1.2 Section 149 Certificate

Section 149 Planning Certificates are issued in accordance with the Environmental Planning & Assessment Act 1979. They contain information on how a property may be used and the restrictions on development.

Information to be disclosed on a Section 149 (2) Planning Certificate is specified under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2000 (Schedule 4) and shows the zoning of the property, its relevant state, regional and local planning controls and other property issues such as land contamination and road widening. A section 149(2) and 149(5) certificate provides the same information but also includes other factors such as advice from other authorities.

The Section 149(2&5) certificate for the site was reviewed (dated 20/3/17). A summary of relevant information is as follows:

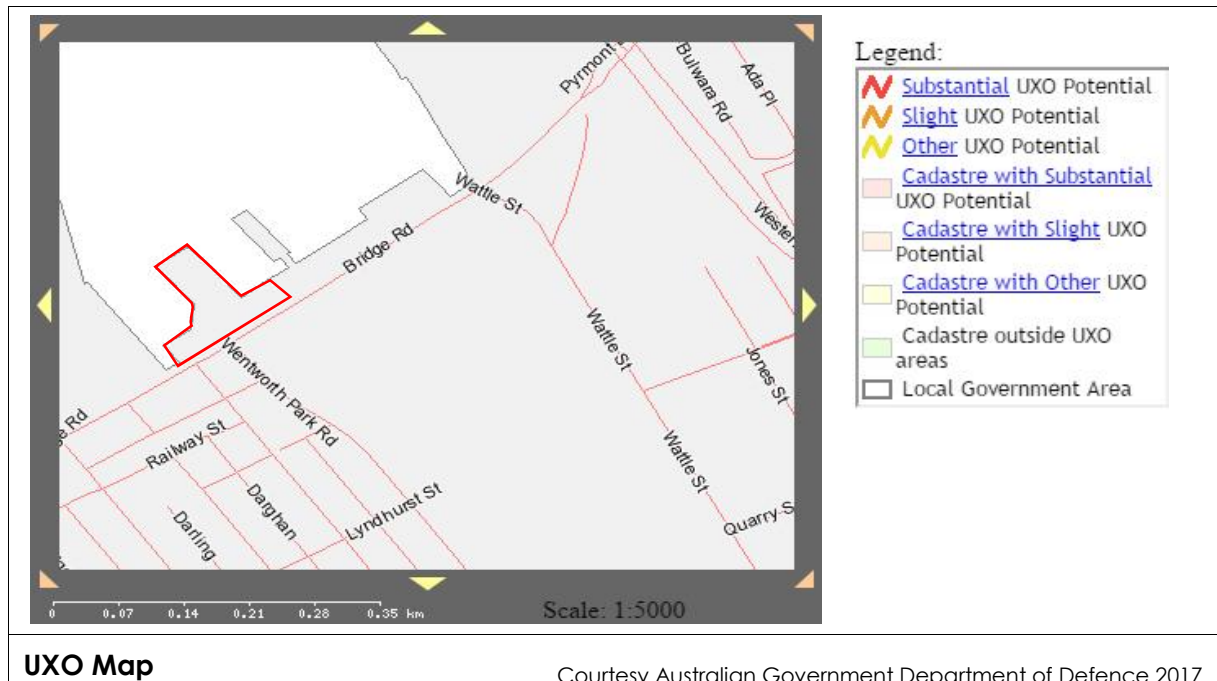

- The land is zoned Waterfront Use Zone
- The lands does not comprise an environmentally sensitive area
- The land is not located within a heritage conservation area
- The land is not subject to flood related development controls
- The land is not in a bush fire prone area
- The land is not affected by road widening or road realignment
- The land is not in a coastal protection zone
- The land is not designated a special area under the Sydney Water Catchment Management Act 1998
- The land is affected by the City of Sydney Contaminated Land Development Control Plan 2004 which may restrict the land if the potential for the risk of land contamination exists
- The land has not been certified as biodiversity certified land
- The land is not subject to a management order
- The land is identified as being identified on acid sulfate soils map as Class 1 or Class 2

Refer to Appendix 5 for the Section 149 Certificate.

4.1.3 UXO Site Search

As a result of military training and live firing undertaken by Australian and Allied forces there are many areas throughout Australia not controlled by the Commonwealth, which may be subject to residual unexploded ordnance (UXO) contamination. In accordance with Commonwealth policy, the Department of Defence has undertaken to identify and record sites where there is potential for such contamination.

The site is not located in an area that poses a risk to UXO.

4.2 Heritage Search

Searches were undertaken on the NSW EPA website, the NSW Heritage website and the Australian Heritage website to assess the heritage status of the site. The site is not listed as heritage.

The site was confirmed in the Section 149 Certificate as not being listed in a heritage conservation area.

4.3 Geology

A review of the Sydney 1 : 100,000 Geological Series Sheets 9130 edition 1, 1983 indicates that the site is underlain by manmade fill, dredged estuarine sand and mud, demolition rubble, industrial and household waste underneath which is naturally occurring silty to peaty quartz sand, silt and clay with ferruginous and humic cementation in places. Shell layers are common in this lithology.

5. Current Site Findings

Based on review of available documentation, the following information regarding current site activities / information pertaining to environmental liabilities is outlined below:

5.1 Emissions to Atmosphere

Emissions to atmosphere from the site include:

- Dust from concrete production activities on site;
- Vehicular exhausts;
- Noise limits from machinery and trucks; and
- Building exhaust from toilet facilities throughout the building.

An Environmental Protection Licence (Licence No. 3801) has been issued for the site to limit the dust and noise pollution emitted from the site. Limits have been outlined within the licence as well as regular monitoring of both dust and noise.

Recommendations

- Nil

5.2 Waste Water Management

The following waste water is generated on site from:

- Water used to wash down trucks prior to leaving the site;
- Water used in concrete production;
- Stormwater;
- Waste oil; and
- Bathrooms/toilets.

5.2.1 Waste Water Management

Photo 2: Sump pit for collection of liquid waste from the washout pits

5.2.2 Stormwater

Stormwater drains are situated in several locations on the site. Discussions with personnel on site indicated that the washout area of the site and immediate surrounds drain into a sump that is reused on site and the remainder of the site is connected to regular stormwater drains. The perimeter of the site is bunded from flowing directly into Blackwattle Bay. The majority of the site is sloped inwards towards the drains located on the site.

All buildings on site have guttering connected to down pipes that feed into the stormwater system.

Stormwater surrounding the site is collected by either Blackwattle Bay or the curb and guttering on the surrounding roads.

Chemical additives are stored underneath the Quarry Depot/Weighbridge Area.

Photo 4: Stormwater drainage at the exit to the Quarry Depot/Weighbridge area

Recommendations

- Refer to recommendation in section 5.5 Chemical Storage

5.2.3 Waste Oil

Waste oil is generated by on site mechanical processes. This oil is appropriately stored within secondary containment on the southern site boundary.

Photo 6: Waste oil from site processes stored in a intermediate bulk container (IBC) within bunding

Photo 7: Additional storage waste containers for waste oil from site processes

Recommendations

- Nil

5.3 Solid Waste Management

Waste management currently poses a low environmental risk at the site.

Solid waste streams generated at the subject site include:

- Standard organic wastes, co-mingled, glass, plastic and paper generated by general activities;
- Waste concrete from the concrete trucks; and
- Excess water/slurry from the concrete batching process.

RiskTech was advised that a current waste removal contract was in place for the site to remove the de-watered waste produced in the wash out pit area, the left over concrete that is emptied out of the trucks when entering the site prior to being refilled and general waste produced on the site.

Spill kits are located around the site.

Photo 9: Solid slurry stored in bins next to the washout pits

General housekeeping of waste storage areas throughout the site were kept in a reasonably neat and tidy state.

Recommendations

- Nil

5.4 Bulk Fuel Storage

No underground or aboveground fuel storage tanks were observed during the site inspection. It should be noted that the area below the upper level of the wharf was outside the scope of this investigation, as such, no further investigation into bulk fuel storage tanks was undertaken.

5.5 Chemical Storage and Raw Materials

The following chemicals, concrete additives and raw materials are listed as being stored on site in the hazardous chemicals register:

Aggregates
■ 3,140T 20mm	■ 2,210T 10 mm
■ 140T Coarse Sand	■ 1,210T Fine Sand

Generally chemicals were stored in appropriate areas with secondary containment and spill kits available. However, chemical additives for the concrete mix stored in the batching area and cleaning chemicals stored on the eastern side of the Tanker Route were not stored in secondary containment.

No bulk quantities of chemicals are stored on site that would require a license.

Recommendations

- Ensure chemicals throughout the site are stored with secondary containers to contain any potential leaks and prevent accidental discharge to stormwater drains.

5.6 Hazardous Materials

An asbestos and hazardous materials register is contained in Appendix 1.

5.6.1 Asbestos

Asbestos containing materials were identified/suspected in the following locations on site:

Asbestos Material	Location/Comments
Vinyl floor tiles	Main Office Building, Offices Amenities Building, Lunch Room, Toilets & Locker Room Quarry Depot Weighbridge Office 1 & 2 Processing Plant Area, Control Room
Fibre cement sheeting	Main Office Building, Main Office – Ceiling & infill panel above air conditioning unit Amenities Building, Entrance Awning – Ceiling & wall panelling Amenities Building, Lunch Room, Toilets & Locker Room – Ceiling Quarry Depot Weighbridge Offices – Ceiling & infill door panels Processing Plant Area, Control Room
Electrical backing board	Quarry Depot, Silo, Upper Area

The asbestos containing materials (ACMs) identified on site were generally found to be in a good/stable condition and do not represent an increased risk in their current condition.

Photo 27: Asbestos containing vinyl floor tiles and asbestos cement sheet infill door panels in the weighbridge offices

Recommendations

- Consider repairing or removing the localised damaged asbestos cement sheet panelling in the skylight area of the lunch room.

5.6.2 Synthetic Mineral Fibre (SMF)

Synthetic Mineral Fibre (SMF) is a man-made insulation mineral used extensively in industrial, commercial and residential sites as fire rating, reinforcement in construction materials and as acoustic and thermal insulators. The types of SMF materials include fibreglass, rockwool, ceramic fibres and continuous glass filaments.

There are two basic forms of SMF insulation, bonded and un-bonded. Bonded SMF is where adhesives, binders or cements have been applied to the SMF before delivery and the SMF product has a specific shape. Unbonded SMF has no adhesives, binders or cements and the SMF is loose material packed into a package.

The following SMF materials were identified on site:

SMF Item	Location/Comments
Insulation	Quarry Depot, Weighbridge Offices – Wall cavities (internal)
Hot water heaters / zip boilers	Adjacent Lunch Room Entrance & Lunch Room (internal)

The SMF materials identified on site were generally in a good condition and installed to industry standards. These materials do not represent an increased health risk in their current condition.

5.6.3 Polychlorinated Biphenyls (PCBs)

The major use of PCBs in the electrical industry has been as an insulating fluid inside transformers and capacitors. Capacitors containing PCBs were installed in various types of equipment including fluorescent light fittings during the 1950's, 60's and 70's.

PCB containing capacitors associated with light fittings were suspected during the current Hazardous Materials Survey. As the buildings were constructed circa 1970's, the original fluorescent light fittings capacitors are likely to contain PCBs.

The locations of the following PCB containing capacitors are suspected to be present on the site:

PCB Item	Location/Comments
Light Fitting Capacitors	Amenities Building – Throughout

The suspected PCB containing capacitors identified on the site were generally in a good condition and no leaking capacitors were evident.

5.6.4 Lead Paint

Lead paint, as defined by the Australian Standard "AS4361.2: 1998 Guide to Lead Paint Management; Part 2: Residential and Commercial Buildings", is that which contains in excess of 1% lead by weight. However AS 4361.2-1998 notes: - "Even at levels of lead below 1% and as low as 0.25%, the dust generated by dry sanding or abrasive blast cleaning can have sufficient lead content to produce exposure levels exceeding those which define a 'lead task' in NOHSC 1012".

Lead carbonate (white lead) was once the main white pigment in paints for houses and public buildings. Paint with lead pigment was manufactured up until the late 1960's, and in 1969 the National Health and Medical Research Council's Uniform Paint Standard was amended to restrict lead content in domestic paint.

Lead paint systems were identified on the exterior of the Main Office Building and the Amenities Building window frames.

6. Potential for Contamination

6.1 Visible Contamination

There are visible signs of an active concrete batching plant, which can be seen on the ground surface and general surfaces of plant of the site (i.e. in the form of raw materials eg; sand, aggregate). However, no sign of potential contamination such as staining or odours were observed during the site inspection.

6.2 On Site Sources of Contamination

Based on the historical aerial photographs of the site, the structures that are presently on site have been present since circa 1970s. Since this time the site has been a concrete batching plant until the current day.

The main wet/processing areas of the site are sloped towards drains that lead to the washout sump areas for reuse on site. Concrete components (aggregates, sand, additives etc.) used in concrete batching are generally contained within these areas. Tanker/tipper routes run through these areas, however, are hosed down prior to leaving these areas in order to limit any loose concrete components outside these areas.

The majority of chemicals used on site for concrete processing and additives are stored in appropriately bunded areas with spill kits available in proximity to the chemicals. Minor cleaning chemicals are stored without secondary containment in the storage room on the northern side of the tanker route.

6.3 Off Site Sources of Contamination

The historic surrounding land use of mixed residential and retail/commercial/shipping uses did not indicate any potential sources of contamination that would impact the upper level of the wharf structure since the 1970s when the concrete batching plant was built.

The reclaimed wetland area behind the sea wall, which adjoins the wharf structure was not included in this assessment, however, significant potential contamination may be present in this fill material. It should be noted that the site is a hardstand area (concrete slab) including the wetland area.

6.4 Summary

Based on information obtained for this site, review of available historical information and assessment of potential environmental issues at the site, the potential for contamination can be summarised:

- Historical site activities are considered to be unlikely to have given rise to significant contamination on the upper level of the wharf structure.
- Current site activities are considered to have a low potential of giving rise to significant contamination on the upper level of the wharf structure.
- The adjacent sites including the adjoining wetland area behind the seawall on the site are unlikely to be a cause of potential contamination on the upper level of the wharf structure.
- There are minor situations of asbestos/hazardous materials associated with the buildings and structures on the site.

Overall, the upper level of the wharf structure on the site represents a low environmental contamination risk.

7. Recommendations

The key recommendations are as follow:

- Consider removing or repairing/sealing the localised damaged fibre cement sheet panelling in the skylight area of the lunch room.
- Install secondary containment for cleaning chemicals and concrete additives to contain potential leaks and prevent spillage to stormwater drains.
- Undertake an intrusive hazardous materials assessment prior to renovations/demolition to help identify materials that may be present in currently inaccessible locations (eg; beneath floor coverings or above set ceilings).
- Engage an appropriately licenced (Class A/B) Asbestos Removal Contractor to remove asbestos materials prior to renovations/demolition under controlled conditions.
- Engage an asbestos consultant to undertake hygiene works (air monitoring and clearance inspections) during and following the removal of asbestos materials.
- It is imperative that demolition/refurbishment works cease pending further sampling if materials suspected of containing asbestos or unknown materials are encountered.
- Remove identified SMF and PCB materials under controlled conditions prior to demolition.
- When demolition works are to involve the disturbance of confirmed lead-containing paint, dust suppression techniques should be utilised.

Appendix 1 Asbestos/Hazardous Materials Register

The Asbestos Register on the following pages contains a detailed description and risk assessment information. This is outlined below:

Each asbestos item's location and description is included in the first column

The sample number corresponds to the Laboratory report (if samples taken) in Appendix 2

Photos of selected items are included in the Section 3 Findings

An estimated amount of the asbestos materials is outlined here

Based on the risk assessment, the urgency of the control recommendation is included here as a guide:

P1 – Immediate attention is required as the ACM represents a high risk

P2 – An increased risk is present and urgent attention is required to mitigate the risk

P3 – ACM is either friable in good condition or non-friable in good-fair condition.

P4 – ACM is non-friable in nature and is in a good and stable condition

Location Item Description Comments	Sample No.	Sample Status	Photo No.	Extent	Condition	Friability	Disturbance Potential	Risk Status	Re-inspect Date	Labelled ?	Control Priority	Control Recommendation

-)] Negative: the sample does not contain asbestos.
-)] Where the material was not sampled, but is similar to another sample, the sample status is Assumed Negative or Assumed Positive.
-)] Based on knowledge, an item may be Suspected Positive or Suspected Negative if the material was inaccessible at the time of inspection

These columns outline the risk assessment of each ACM:

-)] Condition: Good, Fair or Poor
-)] Friability: Friable or Non-friable
-)] Disturbance Potential: Low, Med or High depending on a number of factors such as access requirements, airflow etc
-)] Risk Status: describes the overall health risk posed by the ACM (Low, Med or High)

Samples were analysed as received from the client. Results relate specifically to the samples as received.

Note, even after disintegration it can be difficult to detect the presence of asbestos in some asbestos containing bulk materials using PLM and dispersion staining. This is due to the low grade or small length or diameter of the asbestos fibres present in the material, or to the fact that very fine fibres have been distributed intimately throughout the materials. Vinyl/asbestos floor tiles, some asbestos containing epoxy resins and some ore samples are examples of these types of material, which are difficult to analyse.

Samples 163248-1 & 5; The supplied sample was sub-sampled (A & B) in order to accurately report the analytical results representative of the entire sample, as per AS4964-2004.

STATE PLANNING INSTRUMENTS

Full copies of State Environmental Planning Policies are available online at www.planning.nsw.gov.au.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 1 – Development Standards

This policy makes development standards more flexible. It allows Council to approve a development proposal that does not comply with a set standard where this can be shown to be unreasonable or unnecessary.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 19 – Bushland in Urban Areas

This is a policy to protect and preserve bushland within certain urban areas, as part of the natural heritage or for recreational, educational and scientific purposes. This policy is designed to protect bushland in public open space zones and reservations, and to ensure that bush preservation is given a high priority when local environmental plans for urban development are prepared.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 32 – Urban Consolidation

This policy implements the principles of urban consolidation, including the orderly, economic use and development of land. The policy enables urban land which is no longer required for the purpose for which it is currently zoned or used to be redeveloped for multi-unit housing and related development.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 33 – Hazardous and Offensive Development

This policy aims to amend the definitions of hazardous and offensive industries; to render ineffective any environmental planning instruments not defining hazardous or offensive as per this policy; to control development of hazardous and offensive industries.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 55 – Remediation of Land

This policy provides planning controls for the remediation of contaminated land. The policy states that land must not be developed if it is unsuitable for a proposed use because it is contaminated. If the land is unsuitable, remediation must take place before the land is developed. The policy makes remediation permissible across the State, defines when consent is required, requires all remediation to comply with standards, ensures land is investigated if contamination is suspected, and requires councils to be notified of all remediation proposals. To assist councils and developers, the Department, in conjunction with the Environment Protection Authority, has prepared Managing Land Contamination: Planning Guidelines.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 64 – Advertising and Signage

This policy aims to ensure that signage (including advertising):

Is compatible with the desired amenity and visual character of an area, and

- Provides effective communications in suitable locations, and
- Is of a high quality design and finish.

To this end the policy regulates signage (but not content) under Part 4 of the Act and provides limited time consents for the display of certain advertisements. The policy does not apply to signage that is exempt development under an environmental planning instrument. It does apply to all signage that can be displayed with or without consent and is visible from any public place or reserve, except as provided by the policy.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2005, the City of Sydney Signage and Advertising Structures Development Control Plan 2005 and State Environmental Planning Policy No. 60 where these apply.

State Environmental Planning Policy No. 65 – Design Quality of Residential Flat Buildings

This policy aims to improve the design quality of flats of three or more storeys with four or more self contained dwellings. The policy sets out a series of design principles for local councils to consider when assessing development proposals for residential flat development.

The policy also creates a role for an independent design review panel and requires the involvement of a qualified designer in the design and approval process.

State Environmental Planning Policy No.70 – Affordable Housing (Revised Schemes) (Gazetted 31.05.02)

The policy identifies that there is a need for affordable housing in the City of Sydney, describes the kinds of households for which affordable housing may be provided and makes a requirement with respect to the imposition of conditions relating to the provision of affordable housing (provided other requirements under the Act are met).

State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing for Seniors or People with a Disability) 2004

This Policy does not apply to land described in Schedule 1 (Environmentally sensitive land), or land that is zoned for industrial purposes, or land to which an interim heritage order made under the Heritage Act 1997 by the Minister administering that Act applies, or land to which a listing on the State Heritage Register kept under the Heritage Act 1997 applies.

The Policy aims to encourage the provision of housing (including residential care facilities) that will increase the supply and diversity of residences that meet the needs of seniors or people with a disability, and make efficient use of existing infrastructure and services, and be of good design.

State Environmental Planning Policy (Building Sustainability Index: BASIX) 2004

Aims to ensure consistency in the implementation of the BASIX scheme throughout the State. This Policy achieves its aim by overriding provisions of other environmental planning instruments and development control plans that would otherwise add to, subtract from or modify any obligations arising under the BASIX scheme.

The policy provides exempt and complying development codes that have State-wide application, identifying, in the General Exempt Development Code, types of development that are of minimal environmental impact that may be carried out without the need for development consent; and, in the General Housing Code, types of complying development that may be carried out in accordance with a complying development certificate as defined in the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

Establishes a consistent planning regime for the provision of affordable rental housing. The policy provides incentives for new affordable rental housing, facilitates the retention of existing affordable rentals, and expands the role of not-for-profit providers.
