

From: Sarah Grey
To: DPE PS Industry Assessments Mailbox
Subject: Objection to Veolia incinerator near Tarago, as per the proposal: Woodlawn ARC: SSD-21184278.
Date: Sunday, 4 December 2022 12:14:49 AM

My name is Sarah Grey, and I live at 625 Lucky Pass Rd, Currawang NSW 2580.

I strongly object to the proposal for Veolia to build an incinerator near Tarago, as per the proposal: Woodlawn ARC: SSD-21184278.

I have observed foul smells in this area on occasion that make my home smell like rotten eggs. We run a B&B on our property which has been here for many years, and has been my primary source of income for the past 3 years. With such a smell on a more continuous basis I could not continue to market a countryside retreat or charge visitors to stay here.

Further, I have a disability that makes me hypersensitive to smells, and I experience bilious migraines triggered by various things including smells. Once an attack begins, I experience 14+ hours of violent vomiting that effects my entire physical and mental health. The ongoing burden of battling migraine (in particular) is heavily evidenced in peer-reviewed research to impact emotional wellbeing. Approving such a development would therefore heavily impact my personal physical health, my mental health, and my income.

On top of any personal issues with this development, it would also reduce the value of my home, and frankly, I was here first. We live in an RU1 zoned residential area and it should therefore be respected as such.

I don't believe residents of any place should have to repeatedly defend their right to live peacefully in a residential zone. As it happens, at least three other commercial developments have attempted (and failed) to build unwanted and illegal developments in the Currawang area in the last 5 years, and all have been defeated. Constantly defending my right to live peacefully in this residential zone is beginning to take its toll. Leave us alone.

Donations Declaration

I declare no political donations have been made by me in the past two years.

NSW Planning Department Disclaimer and Declaration

I acknowledge and accept the NSW Planning Department's Disclaimer.

Regards,
Sarah Grey
625 Lucky Pass Rd
CURRAWANG NSW 2580