

SUBMISSION M

How could this even be considered when it is in the red zone, a highly contaminated area. Are they going to guarantee to us that there not going to spread the contamination further, and if they can't it should not even be considered. This area is suffering enough it does not need anymore disturbance. It could be a catastrophe and if anyone allows it to go ahead they too should be held accountable.

Kind regards

[REDACTED]