I object to the building of wind towers around Paling Yards.

I have family in Canberra and I love to see them. They don't come over often and their visits are short because of their work commitments so I don't want them to stay away due to travel delays. More importantly, my son drives trucks for a living along Abercrombie Road to southern parts of NSW. I worry for his safety considering the massive increase in traffic through Oberon. I often have to travel to Bathurst and beyond for health reasons and traffic issues are going to make this hard at my age.

I think wind towers are a bad idea in general. They interfere with wildlife, they've leaked oil into waterways, and they have started fires. With so much national park and other bushland in that area, it's just stupid.
