My name is Amelie Martindale, and I am 4 years old and live at 7 George Street, Collector, NSW. I strongly object to Veolia's proposed incinerator being built in Tarago.

My favourite things about living in Collector are:

- jumping in muddy puddles
- eating berries, carrots and peas my mum grows in our big garden,
- gathering chook eggs to cook for our breakfast
- drinking the water (collected from our big tanks) straight out of the hose on hot days.
- buying honey from the honey man who lives around the corner
- playing with my friends at Collector day-care.

Some days my mum is very sad and says we will have to leave our home in Collector if a giant waste-to-energy incinerator is built nearby. She says I won't be allowed to do any of my favourite things here anymore because they will make me sick.

Mum also says she is unsure where we will live because many of the places she can afford will still be too close to other giant waste incinerators popping up all over Australia.

I don't understand why this is happening to me and why our NSW government would allow an incinerator to be built here, even though they said no to one in Sydney to protect the kids in Sydney.

I, Amelie Martindale, have not made any reportable political donations in the last two years.

I, Amelie Martindale, acknowledge and accept the Department's disclaimer and declaration.
