Dear Emma

I am writing to you as a regular visitor to the Southern Highlands where I spend many relaxing times away from the hustle & bustle of Sydney and my hectic work schedule.

During a recent visit I learnt that this proposal has once again reared itself , a wolf in sheep clothing as this evil company tries to win over our government with a plastic recycling business that will bring nothing but pollution, noise and destruction to this beautiful part of NSW and the local residents.

Our federal government is about to launch a campaign on saving water as drought looms and here is a company that will consume extraordinary amounts of water daily to function in the facility , how can this be possible.?? While our precious water is being used for this recycling plant , the waste will be shipped out , truck loads at 24/7 hours a day towards Wollongong , can you please explain how this will be disposed and have the residents of Wollongong been informed of the toxic nature , the odours etc that are coming their way.?

The entire proposal stinks literally , however another extremely disturbing factor is that the owner of this company has been charged for environmental crimes in his own country of China, he is not a resident here yet he is allowed to own a business here because his niece has just become a resident and has a 20% stake in the business.

I am sure we could not do this if we went to China with the same proposal , so why is it even being considered.? I am well aware that we have huge issues with landfill and waste, however plastic waste disposal is a dangerous and dirty business and should not be located in peoples backyards , devaluating their homes and lively hoods. This is a disgrace and needs to be exposed and whoever is considering this needs to be publicly named and shamed.

I look forward to hearing from you and if you are able to send me other people I can write to regarding this appalling situation.

Regards

Leigh. Stacey
