Comments:

In this area water is treasured and carefully used and monitored. We have beautiful wildlife here. On our farm we have a pair of nesting eagles that come and go - not forgetting to mention other wildlife. Joy and joy when a parent takes their fledglings on a trial flight catching the thermals. It is such a beautiful sight to see. We believe your monstrous blades do not fit into our landscape. We can't believe that you would even consider introducing these environmentally unfriendly constructions into this district on the pretence of calling them environmentally friendly. We are not that naive. Regarding these cement towers as well as the blades - will you be removing these unsightly constructions when you finally catch up with technology and decide to use nuclear or perhaps another source. //

May we suggest South Head / Bondi has very good winds and not the beautiful wildlife we have. So, why not bestow your concrete towers and Chinese blades made by slave labour to where the winds do blow.

Thank you,
