Dear Ms Mottek,

Re: Barangaroo South – C3 Building - Archaeological Issues

Casey & Lowe and Comber Consultants have assessed the archaeological issues for the overall basement for Barangaroo South in a series of reports. These reports cover all of the Barangaroo South development areas, Blocks 1 to 4.

Three reports address issues associated with the non-indigenous or European archaeology:

- Non-Indigenous Archaeological Assessment, Barangaroo Stage 1 (Barangaroo South), report to Lend Lease (Millers Point) Pty Ltd, July 2010 - Casey & Lowe.
- Archaeological Research Design & Management Strategy, Barangaroo Stage 1 (Barangaroo South), report to Lend Lease (Millers Point) Pty Ltd, May 2010 - Casey & Lowe.
- Archaeological Testing, Barangaroo South, report to Lend Lease (Millers Point) Pty Ltd, October 2010 - Casey & Lowe

Two reports written by Comber Consultants address the issues arising from the Aboriginal Archaeology:

- Aboriginal Archaeological and Cultural Heritage Assessment, May 2010.
- Aboriginal Archaeological Management Plan and Research Design, Barangaroo: Stage 1, May 2010.

All these reports identify that the excavation for the main basement (MP10_0023) will remove the archaeology within the basement footprint which includes C3. The Archaeological Assessment initially identified that the archaeology was within the eastern 70m of the site. Testing during September 2010 has revised the extent of the archaeological resource. The testing program and report has identified that the majority of the European archaeology is within the eastern 40m of the site. Comber Consultants report identified that the Aboriginal archaeology is along an even narrower strip and is only present in a small part of the development area, along the former foreshore line.

Therefore there are no additional impacts on the archaeological resource within Barangaroo South, Blocks 1 to 4, arising from any construction works associated with Building C3.

All impacts were previously identified for the Basement PA and the requirements are addressed in the above reports in line with the Statement of Commitments.

Yours sincerely
