GEOTECHNICAL AND CONTAMINATION DESKTOP STUDY PROPOSED REDEVELOPMENT OF 50-52 PHILLIP ST, SYDNEY

Dear Aston,

Built Pty Ltd (Built) has engaged Golder Associates Pty Ltd (Golder) to carry out a geotechnical and contamination desktop study for the proposed redevelopment at 50 – 52 Philip St, Sydney (the site). This work is carried out in accordance with our proposal (ref., P20144636-001-P-Rev1) dated 8 May 2020 and your approval to proceed in an email dated 12 May 2020.

The objectives of the desktop study are to provide:

- an initial geotechnical and contaminated soil assessment to assist Built during the Development Application (DA) process;
- an initial subsurface concept/model of the site;
- commentary on potential constraints of the geotechnical and contaminated soil conditions; and
- commentary on known existing/historical underground facilities in the vicinity of the site.

In this report, the bulk excavation level considered is deepened from previous revisions from about RL 19 m AHD to about RL 11.22 m AHD, with a localised deeper excavation to RL 9.37 m AHD for the proposed car stacker area.

Project Background

Introduction

This report supports a Stage 1 State Significant Development (SSD) Development Application (DA) for the redevelopment of a new mixed-use hotel and branded residential building at 50-52 Phillip Street, Sydney. The Staged SSD DA proposes a concept proposal or Stage 1 DA for the retention and refurbishment of the heritage building on the site, demolition of other existing buildings on the site and construction of a new mixed-use building. The Stage 1 SSD DA specifically seeks consent for land uses, a maximum gross floor area, a maximum building envelope, pedestrian and vehicle access and circulation arrangements, and associated car parking provision.

Built is seeking to transform the current site to deliver a new and modern mixed use development which contributes to overcoming a shortage of hotel accommodation in Sydney, and positively contributes to the character and vibrancy of Sydney's Central Business District (CBD). As part of the redevelopment project, the existing heritage listed building on the site will be retained and refurbished for hotel purposes.

As the proposal is for the development of a predominately tourist related purpose, being a hotel, that has a capital investment value in excess of $100 million, it is SSD as prescribed in Schedule 1 of State Environmental Planning Policy (State and Regional Development) 2011 (SRD SEPP).

Site description

The site is located in Central Sydney, along the eastern edge of Sydney's core Central Business District (CBD). The immediate surrounds of the site in the eastern edge of the Sydney CBD present a mix of commercial, residential, and tourism uses. The prevailing built form in the vicinity of the site includes a range of building typologies and heights, as well as several significant state-listed heritage buildings, such as the Chief Secretary's Building immediately to the north of the site.

The site itself is located at 50-52 Phillip Street, Sydney and has a total area of approximately 1,726m², with frontages to Phillip Street and Phillip Lane. Two commercial buildings sharing a built-to-boundary condition currently occupy the site. The heritage-listed sandstone building in the northern portion of the site is six generous storeys in height and contains commercial office space. The building located on the southern portion of the site is 12 storeys in height, and contains a ground level café/bar use, with commercial office space above.

Phillip Lane, which forms part of the 50 Phillip Street lot, connects through the site from Phillip Street at the northern boundary of the site. Phillip Lane is not proposed to be altered from its current form as an access point to the remainder of Phillip Lane at the rear of the site.

Background

Built Unsolicited Proposal

On 15 October 2019, the NSW Government published details of the Built Unsolicited Proposal for the leasehold purchase of 50 Phillip Street, Sydney to allow for the proposed hotel redevelopment. The Built proposal has progressed to Stage 2 of the Unsolicited Proposal process and has been deemed unique as Built owns the adjacent property (52 Phillip Street, Sydney) to the Government owned 50 Phillip Street, Sydney. As there are no other privately owned properties immediately contiguous to 50 Phillip Street, Built possesses unique property ownership that enables it to amalgamate 50 and 52 Phillip Street, and take full advantage of the unused developable air space.

The proposed redevelopment project will combine both private and Government land, breathing new life into an underutilised heritage-listed NSW Government owned building and Built's aging privately-held commercial office building.

Built is well recognised for work in the refurbishment and restoration of iconic heritage properties across Australia. As such, a foremost principle of the project is to ensure that the integrity of the heritage listed Government building is not compromised. Rather, the heritage qualities of the building will be celebrated and revitalised for the people of NSW. The Chief Secretary's Building which fronts Bridge Street will not be leased as part of this redevelopment project, and it is intended to remain in Government ownership and control.

Project Vision

The vision for the redevelopment is to revitalise the lower end of Sydney's financial services district by delivering a new luxury mixed use hotel with a portion of branded residential apartments. The proposal will provide an important and much needed asset to the people of NSW and visitors. Sydney will have, as part of the amalgamation of the properties, its finest luxury hotel with associated retail areas providing ground floor public activation accessible to the general public and hotel guests alike.

Overall, the project will provide the following key public benefits:

- Job creation and benefits to the tourism industry from construction and operation of a new 5/6 star hotel in Central Sydney.
- Contribution to the NSW State's economic activity and Gross State Product, including the generation of construction phase revenue for the Government in the form of payroll tax, stamp duty and GST payments.
- Rejuvenation and adaptive reuse of a Government owned heritage building.
- Regeneration, enhancement and activation of the surrounding public domain, particularly upgrades to Phillip Lane.
- Creation of a heritage-tourism precinct with a new hotel as the centrepiece.
- A portion of branded residential apartments to support the deliver of the hotel and provide a variety of uses to contribute to the liveability of Central Sydney.
- The potential to deliver a capital return to Government to fund future Government investment in services and infrastructure.

Project Description

This SSD DA seeks consent for a concept proposal for a new landmark mixed use building with approximately 331 new hotel rooms and 23 branded residential apartments in Sydney's CBD. The Stage 1 SSD DA Concept Proposal will establish a maximum building envelope, land uses, a maximum total quantity of floor space, pedestrian, vehicle circulation, and drop-off arrangements and associated car parking provision.

Specifically, the Stage 1 SSD DA seeks concept approval for:

- In-principle site preparation works, including termination/relocation of site services and infrastructure, demolition of the existing buildings/structure on the site, excluding the existing heritage-listed building;
- A new 47 storey mixed use building envelope containing:
 - lower level café/bar uses and associated servicing and back-of-house facilities;
 - a new basement containing waste rooms, loading space, and car parking spaces;
 - hotel uses on levels 1 to 35; and
 - residential uses on levels 36 to 47.
- Retention of the existing heritage-listed building on the site, and refurbishment of this building for hotel purposes.
- A new driveway crossing over Phillip Street at the southern end of the site.
- Maintenance and retention of the existing vehicular access over Phillip Lane.

Development consent is not sought for any detailed component of development. A future separate Stage 2 SSD DA will be lodged for the detailed design and construction of the development, following the completion of a competitive design process.

A further detailed description of the proposal is contained in the supporting Environmental Impact Statement prepared for the SSD DA by Ethos Urban.

Site Visit by Golder

The site (as shown in APPENDIX A, Figure 1) is rectangular in shape with an approximate area of 445 m², currently occupied by a heritage building (sandstone exterior) at 50 Phillip St (noting that Phillip Ln extends west to east through the heritage building), adjoining a 13-storey commercial tower at 52 Phillip St.

A senior engineering geologist from Golder visited the site on 19 May 2020. The site is bounded:

- to the north by Phillip Ln extends west to east through the heritage building.
- to the west by Phillip St, with Governor Phillip & Macquarie Tower (eight basement levels) to the west of Phillip Street.
- to the south by a commercial office building, The Hotel School at 56 – 70 Philip St (about two basement levels inferred from the elevator in the building). The 218 m tall Aurora Place is located at the south of The Hotel School.
- to the east by Phillip Ln trending north to south, with Secure Parking at 131 Macquarie St (seven split-level parking levels, estimated depth of about four basement levels) as shown in Plate 1 below.

Plate 1 – Level 6 of the Secure Parking at 131 Macquarie Street – facing west

Proposed redevelopment

We understand that the key design philosophy behind the initial design is that the hotel will be built in the airspace of 50 and 52 Phillip Street. The proposed structure utilises the 52 Phillip Street site as the main support and as an access point into the new structure. The proposed structure also extends to the north, above the existing adjacent heritage building at 50 Philip Street. Additional support for the proposed structure over the heritage building is in the form of a “mega-column” that extends through as existing lightwell cavity in the building.

Historical data

In preparation of this desktop study, Golder has consulted publicly available information and considered our own database gained from working on the major rail and metro projects in the CBD. Key projects include:

- Deep excavations for basements - Quay Quarter, Loftus Lane, Wanda One and Loftus Lane;
- Sydney Metro tunnels and station excavations; and
- Sydney Metro City and Southwest geotechnical, contamination and groundwater investigation.

Reports provided by Built considered in this report include:

- 99-113 Macquarie Street Sydney, Geotechnical Investigation Report (JK, 2018)
- 23-39 Bridge Street Sydney - Geotechnical Investigation Report (DP, 2019)
- 33 Bligh St Sydney Geotechnical and Environmental Investigation (PSM, 2008)
- Royal Botanic Gardens and Domain Trust – Biome Geotechnical Investigation Report (GHD, 2013)
- 155 Macquarie Street Sydney - Geotechnical Investigation Report (Coffey, 1997)

Contamination Desktop Review

As part of the desktop review, a site history assessment was conducted by Lotsearch Pty Ltd. As part of this review, the following databases were assessed:

- List of NSW Contaminated Sites Notified to the EPA;
- Contaminated Land: Records of Notice
- Former Gasworks;
- Waste Management & Liquid Fuel Facilities;
- EPA & Defence PFAS Programs;
- EPA Other Sites with Contamination Issues;
- EPA Licensed Activities;
- Historical Business Directory Records 1948-1993;
- Dry Cleaners, Motor Garages & Service Stations;
- Hydrogeology & Groundwater; and
- Ecological Constraints.

Contaminated land

The Lotsearch report indicated that the site is not listed as contaminated with the EPA and no contaminated sites are present in the immediate vicinity of the site. The nearest contaminated site is the former AGL Gasworks located approximately 800 metres (m) west of the site.

Waste facilities

The Lotsearch report indicated that no waste management or liquid fuel facilities are present within 1,000 m of the site.

PFAS

The Lotsearch report indicated that there are no sites within 2000 m of the site that are part of the EPA PFAS Investigation Program, the Defence PFAS Investigation or Management Programs, or the Airservices Australia National PFAS Management Program.

Defence sites

The Lotsearch report indicated two sites on the Defence 3 Year Regional Contamination Investigation Program in the vicinity of the site. The Garden Island Precinct is listed as having known contamination and is located approximately 1,000 m from the site.

Licensed activities under the POEO Act 1997

The Lotsearch report indicated there were several properties licensed under the Protection of the Environment Operations (POEO) Act 1997. The details of these properties are presented below in Table 1.

Maps showing the locations of these sites are presented in APPENDIX B.

Historical business directories

A review of the historical business directory records for the subject site and general vicinity indicate mixed commercial (generally office and medical) use.

Dry cleaners, motor garages & service stations

The Lotsearch report identified several parking garages in the vicinity of the site. Two dry cleaning facilities were identified, each located approximately 200 m northwest of the site.

Groundwater contamination

A review of hydrogeological resources in the Lotsearch report indicates porous, extensive aquifers of varying productivity in the vicinity of the site. Several registered groundwater bores were identified within the 2,000 m buffer zone of the site. All are listed as monitoring bores and are likely associated with contaminated sites. The nearest is the former AGL Gasworks facility at Barangaroo, located approximately 900 m from the site.

Ecological constraints

The Lotsearch report indicates that the site is located in an area containing species listed on the NSW BioNet Atlas that have a NSW or federal conservation status or are listed under a migratory species agreement. However, based on the highly urbanised site setting, risk to biodiversity is considered low.

Acid Sulfate Soils

The Lotsearch report indicates that the site is located in an area mapped as Class 5 Acid Sulfate Soil (ASS) land under the Sydney Local Environment Plan 2012 (the SLEP). Based on National ASS Atlas on ASRIS, the site is located in 'Extremely low probability of occurrence'. Areas mapped as Class 2 and Class 1 ASS land are located 75 m and 347 m away from the site respectively. The proposed works, which includes the excavation of three-basement levels, is not likely to encounter actual ASS.

Under the SLEP an ASS management plan (ASSMP) is required for works on Class 5 ASS land if the proposed works are likely to lower the water table by 1 m on adjacent Class 1 to 4 ASS land within 500 m of the work site. However, the SLEP notes that an ASSMP is not required if a preliminary assessment of ASS indicates that an ASSMP is not required and confirmation from the consent authority is received. A preliminary assessment of the proposed works will need to be performed in accordance with the Acid Sulfate Soils Manual to confirm the requirement for an ASSMP.

Discussion (with respect to contamination)

No evidence of a potential for significant contamination was found from a preliminary review of publicly available environmental records for the site. Contaminated land is not known to be present in the immediate vicinity of the site. A review of historical business directories did not indicate a high potential for contaminating activities to have been undertaken at the site.

Notwithstanding, it should be noted that the discharge of water pumped from the excavation can be assessed by a regulator against very stringent guidelines. There is a potential for groundwater in urban settings to contain concentrations of compounds that could exceed nominated guidelines without being affected by contaminating activities from the subject site. This may impact the project costs if treatment of groundwater that enters the excavation is required.

Based on the lack of evidence for contaminating activities to have taken place on-site or in the general vicinity, the land is likely to be considered suitable for the proposed development. This assessment is contingent on the implementation of an excavation management plan during development works with a well-defined "unexpected finds" protocol in the event that contamination or any unusual conditions are encountered.

Geological Desktop Review

Regional geology

The site is located within the Sydney Basin sequence of sedimentary rocks, specifically Hawkesbury Sandstone. Tectonic activity occurring at the end of the Triassic period (deformation and warping) has led to brittle failure of the rock mass resulting in the formation of several joints, faults and dykes cutting across the city. More recent glacial activity and sea level changes have resulted in incised palaeovalley and valley infills across harbour bays and inlets. Those prominent hydrologic surface expressions relevant to the project include the Tank Stream drainage channel, located 150 m to the west of the site, and the Woolloomooloo palaeovalley, located 300 m east of the site. The site itself is positioned on a small topographic high.

Known large scale regional geological structures close to the site include the GPO Fault Zone (immediately to the west), the Martin Place Joint Swarm (to the east) and the Pittman LIV dyke (to the north, near Bridge Street).

Randomly distributed siltstone interbeds within the sandstone are typically thin (0.1 m to 1.0 m), fairly uniform in thickness and laterally discontinuous.

The Pitman LIV dyke is inferred to cross Bridge Street to the north in an east to west orientation. The published literature indicates that the Pitman LIV dyke is approximately 3 m wide, doleritic in composition with a variable depth of weathering from residual clay at the surface to fresh dolerite up to 30 m in depth. Weathering varies, with extremely weathered (to kaolinite clay) margins to fresh and high strength cores typical. Contact metamorphism with the surrounding sandstone during emplacement has resulted in re-crystallisation to an extremely high strength rock in places. This dyke is inferred to be located approximately 50 m north of the excavation footprint.

Geological structure within Hawkesbury Sandstone comprises:

- Bedding spaced 0.3 m to 5 m, with an average around 2 m, gently dipping 0° to 5° towards the south;
- Jointing spaced typically 5 m, with two principal sets of (dip) 60°-90° / 90°-140° (direction) and (dip) 60°-90° / 350°-030° (direction);
- Cross bedding (fine laminae) principally oriented (dip) 0°-20° / 0°-90° (direction).

Inferred site geology

Known regional geological structures, striking north-north-east (NNE) include the GPO Fault Zone located approximately 100 m west and the Martin Place Joint Swarm, approximately 50 m to the east. NNE striking joints and/or narrow sheared zones associated with either structural system may be encountered at the site (APPENDIX A, Figure 1), as indicated from the boreholes from Aurora Place and from underground excavations at Martin Place. There is a potential for variation in sub-surface conditions where laterally continuous and adversely dipping (with respect to the development) geological structures are present at the site, resulting in deeper weathering.

The inferred subsurface conditions are summarised in cross sections (APPENDIX A, Cross-Sections). These conditions can be inferred from that documented at Aurora Place (Coffey, 1997), specifically borehole EC6, as follows. The subsurface of the site (excluding basement excavations) is anticipated to be comprised of a thin (0.5-1.0 m) layer of fill, overlying residual soils (0.5 - 1.0 m thick); overlying class III / V sandstone (approx. 2.0-4.0 m thick); overlying class I / II sandstone (expected to be encountered at about 5 m to 7 m below ground level). Deeper weathering may occur along NNE striking joints or sheared zones.

As shown in the attached topography plan (APPENDIX A, Figure 2), the site grades:

- down from the south to north towards Circular Quay; and
- down from the east to west towards the former Tank Stream

If a similar depth of weathering, to that in the Aurora Place boreholes, is present further north at 50-52 Phillip Street, then Class I / II sandstone may be about 5 m to 7 m below ground level. Due to the inferred north and westerly sloping topography, horizontal basement constructions may experience different conditions across its lateral extent.

Hydrogeological

The site is located on a small ridge line trending approximately north to south (APPENDIX A, Figure 2) , with Macquarie Street as the apex of the ridge. To the west, the Tank Stream drainage channel is located near Loftus Street. To the east of Macquarie Street, the Woolloomooloo palaeovalley lies beneath the Domain. As the site is located downhill (west) from Macquarie Street, it is expected that the regional groundwater flow will be westward towards the Tank Stream.

Drainage to deep basements, which are below the groundwater level will interrupt this flow pattern. It is expected that the two deep basements adjacent (Governor Phillip Tower and 131 Macquarie Street) are drained basements, drawing down local groundwater levels in the vicinity of No 52 Phillip Street to about similar levels with the founding level of the proposed development (three levels basement car park) (APPENDIX A, Cross-Sections). Groundwater inflow can be expected depending on the discontinuities in sandstone, in addition to the infiltration from rainfall events or leaking services.

Discussions (with respect to geotechnical)

Underground Infrastructure

Based on publicly available information, the following underground infrastructures are known to be in the vicinity of the site (refer to APPENDIX A, Figure 1):

- Cahill Expressway – approximately 60 m east from the site
- City East Cable Tunnel – approximately 80 m south from the site
- Sydney Metro Rail Tunnels – approximately 80 m southwest from the site

With regard to the Sydney Metro tunnels, the proposed development site is beyond the rail protection reserves (i.e., 1st and 2nd reserve) as described in technical note (i.e., TN 026:2017 Section 5.1) issued by Transport for NSW (TfNSW).

Foundations

We understand that the proposed new basement is as shown in Sketch 1 (extracted from TTW's Structural Design Brief). Based on the TTW concept design drawings, proposed footings for the new structure are expected to comprise of:

- Pad footings across the footprint of 52 Philip St, which are between 1 m and 2.5 m thick; and
- The “mega-column”, to be constructed through the existing lightwell cavity of 50 Philip St. The TTW sketches indicate this footing is rectangular in shape could be up to 3 m deep/thick.

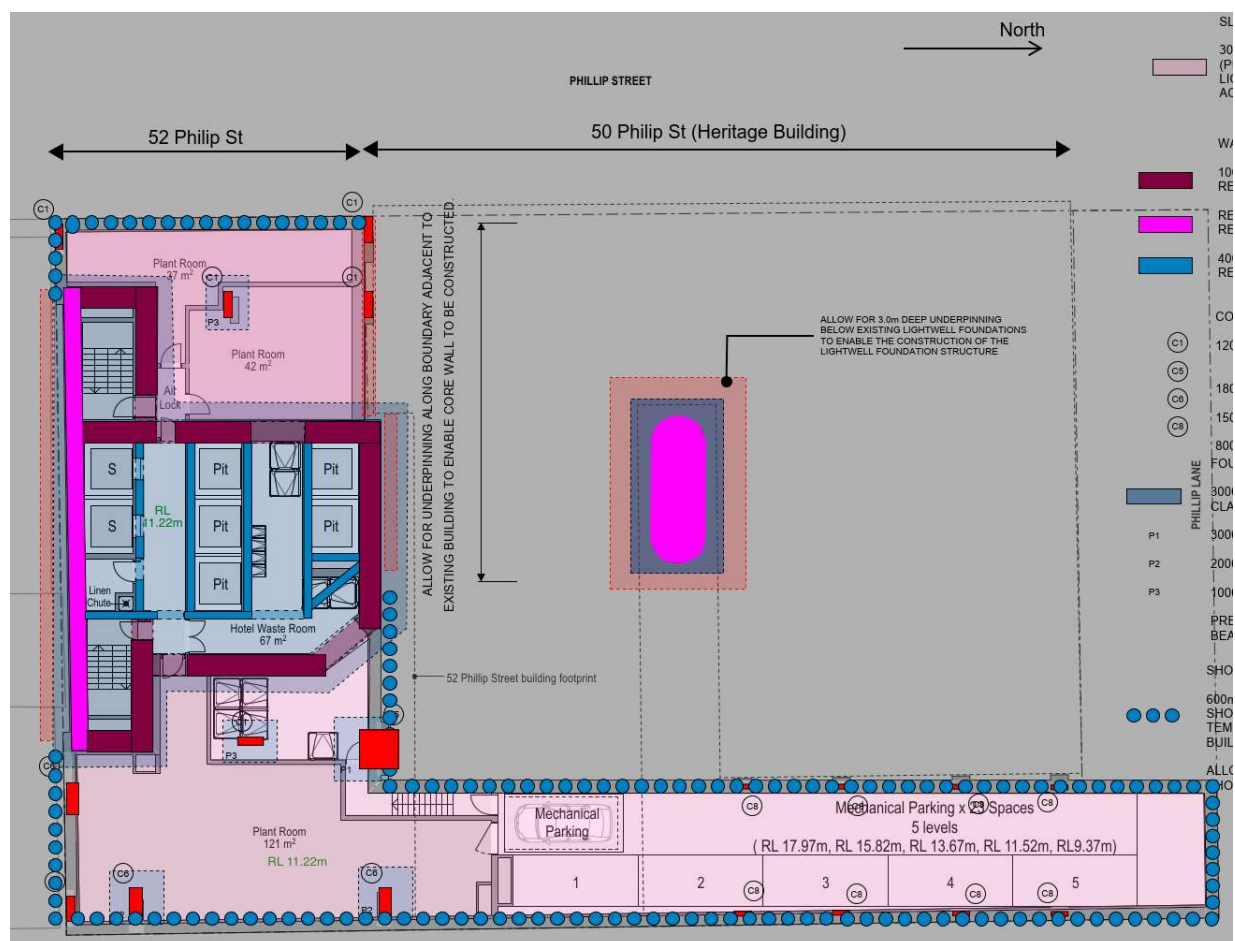

The inferred ground profile beneath the site is described above in Inferred Site Geology section. The highly to moderately weathered sandstone is expected to provide serviceability limit state (SLS) bearing pressures in the order of 2 MPa to 6 MPa. The underlying sandstone class I/II will likely provide SLS bearing pressures in the order of 10 MPa to 12 MPa.

There is the potential presence of closely spaced, steeply inclined joints and sheared zones associated with regional faulting across the site. The presence of these structures could lead to localised zones of “weaker” rock associated with deeper weathering and/or fractured rock. This has the potential to reduce the bearing pressures of the sandstone, which could locally impact footing performance.

The bearing capacity for footings in the vicinity of the proposed basement footprints (e.g., foundation for the “mega-column”) should consider the potential stress relief of the founding sandstone when the proposed basement excavation is deeper than the founding level of the footings. Should the proposed foundation for the “mega-column” be higher than the proposed basement, the impact due to the stresses imposed by the foundation to the excavation and proposed basement walls needs to be considered.

The footings for the proposed basement could be founded on sandstone class I/II. Should the footing founded above sandstone class I/II, founding footings within the highly to moderately weathered sandstone could present constructability issues. In particular, excavation to these depths in a relatively tight space, confines the flexibility to adjust the footing arrangements/size should unexpected ground conditions be encountered. An alternative could be to install a group of piles, that might offer flexibility during construction.

There are existing deep basements in the vicinity of the site (as shown in APPENDIX A, Figure 1), Governor Philip and Macquarie Tower (8 basement levels) to the southwest of the site, and the Secure Parking at 131 Macquarie St (about 4 basement levels) to the east of the site. Given the proximity of the adjacent basements, there is a risk that highly loaded existing footings that are founded at a relatively high level compared to the proposed basement depths, may be impacted by the excavations. This has the potential to result in additional movements of the existing footings in the direction of the excavation and/or stresses impacting on the excavated basement walls. Vice versa, should there be new footings higher than the existing basements, consideration has to be given to the potential stresses imposed by the new footings impacting the existing basement walls.

Sketch 1: Proposed basement plan

Shoring and underpinning

Construction of proposed basements will require a shoring system, to retain residual soils and highly weathered sandstone. These soils and weathered sandstone could be present about 5 m to 7 m below original ground levels. Groundwater is expected to be below or at about the levels of the proposed basements.

Suitable shoring systems could comprise soldier piles with shotcrete infill panels or contiguous piles. Design of shoring systems will need to consider the proximity of the excavation to adjacent existing footings, particularly those for the existing heritage building at 50 Philip Street. Provision for drainage behind the walls may also be required for potential water seepage from the ground surface or nearby water mains.

The shoring system may require additional temporary lateral support to mitigate against unacceptable movements of existing adjacent footings or the proposed footings for the “mega-column”. This lateral support could comprise temporary anchors or internally props, until the final basement walls and slabs are in place to provide permanent lateral support.

Where excavations are proposed to extend to depths that will expose more competent sandstone for foundations, there is a risk that jointing associated with regional faults could lead to local instability of rock wedges.

Shoring piles could potentially be designed to support permanent vertical loads from the overlying building structure.

We note that TTW has indicated underpinning is required at the following locations:

- Along the southern boundary and northern boundary of 52 Philip St
- In the existing lightwell foundation of the heritage building

Assuming that proposed shoring walls are unable to mitigate against the risks of unacceptable movements of existing footings, underpinning may be required. We assume that underpinning would likely involve the construction of additional piles that become structurally connected to the existing structures/footings and transfer loads to depths beneath proposed adjacent excavations. The proposed depths of underpinning piles will need to consider the depths to suitable founding strata. In particular, if underpinning piles do not extend to the depths beneath adjacent excavations, then the stability of the rock mass at the toe of the piles will need to be carefully assessed, with particular attention paid to the presence of regional faulting.

Earthquake risk classification

The methods of assessing the earthquake risk classification are outlined in the Australian Standard AS1170.4-2007 Structural Design Actions, Part 4: Earthquake Actions in Australia. The standard uses a number of factors in assessing an earthquake design category for a particular structure at a given site. The hazard factor (Z) depends on the geographic location of the proposed structure. For the proposed site in Sydney, AS1170.4 Table 3.2 recommends a hazard factor of 0.08.

The governing conditions for the site subsoil class are the thickness and consistency of the subsurface materials beneath the building footings. If the foundation is founded on sandstone class I/II, a site Subsoil Class of ‘Be – Rock’ is appropriate for the site per Section 4.2 of AS1170.4 (2007). The assumed ground condition should be verified following the geotechnical investigation.

Recommendations

The following subsequent scope of works is recommended for further design development:

- Any excavated material should be sampled and analysed at a National Association of Testing Authorities (NATA) accredited laboratory to assess potential re-use and/or disposal options.

- If groundwater seepage is encountered during excavation, the groundwater water should be sampled and analysed at a NATA-accredited laboratory to assess the need for treatment prior to discharge and/or disposal.
- Title search of adjacent properties for prospective deep basements followed by site mapping of sandstone exposures (if available);
- Borehole investigations to allow an assessment of site-specific foundation conditions across the site. The use of angled boreholes will further assist in assessing the potential presence of regional faulting.
- Development of a Geotechnical Report to address approval conditions and provide technical data for design development.
- Geotechnical analysis to optimise footing and retention system designs.

The values within the EPA site management class in the table above, are given more detailed explanations in the table below:

EPA site management class	Explanation
Contamination being managed via the planning process (EP&A Act)	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation. The contamination of this site is managed by the consent authority under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A Act) planning approval process, with EPA involvement as necessary to ensure significant contamination is adequately addressed. The consent authority is typically a local council or the Department of Planning and Environment.
Contamination currently regulated under CLM Act	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 (CLM Act). Management of the contamination is regulated by the EPA under the CLM Act. Regulatory notices are available on the EPA's Contaminated Land Public Record of Notices.
Contamination currently regulated under POEO Act	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation. Management of the contamination is regulated under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 (POEO Act). The EPA's regulatory actions under the POEO Act are available on the POEO public register.
Contamination formerly regulated under the CLM Act	The EPA has determined that the contamination is no longer significant enough to warrant regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 (CLM Act). The contamination was addressed under the CLM Act.
Contamination formerly regulated under the POEO Act	The EPA has determined that the contamination is no longer significant enough to warrant regulation. The contamination was addressed under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 (POEO Act).
Contamination was addressed via the planning process (EP&A Act)	The EPA has determined that the contamination is no longer significant enough to warrant regulation. The contamination was addressed by the appropriate consent authority via the planning process under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A Act).
Ongoing maintenance required to manage residual contamination (CLM Act)	The EPA has determined that ongoing maintenance, under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 (CLM Act), is required to manage the residual contamination. Regulatory notices under the CLM Act are available on the EPA's Contaminated Land Public Record of Notices.

EPA site management class	Explanation
Regulation being finalised	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997. A regulatory approach is being finalised.
Regulation under the CLM Act not required	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 is not required.
Under assessment	The contamination is being assessed by the EPA to determine whether regulation is required. The EPA may require further information to complete the assessment. For example, the completion of management actions regulated under the planning process or Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997. Alternatively, the EPA may require information via a notice issued under s77 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 or issue a Preliminary Investigation Order.
