Hi Graeme

There are no navigational concerns regarding this modification to development application.

Previously it was noted that any PML's/CML's requiring re-location would need to be arranged through our office at their expense.

I note that there is mention in appendix A at Commitment 23 that:

23. A northern cardinal marker will be sought from Roads and Maritime Services and will be provided at the marina highlighting shallow water and creating a 'vessel exclusion zone'.

A northern cardinal mark would not denote an 'exclusion zone' and I'm not sure if by 'sought' they mean at our expense...

In s75W under 7.0 environmental assessment it is stated:

7.11 NAVIGATION AND SAFETY

The proposed amendments will not impact the way in which the original project was assessed in terms of navigation and safety. Future negotiations will occur with NSW Maritime surrounding the installation/maintenance of the lit Northern cardinal marker.

So by negotiation I take that to mean that if any navigation aids need to be installed the cost would be negotiated at their expense. It's for future negotiations anyway.

Thomas

I refer to your email dated 27 November 2014 re the subject modification to the Koolewong Marina. I apologise for the delay in responding.

Roads and Maritime has reviewed the information provided and has no objections to, or requirements for the proposed modification (from a road / traffic perspective) as it is considered the modification will have no significant impact on the classified (state) road network.

I understand that Roads and Maritime's boating operation branch has responded separately (in December 2014) with any comments / requirements from their perspective.

Please contact me if you require any further advice re this matter.

regards
