

Preliminary Development Plan Structure Plan Options

A series of structure plans based on vehicular access have been explored as part of the preliminary development. Each offers different responses related to development staging, buffers / setbacks, traffic movement and land use.

