I love the area from Black Springs to Paling Yards and I don't want to see it ruined. The bird life around there is amazing and I know there are lyrebirds hiding in the bush not far from the roadsides. The noise from the turbines will certainly make breeding of these and other native species precarious. I have family who live along the road to Paling Yards and their business will be disrupted on a large scale while the roads are being built and the turbines ferried in. I also value the ANZAC memorial trees of O'Connell, which would have to be cut down if the turbines are to be brought through there. That is just a desecration to the memory of those who fought for our district and our country. Just leave our beautiful agricultural areas and bushland alone.
