Dear Planning Minister

I support the expansion of Drayton South mine. The positive implications in our community due to the mining industry are a massive deal. My family relies on mining for our livelihood, as do hundreds of other families. Listen to the people, this proposal is crucial for our local economy with many different businesses also relying on this. As horse people, we strongly believe that mining & horse breeding can co-exist successfully & in turn, keep the major local industries both viable.

My family depends on Drayton South as do the families of another 500 workers. Drayton South supports the community, local businesses and local schools. Drayton South will have no adverse impacts on the horse studs and they should be able to co-exist. The right thing to do is to approve the Drayton South Extension Application.

If Drayton South isn't approved my family will have to leave town which muswellbrook is already suffering with the downturn and another 2 business closed this week. We will have to sell our house which we will loose a lot of money on, pull our daughter out of school which she loves and she will have to leave all her friends. This town is already dying keep the jobs here and keep small business going here and stop this constant worry of drayton closing.

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the NSW Government annually. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. Drayton South should be approved because the impact on the community and surrounding areas if this mine shuts down will be detrimental. Families, businesses and the economy rely on mines in our community and it would be a huge step backwards for this Project to be rejected when Anglo have bent over backwards to accomodate horse studs etc and fall within the criteria.

The Hunter needs this project to go ahead. The mining industry is suffering, people are suffering. Associated industries that rely on mining are going under as well. The racing industry is far from suffering and the mines and the horse breeding industry CAN coexist. Hunter miners can't cope with another rejection. Please support the Drayton South project.

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton south is very important to me on a personal note because of the fact it has had two generations of family work there over the last 30 years and still there today! My grandfather was one of the first to walk the dragline back in the early 80's and my father and his brother (uncle) still work there today! Drayton has brought so much to the community and also has put where my family is today. So for this mine to close would be a major loss to the community and the families

Hi, I personally don't work at Drayton south, I have a brother inlaw who works there. He is a hard working man who does anything to support his family. If they were to loose this extension who knows what he is going to do to support him an his family an where they would end up moving. There are a lot of workers & familys who are depending on a positive outcome for the extension because it not only effects the workers them selfs it also effects there children an there future as well. Dear Planning Minister

The reasons that Drayton South should go ahead far outweigh the reasons why it shouldn't. As shown in many feasibility statements there is no bad effects on the stud farm and it only is going to help the community. Anglo American donates a lot of money to the hunter valley community every year and does a lot of good work in and around the area. If you lost mining you would lose the community. To let over 500 people lose their jobs is disgusting- this mine should go ahead.

I am an employee at Drayton, this extension is vital to not just my future but the future for the Hunter Valley. Unemployment levels in our area are some of the highest in the state, so to not approve this project will add to this even more, furthermore our mining lease on those grounds where the horse studs reside were earmarked mining leases since the early 1900's so the horse studs should have not bought the land if they think co-existence is such an issue!

Surely, co-existence as has been happening now for many years is what should be foremost in the end decision in this current situation. The workers and families of those from Drayton South have been living on a knives edge for too long. It is time that this is put to bed once and for all. In my opinion, the livelihood of these families should come before the equine industry, who I might add have gone from strength to strength and always with the Mining activities right beside them.

The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. • The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries.

Dear Planning Minister

Yes I support the Drayton South Extension in which would make massive boost for Upper community's and for the 500 workers and families that would benefit if given the approval and to see coexisting of two industries for the future that have been neighbours side by side for the passed 32 years Drayton mine employees have all so played massive part in supporting charity groups, fund raising events and the support of the Westpac Rescue Helicopter Service.

Dear Planning Minister

It is important that there is tangible support from the government for industries to coexist where it is demonstrated by science that environmental impacts are able to be managed to an acceptable level. It is important approvals are provided based on the outcomes of studies that have been designed to meet all stakeholder requirements, to ensure the future of the communities in the Hunter Valley region and state of NSW remains bright.

Dear Planning Minister

This is the 3rd attempt for Drayton South, we have followed the Pac recommendations to the letter. We believe we can coexist, and at no point have wanted to horse studs to close and move away, unlike them. Drayton employs over 500 people directly and thousands more indirectly through local businesses. We spend over $50 million a year for local business, and inject $60 million for state royalties. We support local schools, sporting teams and charities.

I believe we can co exist with the local horse studs. If you use Bhp Mt Arthur and endinglasie horse stud which is only separated by the Denman high way. So Anglo American are dedicated to co existence and are willing to make it work. The local horse studs aren't willing, saying "we are happy to co exist with coal mines but not this one". Dear Planning Minister

The loss of 500 jobs will seriously impact the livelihood of a lot of local businesses. There would be a significant drop in funding for local infrastructure and community projects. All of the major open cut mines are highly visible, while Drayton is very hard to see from any road. Edinglassie stud is only 300 metres from Mt. Arthur and Bengalla and still produces Group One winners, so that shows that open cut mining does not have any affect on the horses.

It is slowly getting worse in town now and if more jobs are lost, then I really worry for the future here. Families and businesses need this. The horse industry doesn't contribute as much. I think they can co-exist together, but to lose the mine altogether would be a very big tragedy. The downturn already affects house prices etc.

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools.

Yours sincerely,
John Armstrong

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South is critical to the area and local economy. The loss of another 500 jobs in the Hunter will have a roll on effect on all other local businesses, and will cause a huge amount of hardship in the area. I believe the horse industry can coexist with the mining industry. The mining industry injects a huge amount of money both local and state wide, and the revised plan for Drayton South should be given a fair assessment using the facts and evidence.

As a current employee of Anglo's Drayton Mine, I want see the Drayton South project approved not only to secure my employment, but also the jobs of my colleagues. This mine has supported local workers with local job for over 30 years and since moving to Muswellbrook last year I've seen first hand what the positive impact that Anglo has in the local community. I believe Anglo's commitment to co-existence and hope that they are given the chance to make good on that commitment.

I am an employee of Drayton and need the extension to go ahead. I have a mortgage and if Drayton South doesn't go ahead I will lose my house and because there are no jobs in the Hunter Valley I will be have no job so the Government will have to support me and my family. Also when the horse studs purchased these properties they would have known that a mining lease was there so why are they trying to stop Anglo American from expanding.

Dear Planning Minister

Kara Magnetite Pty Ltd is just one of small Australian businesses Supplying Drayton Mine and provides employment for a NSW company in storing and delivering magnetite to Drayton mine. It is imperative that Drayton continues to mine coal to maintain employment for mine personnel and work for local business and Maintain Local towns and infrastructure.. If Drayton were to be closed down it would send shockwaves throughout the whole coal mining community. Please keep Drayton in business!

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton is a special mine, where employees feel more like family than peers. The mine's employees are valuable, contributing members of our Hunter communities and their livelihoods and futures should be protected by enabling the Drayton South extension to proceed, as the science shows that the operation can coexist responsibly with the neighbouring properties. The proposal has my full support, I certainly hope to see it go ahead in the near future.

My husband is currently employed at Drayton's. The amount of stress on our family through not knowing whether he will have a job in the future is huge. We have financial commitments and a grandson to raise and we are looking at Drayton's to see us through until we are in a better position to even contemplate retirement. As my husband is in his sixties it will not be easy to gain employment with so many out of work in the Hunter Valley. The loyalty shown by the miners who have stayed on at Drayton's when others have left to obtain employment before the axe may fall should be rewarded by having a secure future with the mine.

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South should be funded and given the right to go ahead. There are too many jobs lost and families ruined. I view the possible closure of Drayton South as a great loss not only to the families losing their jobs directly from the mine but also as a loss to the community and our future jobs. I am a Podiatry student at the University of Newcastle and I aspire to work in the Hunter region. This closure will greatly affect my job and the other jobs within the communities of Singleton, Denman, Muswellbrook and the surrounding areas. THIS WILL BE A GREAT LOSS TO EVERYONE. The towns will progressively get smaller and smaller and the economy will drop. This mine is clearly not a health hazard to horses. If it was the horses, they would not be breeding and they are clearly are. I question the humanity of the people closing the mine. How can they ruin so many people's lives and greatly affect the surrounding areas. I SUPPORT DRAYTON SOUTH!!!!

Dear Planning Minister

I have worked at Drayton for 12 yrs and obviously this extension directly affects my family. My father and brother have been made redundant due to previous knockbacks on the extension and subsequent delays in the planning process. Drayton has always employed locally and there are lots of families like mine who have additional family at the mine. Approving this project will save the jobs of more than 500 people, which at a time when Muswellbrook shows an unemployment rate higher than the national average, should be of importance. Drayton has always been a supporter of local businesses and the community. Each local business that I support with my wages, are commenting on their recent slow in business and are concerned that the mine closure would affect them beyond repair. It is unreasonable that the studs now call for a 10km buffer after they knowingly brought land next to an already operating mine. The two industries currently coexist and that is all we are asking to continue to do

My lively hood as a small business operator is based around the valley and is centered in the mining industry as a contracting Auto electrician. With out the approval of Drayton south I, and my family will be without an income in an already depressed industry and struggling to make ends meet. As a person that grew up on a farm locally and worked in the agricultural and mining industry, I have seen how the two can work side by side with no adverse effects and also support both. I cannot imagine what this area will be like without mining AND agriculture together, nor can I see it being sustainable without new heavy industry/Mining. Please approve Drayton South so that I and everyone in the community can reap the rewards it will bring. Thanks.

This mine employs around 500 people women and men who mostly live in in and around Muswellbrook, shop in the local area, send their children to local schools, attend our local health services and with the loss of these families, other industries will suffer as families move away for other job opportunities. The community as a whole will suffer greatly, Drayton has always supported our local sporting events, donated to the Westpac helicopter, and many other community events and services. As a life long local I have seen the growth of the Muswellbrook shire over the years and it is obvious to me that local mining has done a lot to make this area what it is. As a service provider to this mine I get to go home every day and stay close to family and friends with a job I enjoy. Dear Planning Minister

I support the expansion of Drayton South Mine because I feel it is critical to save the 500 jobs and to continue to provide work for 140 Local businesses and the $50 million a year in local procurement. It is not just the local community that will benefit as Drayton South will inject $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually. Drayton employees donate money every week from their pay to Westpac Rescue Helicopter and Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and local charities. The revised Drayton South plan has address the concerns of the Horse Studs and all the workers want is affair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence. a lot of people say we don't need coal anymore but what these people forget to say is that South Drayton mines coking coal which is used to produce steel and everyone of us everyday use something that is made of steel .

Please give strong consideration to the merits of retaining the Drayton South mine continuing operation in the Hunter Region. Revised plans have accommodated the Planning Assessment Commissions' concerns so the community can co-exist successfully with other industries. The continuing operation of Drayton South mine will provide monumentally to the community of the Hunter Region as a whole and a peaceful and successful outcome to this venture would be beneficial to all parties concerned.

Dear Planning Minister

the move to close the mine will put 500 people out of work and cause hundreds of families devastation, including 120 businesses. The area will become a ghost town and over inflated prices of properties that these people have purchase will have no value. You are ruining families that rely on the income from mining to move. The mine has no impact what so ever on the equine community.

I support Drayton south, it is in the public's best interest. Muswellbrook needs Drayton South to go ahead, there are a lot of families and small business owners relying on the continued work at Drayton so they can still survive. Dear Planning Minister

After working in the mining industry and also private sector, I have seen first hand, the importance that miners place on working successfully in conjunction with their neighbors and the community, as well as their responsibility to the environment. I see no reason why the mining and horse breeding industries cant work successfully together, to achieve co-existence, as they both provide so much valuable input to communities and the economy. There can be successful co-existence.

I support Drayton South! I believe that Drayton and horse studs can co-exist. The current buffer has been proven to be acceptable and has no ill effect on health at the horse studs. These horse studs have moved to this location knowing of the mine lease across the road 10yrs after the mine. Should this mine not go ahead, the ill effects on the local community will be huge. Please don't decline this application due to the greed of a couple foreign billionaires.

The impact of this rejection will be huge on the thousands associated with this mine. Every AUSTRALIAN citizen who is employed at Drayton pay substantial amounts of tax to the government along with millions the company feeds involved local economy which small AUSTRALIAN businesses rely on. If the survival of business supporting mostly foreign workers and the promotion of gambling has priority then the pac and government really need to have a long hard look at who they are actually here to serve.

We need Drayton South to be approved to keep local people in local jobs and show support within our community. The more mine shut downs that occur means more people that are forced to leave the area, that's kids that disappear from local schools, that's people not spending money in their local businesses, which means businesses are forced to close to. It's not just 500 families that suffer from the closer of Drayton mine, it's the hole community that suffer due to the flow on affect.

Dear Planning Minister

I SUPPORT DRAYTON SOUTH! Keep these beautiful families in a job! People need to think of each other as well as the $$$. Having family that work at the Drayton South site we see the horrible impact losing their jobs will have on them and their young families. Life is hard enough these days and people are trying to rip these families apart by taking away their incomes?! The impact that will have on communities, businesses and families will be devastating. UN AUSTRALIAN, And just MORALLY WRONG!

There is a number of reason I support our local mines. I've grew up with the view of mines around me , growing up you are used to them being around that you barley see they are there. I've seen family's suffer from lose of jobs in mining in our community. It's not just them that lose it's a downfall in work for a lot of people , local buisness close down and the towns lose there spirit. Family's have to put kids out of private schools and into public. The daily expensive a have rision and family's lose more then there job. The men that work hard out in mines to feed there family and help the community worried about if or when they might be put off , to go home and tell there family's 500 people got put of and you were one. Please help the mines keep there positions and help our whole community.

We need to keep Drayton mine going. The impact on our local communities would be devastating if it closed. My son is a young tradesman reliant on this mine for employment. Drayton is a responsible company. Please allow it to continue mining in the hunter valley. Surely it has proved to all interested parties that it can exist with its geographical neighbours. Please make the right decision and allow the Drayton south expansion.

People, Businesses, Schools in the local area are far more important in this World of ours than a Stud Farm, the location of which could be far away from the important mining works of Drayton South. If the Stud Farm is adversely affected by the mine then pay them compensation and let the Horses be relocated to pastures new if necessary and maintain the mine at a profitable level. People - Jobs - Health - are the important factor for a modern country.

The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Muswellbrook really needs Drayton South to go through, not only does it affect the 500 workers it also affects the contractors that go Drayton to do work. Also affects the local communities as there is less people spending. Also Drayton supports local community events & without that support these events will not be able to happen.

Dear Planning Minister

Being a single Mum that was working crib relief at a mine in the Hunter Valley I know first hand what the downturn has done to the town of Singleton and its residents. Jobs have been lost and this flows onto the retailers which are all struggling. Shops have been closed and workers put off throughout the district. We don't have any other industries capable of coping with the amount of people presently out of work or in the near future. Singleton and its people need Drayton South to go ahead.

Dear Planning Minister

The requested changes to the footprint of Drayton South have been met, and reduced even further; ensuring the mine will not be seen from the horse studs. The air quality around Drayton South will be significantly better than in Tianjin, where Coolmore are sending hundreds of horses to become an international stud, and noise impacts lower than the visitors helicopters. Coolmore and Darly bought into the stud farms well AFTER the location on which Drayton South is planned was being drilled as a potential coal mine. They must have known there were plans for coal mining when they bought, not to mention the acquisition of the neighbouring vineyard in 2013 by Coolmore. Please give the project a chance, evaluate the potential mine on its merits, not misinformation.

Dear Planning Minister

Hi, I implore the Government to SUPPORT DRAYTON SOUTH. The Australian Government is elected by the Australia people, and has the privilege and responsibility to make decisions on our behalf, that are in the best interest of our collective needs; now and into the future. The Drayton South mining extension is an example of a thoroughly planned and innovative business proposal, that provides for both the local community, via job creation and local economic returns, and the broader Australian Coal industry, as an example of a mining operation demonstrating innovative co-habitation techniques in an environmentally sensitive region. This project is critical to the livelihoods of both the 500 workers and the local community and I urge this government to consider the merits and controls proposed, and thus conclude that this project: - IS in the best interest of the community - DOES meet the stringent technical requirements to operate in a sensitive location - CAN co-exist with all community stakeholders I implore the Government to make the responsible, fact based and future proofing decision and SUPPORT DRAYTON SOUTH. Dear Planning Minister

Without a doubt South Drayton have adhered to the requirements in their new proposed plan to work in harmony with the surrounding Horse Studs & communities abroad. It is not rocket science to know that mining contributes a hell of a lot more to the Australian Community and Government by way of tax and revenue and employment to Australian Families, than that of it's neighbouring Horse Studs. If the Horse Studs cannot adhere to compromise then tell me how this is contributing to the Australian way of life within it's surrounds or more importantly mate ship? Australian Government, get your head out of the sand, the environment cannot be fixed after 100 years of mining impact, but the new implementations to rehabilitate and manage the impact by South Drayton and other mines should be more than enough. If you close these mines down you lose revenue, overseas trade, the employment rate goes through the roof, then the welfare costs go up. It's not just miners for god sake that are affected, its the cleaners, the office workers, the industry connected to mining, the wives that currently rely on the miners wage and therefore do not claim welfare these are all going to have somewhat a dramatic affect on this state and country in the long term. We have been a mining region for over 100 years, wake up and smell the roses, take away mining, increase you deficit by far, destroy this region, destroy a big part of Australia, NSW, the Hunter ! Spare a thought for the families, small business within these regions that rely on this to fuel our way of life I don't see the horse studs or politicians putting there hand up to pay out costs from their own pockets to help these people out should the mine be shut down! Think about it, long and hard, this region deserves to be what it has always been, and compromises have been made ... Fair is Fair NSW Government and Family is First! Do it for the Families, keep our mines in operation, LOOK AT THE EVIDENCE - Give us a fair go !

I would like to show my support for the Drayton South project as I have been on the front line watching what the workers have to go through not knowing what will happen with their future, or the futures of their friends who are employed within the community who rely on the support of the mines to keep their business going. After reading articles recently released by Associate Professor Nicholas Kannegieter it has made me realise even more how the studs can co exist with the mine as the article does undermine the main parts of their protest against Drayton South. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries.

Up until 2 months ago, I was an employee at Anglo American Drayton Mine and was heavily involved in the Drayton South Project during my time there as an Electrical Engineer. I had to leave Drayton, and also the town of Muswellbrook, I loved my job and was happy to continue working in the Hunter Valley. I was fortunate enough to find secure employment in a mine at Mudgee but I do not want to see my mates and former colleagues jobless, they deserve to have continued employment and I know that the mine can continue in a responsible manner, for the environment and community. Mining in the Hunter Valley employs locals and supports local businesses. Mining and other industries have coexisted for many years and can continue to do so. Drayton is critical to continue this history of local investment and employment, as well as the funding provided to the state of NSW which is used for roads, hospitals and schools. Dear Planning Minister

A lot of hard work and science has been undertaken in the proposals for the Drayton south project that shows that mining and other industries can co exist. Keeping this in mind it would be a difficult task to find the right balance between industries especially when emotional opinion is involved. The government needs to set aside emotional opinions and base its decisions on the evidence, facts and science to give every industry a fair chance to prove itself worthy.

Dear Planning Minister

The Hunter region really needs the help of the NSW Government to ensure that the proposed Drayton South Mine is approved as quickly as possible. The current uncertainty of this project causes grief to families across the Hunter. There are 500 peoples livelihood at stake. What does that add up to when you are looking at the families of those people and the businesses in the Hunter that rely on Drayton for their business? The number is too big to count. Anglo American Drayton Mine has submitted an application that takes into account all the impacts that were concerns form the horse studs. They have reduced the footprint by 25%, increased the buffer zone as requested and noise, dust and water usage will all be below the allowed levels. I would like to think that with the current amendments to the submission that there could be a way for everyone to work together. Are the horse studs going to employ and support all the people that are affected by this - somehow I don't think so.

Dear Planning Minister

We've grown up as part of the Hunter mining community and my father has worked at Drayton for over 25years. Not allowing this expansion is ruining his career but also severely affecting our family. I am very unwell and have been for a few years of which my dad has continued to support our family through working hard and honestly. My father has supported all 4 of his children to get a university education. This was all through Drayton. If you decline Drayton South you are essentially DILUTING a community. 500 jobs will be lost, the local community shops and businesses, charities & schools will be sure to feel the shock. My dad is not of the age to retire. He wants to work for Drayton and be apart of Drayton South expansion. If this expansion is not approved we are facing unemployment and financial strain. The facts say these two things CAN coexist and prosper together. Shutting the door on Drayton South is opening the door to unfair pain and suffering. Be reasonable.

As a worker at Drayton Anglo all we want is a fair go. Our mine has been in place far longer than the neighbouring horse studs & we have co-existed with no adverse effect on their breeding programs as shown in recent horse sales. The vineyards also in the Upper Hunter are still producing excellent wines again already co-existing with our work place. I desperately wish to continue working at Drayton mine but without this extension I will be unemployed & at 58 I am highly unlikely to be retrained & employed in another industry so please grant the extension Drayton South.

The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. Dear Planning Minister

Hi there!! I feel strongly about supporting the approval of Drayton South Mine. I have been in the mining industry for 15 years and have worked very hard during this time. I have always shopped locally and supported local business. I have just had my first child and plan on staying the the hunter area for the next 20 years. If Drayton does not get approval we will be forced to leave the area to find work as mining job opportunities are becoming increasingly hard to find. I believe that this is the case with 500 other employees and their families who also support the local area. Please consider our families. Regards Fran Hudson

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton has played a major role in not only my life but to the upper hunter community as a whole. Having family and friends working at Drayton, and knowing the negative impacts the closure of the mine would have on the local economies of Muswellbrook, Singleton and Denman it is unbelievable that the Drayton South project has not been approved. Growing up in Muswellbrook I was able to play sports sponsored by Drayton, they provide more for the local area than just stable employment for workers, branching out to sponsor school developments, charities and sporting clubs. Please approve the Drayton South project, the scientific evidence backs that the Horse Studs and the mining community can live and work together as they have been doing for many years. It is time to view the facts rather than media or uneducated opinions. The approval of this mine will be beneficial to not only the local area but NSW and Australia as a whole.

As a resident of Muswellbrook I am in full support of the Drayton coal mine continuing into the future. The excuses put forward to the government by these horse studs are nothing short of ridiculous. These two industries have co existed for decades and can continue to do so both enjoying a prosperous future. Other mines in the area are much closer to our town and our children, adults and elderly live happily along side them so there is little reason a horse can't!!! Drayton south MUST continue the town, region, state & country need it too.

I proudly support Drayton South mine for the future of the region and for continual economic growth in Australia. Drayton is an invaluable source of income for many families in the hunter, a huge supporter of the community and it has a longstanding cemented place in the region as a positive local business. Without the expansion of the mine so many families will be left without an income and unable to support themselves and their children through their education. Dear Planning Minister

I proudly support Drayton South mine for the future of the region and for continual economic growth in Australia. Drayton is an invaluable source of income for many families in the hunter, a huge supporter of the community and it has a longstanding cemented place in the region as a positive local business. Without the expansion of the mine so many families will be left without an income and unable to support themselves and their children through their education. On a personal level, AngloAmerica has supported me in my medical studies through the provision of a scholarship and they have supported my family, through the employment of my father, to educate 4 university graduates. It is undeniable that Drayton South is an integral part of the community supporting local businesses, families and trade. I strongly believe we should stand with them and support the mine to remain open and an ongoing part of our community.

Dear Planning Minister

Myself, my younger brother and my father have all worked at Drayton. My brother completed his apprenticeship there and has been lucky enough to be kept on as a permanent tradesman and is still employed today. I know we all thoroughly enjoyed working at Drayton, it is a very safe and friendly environment, and they like to pride themselves on that. Everybody is treated equal. I also have a lot of friends who work there and I would hate to see them suffer any loss, or go through any more stress of the worry they might be jobless if this falls through. The communities of Singleton and Muswellbrook depend greatly on these mines and their workers and I'm sure Drayton does everything they can to help out around the towns. Australia and the hunter need this extension, please give it the go ahead.

I currently work at Drayton Coal and have for the last six years. I'm 24 years old and I have just purchased my new home last year. If Drayton South was to go ahead, it would give me continuity of income and a secured job for the next 15 years. Please give this project the go ahead as I do believe it is in the public's interest. Co-existence can work. We have met every one of the 5 guidelines that the last PAC group set out. Please take this into consideration. Thank you.

This is needed for continued employment of people within the Hunter Valley. The land was bought over 30 years ago for mining. The horsestuds bought their land after this knowing that the land would be mined. If this does not go ahead the community and the employees and their families will struggle to survive.

Dear Planning Minister

I support the rejection of the Drayton South proposal, based on the contempt shown for the Gateway process, misinformation spread by Anglo American and the fact that 80 hectares of prime agricultural land still falls within the disturbance area. With the price of coal currently in decline, there is little chance that the projected profits will be made, unless the Australian government continues to prop up this industry with subsidies and rebates. On-costs to the community, including those incurred in health will far outweigh any economic "benefit" of the proposal.

Dear Planning Minister

This mine expansion is a necessity for the whole of the hunter valley. It will keep 500 immediate employees and 1000s of other people in associated businesses in employment for many years to come. It will provide many royalties and much needed tax dollars not to mention money into community projects eg hospitals schools sports teams westpac helicopter rescue etc. It must be approved and is positive with minimal impacts. Its also important as just an expansion rather than opening a whole new mine. From what's been explained they have complied with all conditions set by the PAC so should proceed. The horse industry will suffer no adverse effects if the expansion is to proceed but if it doesn't it would be a disaster to an already struggling economy. Thankyou

Dear Planning Minister

I would like to add my support for this project, as i work at Drayton and see the first hand positive impact that the mine has and will have to the local communities of the upper hunter and the broader state. My situation as a father of one and one on the way, home owner and involved in various community organisations is dependant on full time job security. I see it is imperative that our government protect full time employment that allows families to prosper, allows people to plan for their children's future and provide for theirs. I know of 40 or more people that have lost there employment in the last 12 months. None of whom have found full time employment in the valley, a hand full have had to resort to FIFO which is destroying the family unit a few are working on a casual basis with as little as 12 hours notice of their next employment role . There are 500 people with families in the same position, 60 million in state royalties a mine that is not a new mine but and extension of the existing one so no greater cumulative effects, a mine that has been moved behind the Planing Commissions designated ridge line . I as a miner see the importance of both industries needing to co- exist I don't support the destruction of the horse breeding industry, indeed quite the opposite, i believe in successful co-existence which benefits families in both industries. Regards, Damian.

My fiancée works at Drayton. I'm an electrical and instrument technician with Downer at various sites across the Hunter Valley including the power stations and wash plants. In the current economic climate, if Drayton South is not approved, we will be forced to relocate and move away from the Hunter Valley. We are not alone. Dear Planning Minister

I would like to see the Drayton South project go ahead to maintain the coal mining economy in the Hunter Valley and to maintain the workforce of 500 workers, many of whom are my mates. The Drayton mine supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services, all of which will suffer in the event of the mine closing. With consideration given to the local horse studs and proven that no adverse effect will be had on them, I strongly support this project going ahead to boost what is a real downturn in the mining industry at the moment. The Hunter Valley has always relied heavily on coal mines to support the local economy, and it is imperative that mines like Drayton South continue into the future to ensure that this is achieved in this generation and in future generations.

The hunter region has been nsw mining capital for the last 30 years, the industry brings not only family support and sustainability to live in the hunter but generates so many chains and follow ons of small businesses around the area of the hunter region that feeds off the mining industry. We need to continue to have the mines supply of coal into the power stations to provide electricity for family and life's daily needs and just continue in community growth that builds from the mine industry's. Don't make the Hunter a 'ghost town'. We (the community and government) should be supporting small businesses, workers and their families across all diversities of work in our Hunter region. If good practices are put in place, we can co-exist for the sake of our future and our town. We all have a voice in this great country of ours, however we must keep our economy moving forward or we will no longer be a 'lucky country'. We have lost so many jobs already. I would like to show my support for Drayton South. If a mining company acts responsibly in its operations, which I have been informed it is doing, and it then brings economic security to the area by providing jobs to so many, at a time when mining jobs are decreasing, then it should be supported by both the state and federal governments. Should a few extremely wealthy horse stud owners be permitted to place their own interests before the good of the community in this region? Most definitely not. The government is duty bound to act in the best interests of its constituents, which should be to support Drayton South.

Dear Planning Minister

As a community member and a mine worker. I have seen first hand the impact this down turn has had on the community and the families in the Upper Hunter. The flow on effect from mines closing affects not only the workers and their families, it makes a big impact on the wider community - such as local businesses. It also affects the infrastructure of our towns impacting on the next generation of workers in our community.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister

Der Sir/Madam I have lived in the Upper Hunter all of my life and have been in the mining industry for the past 15 years, the mining industry, horse studs, vinyards etc have worked side by side for decades if the Drayton South project doesn't go ahead it would be a huge impact to the Muswellbrook area, loss of 500+ jobs, local businesses would have to lay of employees, state government would loose 60 million dollers annually in royalties, many families would have to move away from the area meaning schools, sporting teams, charities would all suffer. Anglo America and Drayton has made all the changes required to satisfy the PAC and neighbouring horse studs there is no reason why this project should not go ahead.

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries.

Dear Planning Minister

I'm a retired person who supported my husband while working as a Drayton employee over the passed 32 years. In the 35 years that we lived & worked in Muswellbrook we have always and will always be involved in supporting the local community. In all the time that we have been in Muswellbrook we have supported the local community with rising money for the local hospital which Drayton has always match they amount of money raised. Drayton from the begging has been a stronge supporter of the community of Muswellbrook. Drayton Coal has always co-exist with the local wine & horse industry from the very beginning. It has only been the last few years that the horse studs have been sold to overseas investors that there position has changed. Why is this !! Has this question been asked & what support has the horse studs given to the local community let alone the local council or Government? Employment in Drayton has always been given preference to the local community & local industries. What is the majority of staffing at the studs? I think you will find that more then 65% is from oversea & how much of the monitory value stays within the local community less then 1/4 the rest goes back oversea. Drayton South is critical local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. I'm so sad to think that you would bring unemployment to the excising staff of five hundred plus and the thousands that would lose their jobs in the local industries that have been supporting Drayton over the last thirty to fourth years. The town of Muswellbrook & outlying areas would become deserted. The effects that have already been seen most is the housing industries, the community of Muswellbrook are in a position were their houses are unsaleable & are losing value everyday. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

DRayton Studs will keep at least 500 employees and provide the Hunter Valley with economic stability by also providing work for local companies and contractors. Why should horse studs determine the fate of the mining industry in the Hunter Valley when Mining and Wine growing have been part of the Hunter Valley co existing long before the studs were established.

Dear Planning Minister

To whom it may concern, I am an engineering professional in the hunter region with a significant amount of work based in the mining industry. I as well as many others who I work with have and hope to continue to work with the fantastic people at the Drayton facility with the approval of the Drayton South expansion. Drayton are one of the mines in the Hunter whose normal practice is supporting locally based engineering and fabrication firms rather than the larger firms in the state's main city. For this reason it will not only be the 500 direct employees but a significant additional number who gain part of their yearly project work through the team at the facility. I hope the PAC takes this into consideration when appraising the current submission.

They have greatly modified their plan in an attempt to accommodate the local community concerns. I believe the Mine and other businesses in the community can coexist helping to support NSW and the Hunter Valley during this difficult economic time. Dear Planning Minister

My husband works at Drayton as a fitter and I work at Mt Thorley Warkworth as a Registered Nurse/Injury Management Advisor and we moved to Singleton 9 years ago to become a part of this community and are raising our girls here, who both go to St Catherine's Catholic College. We shop locally, we all play sport, Netball, Touch Footy, which they both also play representative for Singleton, Gym, Golf, Cricket etc My Husband and I involve ourselves with coaching duties. Girls play instruments go in local productions etc etc.. We support local markets, family days ...The list is endless. We have a mortgage, we service vehicles in town. Please don't take this away from us or we will be all forced to move out of town and even though we are only a family of 4, we put a lot into this community and other families will be forced to do the same! Don't take our Careers and family life away from us!

Dear Planning Minister

Mining must be supported in NSW. It has long been a part of our economy and identity, with many benefits state-wide, including revenue, employment and utilisation of our natural assets. Coal will not be a valuable commodity forever, it is imperative that we make use of what resources we have while we can. The mines will come and go, and the studs can and will remain long after. The land will be rehabilitated and as such it is important that the stud and mining industries co-exist. I implore anyone reading this to support the Drayton expansion, as it will ensure jobs, state revenue and future prosperity.

Dear Planning Minister

By approving Drayton South to go ahead the Hunter Valley may be able to reduce unemployment rates and realign itself with the rest of the country. With the Mining Industry not being given a "fair go" due to liars and thieves who are out for their own agenda and to take money and profits outside of Australia is ridiculous. Its about time the planning commission and government support the industry that supports them - not industry that is aiming to take away from this great country!!!

Dear Planning Minister

Dear Sir/Madam, It is with gratitude that I am able to present a written submission regarding the Drayton South project. My name is Luke Tresidder and I am the Business Centre Manager for WorkPac based in John Street Singleton. WorkPac is a leading, privately owned human capital solutions provider to Australia's mining, construction, engineering, oil and gas and healthcare sectors. Locally we specialise in Labour Hire & Recruitment servicing Hunter Valley areas from Branxton to Scone. The WorkPac Group strongly supports the development and operations of the Drayton South project on the basis that we believe that the local community will benefit from the employment opportunities and economic growth it will bring. Our town is short on jobs and short on investment, I see the effects of this firsthand daily. I find myself being in the unfortunate position of saying "NO" to local job seekers. On a daily basis we have around 10 people walking into our office looking for work, of which an estimated 85% are looking for work in the mining and industrial sector, (and that is just walk-ins and doesn't include the number of phone calls and web applications from job seekers we receive in addition to that). The remaining estimated 15% would be individuals with skill sets that would suit services based operations who work within the mining industry. We are of the view that the approval and subsequent expansion such as the Drayton South project will increase local employment, stimulate trade and economic growth with local business and support community based initiatives who are screaming out for support from local business who would love to be able to provide sponsorship / funding and donations to grow a vibrant community and to those most in need. Please consider carefully the positive effects on the community and local workforce through new employment opportunities we believe the Drayton South project will bring.

Yours sincerely,
Luke Tresidder

Drayton South is critical to the Upper Hunter Community. 500 jobs must be preserved for the families involved. There are many schools, sporting teams and charities who would also like to see the approval to they can continue to benefit. The revised Drayton South plan ensures the mine will not be visible from the studs.

Dear Planning Minister

The approval of Drayton south is critical for the local communities - not only do individuals and families rely on the jobs that it will provide, the wider community relies on their custom. Personally I am in a contract role at the moment and the extension of Drayton may lead to the opportunity of permanent employment, where I can continue to personally contribute to paying my taxes. I think that the rejection of Drayton South would set a very dangerous precedent about how mining and horse breeding can't co-exist, which they have been able to do happily for the last 30 years.

Dear Planning Minister

NSW State Government - I support this application. This is an important message regarding the Drayton Approval. Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. All the workers are part of a family. Don't add further stress to these workers and their families in an already tumultuous industry. Best Regards Ben Fitzsimmons

Dear Planning Minister

As one of the tax paying residents of NSW I can see no other option than to approve this Mine (Drayton South). The revenue it generates benefits everyone in NSW if not Australia. Anglo American has proven over the years that they are a good community member. They have supported everything from junior sporting groups through to the Westpac helicopter and individuals in need which they don't advertise. Anglo American has compromised and sterilised coal to appease its neighbours therefore the tax paying public has again missed out on millions of dollars' worth of revenue; we cannot miss out on the rest. The Government/Tax payer sponsors "Alcoholics Anonymous and Gambling Anonymous PLEASE don't sponsor Mining Anonymous! We cannot afford it! This Mine is in the interest/benefit of the Australian community.

Dear Planning Minister

My business relies on local mining and its families to stay open for business. Anymore stress on the industry than it has at the moment I will have no option to start and make people redundant. Its not something I want to do but with a drop of business of 40% over the last 3 years I have to do what's right for me to stay afloat. Please allow the expansion to go ahead for all our sakes. Regards Brad Adams CEO Singleton Auto Electrical Services

Yours sincerely,

I have worked in the coal mining industry since I was 18 years of age. It has provided food our table and helped pay the mortgage on our house. I am proud of what mining has done for Australia. Our national, state and local economy relies heavily on mining. Mining benefits all Australians. Drayton South deserves the full support of the state and federal governments. Allan Pryor

We shop locally we all play sport, Netball, Touch Footy, which they both also play representative for Singleton, Gym, Golf, Cricket etc My Husband and I involve ourselves with coaching duties. Girls play instruments go in local productions etc etc.. We support local markets, family days ...The list is endless. We have a mortgage, we service vehicles in town. Please dont take this away from us or we will be all forced to move out of town and even though we are only a family of 4, we put alot into this community and other families will be forced to do the same! Dear Planning Minister

Coal is an essential commodity for all of us that use electricity. Having worked in the industry as a G/M Metropolitan Colliery for years it is obvious the people don't understand how inert coal and coal waste is. Mining can coexist especially today because mining today is one of the very safe environmentally responsible businesses in the country. I think the Allan Jones's of the world should read Professor Ian Plimer's book HEAVEN AND EARTH on the subject of global climate change and view the real science. Employment in the Hunter takes precedent with more merit going forward.

Dear Planning Minister

Coexistence can work. It is time to bring some balance to this argument, the spin and rhetoric being developed by the Horse Industry must be taken with a significant grain of salt. The PAC hiding behind the “precautionary principle” highlights that these so called “independent people” took the Horse Industry on face value without making a scientific judgement on the “plausible risk”. It is time to end the uncertainty for these workers and approve this further retracted mine as was recommended by the DP&E last year.

Dear Planning Minister

I am very familiar with the Drayton business and its role in the local region after spending 3 years as Drayton's HRM. The PAC needs to consider the ongoing benefits of co-existence between well established industries- not only to the Hunter region but to the whole state of NSW. The benefits of approving Drayton South include: *Drayton South being critical to the community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. *The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. *Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South the community will suffer. *The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. *The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. *All that our employees want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence. Anglo American has shown a willingness to compromise which has greatly reduced the footprint of the proposed operation to ensure the sustainable co-existence between our industry and the equine industry that addresses all prior concerns. It is time for the PAC to now make the right decision for NSW and approve Drayton South. regards Ben Mansour Employee Relations Manager- Aus & Canada Anglo American

Dear Planning Minister

I was born in Tamworth NSW and mining has always been a positive responsible part of my history. Mining is not only the "taking" from the ground; mining is the "giving" of life to communities. It is jobs, and the community benefit of the spending of minors wages. It is also the community benefits of these companies and the opportunities given to things which would otherwise fail through lack of support or finance. I have watched massive open cut mines and piles of over burden be re vegetated and become awesome places of beauty which enrich photographs, landscapes and the new communities they develop. I want my future to be back in my homeland in the Hunter/upper hunter; the place where dreams are made. Drayton South will give me the chance to return to my roots and reunite our family which has spread from tamworth, to Qld and wa. Bring us the opportunity to all be together again, secure in the Hunter.

Dear Planning Minister

The Hunter Valley has already suffered terribly from job losses and mine closures including, families, and all business types. The mining industry has contributed greatly to local projects and childrens education such as reading programmes, youth off the streets learning and activity venue, health and fitness support, donating money and goods for community organisations, groups and Schools. The support has been huge for years and still goes on. Another mine closure means more people leave the area, in a already suffering region. Business's struggle, lay off people or close down, this includes all industry types from retail to contractor mining companies etc. Everywhere I go the word is there are no jobs or someone you know lost thier job due to mining down turn. Mining creates mass jobs and gives back a lot more than any horse racing/ breeding industry. The loss of Drayton South will be devastating for this great/ large community. We need this mine so many families and businesses depending on it. I have lived around mines all my life and my health is great, now more than ever the open cuts always manage and control possible air pollution. The Hunter region and mining deserves a fair go. The new project is fair and wants to coexist well with other industries.

Dear Planning Minister

To ensure that the community stays as a viable place to live. To show support to the families employed at Drayton South that we believe their jobs are of value and that they won't be relegated to the unemployment line. The loss of jobs will result in the loss of community spirit.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister

My family moved to branxton 36 years ago, my father looking for work. He has been working in the mines since then. He is now 60 years old. If Drayton South does not go ahead, who is going to employ a 60 year old man? Lets be realistic. It doesn't matter how hard a worker he is, his chances of finding employment at his age are not good. There will be hundreds of Families in the same position if the new stage does not get approved. The flow on effect of this will be seen everywhere. From donations to schools and local community projects to the $60 million in state royalties and taxes the mine pays to the government. These taxes help to fund local roads and infrastructure. Not to mention the effect it will have, or already has, on local business. Shopping centres are already suffering and the number of houses in the area that have gone up for sale but can't be sold because prices and interest in the area have plummeted. Anglo American are trying to work with those opposed to the mine, even revising the plan to move the mine behind the Assessment Commission nominated ridgeline, away from the horse studs, and ensuring noise levels will be kept within the current background levels. These changes will allow the mine to keep operating, coexisting with other local industries. All we want is a fair go. Please consider all options before making the decision to put over 500 locals out of work.

Dear Planning Minister

I believe in the expansion because it doesn't not just keep individuals in work but families and many businesses in the Hunter. This effects everyone not just the miners. Their input into charitites and development of the region is critical to sutainability of the surrounding towns. Horse studs only employ 1 out of every 50 where as mining employes 1 in 5 . The environment can be managed by close monitoring of the impacts by environmental scientist and corrective actions put in place if needs be.

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister

I wish to make a submission in SUPPORT of the Drayton South Project. IT IS IN THE INTEREST OF THE COMMUNITY to approve Drayton South. The closure of Drayton Mine will be devastating for my family. Firstly for the fact that my husband will be unemployed being unable to support us & our 3yo son and newborn baby, secondly being forced to move out of the area, which on both sides of my family have resided in the Upper Hunter for multiple generations, to find work or FIFO taking him away from his family. It will also be devastating for the local community putting more people out of work at a time when unemployment is at a high with the down turn in the industry. To needlessly make more people unemployed with the closure on Drayton mine is senseless. It is not only the 500 direct employees, including my husband, that will be unemployed but, as quoted by the Chamber of commerce 4 to 1, 4 people who work as labour hire, suppliers, local businesses directly supported as well as small business in the local community supported by employees living in the local area to every 1 direct employee of Drayton Mine. That's 2500 people that will be unemployed. Drayton provides work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement, as well as supporting local schools, sporting teams, many local charities and community services. Also funding for roads, hospitals and schools will be impacted without the $60 million in state royalties and taxes paid to the NSW government. Anglo American have made massive compromises and are incorporating best practice environmental strategies in order to eliminate any perceived or actual impacts on our neighbours. The revised plan has moved the mine behind the PAC nominated ridgeline in order to achieve this. IT IS IN THE INTEREST OF THE COMMUNITY to approve Drayton South. All we want is a fair go with the project swiftly assessed on its merits based on fact and evidence. Thankyou

Dear Planning Minister

I am an employee at Drayton Coal and so have a vested interest in this decision. My family have been born and raised in Muswellbrook and now work here. There jobs are dependent on continuation of mining in this area. Drayton adds so much to the local economy and to the community and so much more than the horse industry. We have been cohabiting for so long now so why not continue. The revised Drayton South plan has moved behind the planning assessment commissions nominated ridge line, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current background levels, with no discernible change in air quality. All we want is a fair go and a fair hearing to prove the worth and merits of this project. please ensure that the livelihoods of so many local people and businesses is to continue.

Dear Planning Minister

I support the Drayton South Project for many reasons, mostly for employment. I want to see the project go ahead for the future of Muswellbrook but also as I would like to keep my job and not to have to look for work at the age of 52. At my age employment opportunities are limited. Drayton South will secure my employment and that of 500 other people.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality.

Dear Planning Minister

I wish to show my support for the Drayton south project. Drayton coal has been in operation for along time working in with the community on various projects and support schemes. I feel Drayton is one of the lesser disruptions to the surrounding community compared to some of the mines in the Hunter Valley. They offer great training and support to their workers and are an asset to the town of Muswellbrook. I feel if they do not get their approval for the extension this will be a major set back and loss to already suffering Hunter Valley.

Yours sincerely,
Paul Hewitt

Dear Planning Minister

The Hunter has already been affected by the downturn in mining with many friends of mine losing their jobs. A number of these people have still been unable to find a job, another 500 jobs will further affect the local economy as not only are these jobs affected but other businesses which depend on these people spending their money. The property market has been affected already and will only continue to get worse without more mining jobs. Mining has always been a part of the hunters culture and should continue to be. We need to make the most of mining while other job sectors grow before we completely cancel out mining.

Dear Planning Minister

The mine extension is so crucial in this time of people suffering in this downturn. Many have left the hunter valley as a result, my partner and i have been worrying for 2 years dreading the day the mine will shut down. We dont want this to happen as his employment at drayton is our security to keep our home and be able to support our 1 year old child, and live in the wonderful hunter valley community which we have come to love as we have been in the valley for 7 years and intend to raise our child here and send her to school here. Job loss would directly affect our family in a negative way, drayton supplies the community with revenue which supports the town, schools and hospitals to function. The mine has put in place and follows all requirements to coexist with the studs as they have been for many years. Do not close the mine. we want to stay and live and raise our children in the hunter valley. regards sheree barringer

Dear Planning Minister

I strongly support the mining industry throughout Australia and the Hunter region. I see daily the devastation that comes with the mining slowdown and blocked approvals. The Hunter region is feeling these affects with many people I know unemployed, with no future outlook for employment due to double digit figures and businesses ruined . For every one person employed in the mines it has a flow on affect to at least 10 people employed. So for a mine site employing 500 employers is blocked this effectively impacts 5,000 and their families. I take particular offense at the rich billionaire horse industry that cries foul constantly but puts so little into the community and employs a fraction of the people.

Dear Planning Minister

I believe in keeping the Hunters mining opportunities open. I see that it creates jobs in the hunter, keeps money within the hunter and helps support families and growth. I live at Cameron Park, a suburb which has grown considerably and I think this is due to the mining industry and the expressway! Keep the hunter alive and growing! Some of the facts below: Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. Dear Planning Minister Drayton Mine is one of our biggest customers and if they were to close it would have a significant impact on our work force here at "Reliable Conveyor Belt" Muswellbrook. We have 12 employees at our Muswellbrook branch, i cant see us keeping that number if Drayton were to close. I have been a local in Muswellbrook for the last 15 years and i have made many friends outside of work who are Drayton employees, but have yet to meet anyone who works in the horse industry, to which i think encourages gambling. So i do hope Drayton South gets the go ahead.

Dear Planning Minister

I would like to see the Drayton South Project get approved for employment to the town. The community will be effected if Drayton was to close. We need to think about the future of small businesses, families relying on the income, sporting groups wouldn't exist nor would schools. The town would be nothing without Drayton supporting the mining industry not only keeps the miners in work and less burden on the government but keeps the towns of Singleton, Muswellbrook, Branxton, Denman and Maitland alive and prospering. We can and still do work alongside the horse studs and I am totally disgusted in all the bullshit these horse studs and there minders keep throwing at our mine, Drayton mine. What have the horse studs offered in return for what Drayton has generously offered? (PAC) = Please accept Coal

Dear Planning Minister

I have worked as a contractor at Drayton South Mine for the past 6 years. Anglo Coal is a strong local employer who provides a safe and viable work place for many residents in the Hunter Region. I believe this mine site is sustainable under the current proposal conditions. While having a minimal effect on other industries in the area, Drayton will provide many jobs for the area well into the future and help sustain the local economy which filters down to other industries in the area. I, personally support the extension of this mine, not just for my family's benefit, but for all the friends and associates who have been recently challenged in the employment market with the severe downturn in the mining sector.

The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer.

Dear Planning Minister

My perspective on this issue is that previously decisions have been made in favour of the wealthy individuals who own the Coolmore and Darley horse stud farms to the detriment of the hard workers who toil on twelve hour shifts performing the hard work to boost the coal industry resulting in a viable economy for NSW. A key point to make in this discussion is that the horse studs established their operations subsequent to the operation of Drayton in full knowledge of the future prospects for the Drayton South expansion. It is obvious that the decision will not only impact those individuals who will become unemployed if Drayton South is not approved, but the surrounding community by way of employment, sustainable business, schools and healthcare. When 500 hundred individuals and their families leave the area due to unemployment at Drayton to seek employment in a places where their skills can be utilised, such as Western Australia, their families will also leave; when services are no longer required for local businesses who service the Drayton coalmine, businesses will dissolve; and when the philanthropic efforts of 500 employees who are involved in regular workplace giving initiatives that support local charities ceases and the substantial donations that Anglo America provides the local community also ceases, local not-for-profits will also suffer. The coal industry creates a vast revenue base through royalties and taxes for the State and Federal Governments, whereas the horseracing industry, in my view, appear to pay very little in taxation. Why would the State Government pass the buck and allow the PAC committee that is looking after the big end of town, mess up the State economy for an industry that supports the detriment of our communities by providing a forum for gambling and animal cruelty. It would appear that the future of New South Wales will rely on horse racing, casinos, poker machines and Keno, to the detriment of truly rural and regional pursuits.

Dear Planning Minister

I in support for Anglo Coal Drayton South Project. The company I work for - Tutt Bryant supplies Drayton with cranes and trucks. If Drayton closes then other local companies may have to cut down on employees. 500+ local people out of work means people leaving the area making houses unsellable due to no one buying. Local shops will suffer due to less working people in the area. Horse studs and mine sites have lived side by side for years. What's changed? Why can't we co-exist? I have friends in the horse industry and they have no problems with the mines. They understand that sporting teams/events won't be supported plus everything else the mines do in the area.

I support the Drayton South project as it is critical to the local Hunter community and the economy. Without this project 500 jobs will be lost along with work for 140 local business and $50 million a year in local procurement. The economic benefits of this project to the local community far outweigh the impact on the horse studs which oppose its approval. Further the economic benefits for NSW include $60 million in state royalties and taxes per year which likely exceeds that generated domestically by the opposing horse studs. This income could be reinvested back into NSW transport, health care and education systems for the benefit of the local and broader community.

I wish to submit my support for the Drayton South project. As a previous resident of Singleton - having moved away to maintain secure employment, I still own a residential house in Singleton. I am fearful of what may happen to the residential housing market should applications such as Drayton South not be approved. Singleton as a region needs mining to continue to ensure that there are secure jobs in the regions, that local business remain profitable and that the local housing market does not crash further. Additionally I would like to return to Singleton and continue to raise my family in the area but to do so need to be able to obtain long term and secure employment. Again Singleton needs mining to continue to ensure that there are long term and secure jobs in the area. Please approve the Drayton South application.

Dear Planning Minister

My company sub contracts to Drayton and without the approval our company will possibly be forced to make the majority of our workforce redundant. When you allege 500 Drayton employees will be without employment, you forget to add all the sub contractors, who will no longer be required. At least 1500 employees will be without work. Not 500 as you state. Then you take into account all the small businesses which will halve their workforce or close completely. Mining was here long before the horse studs and the horse studs DO NOT support the community at all, nor do they employ all local people. Mines create jobs. horses promote gambling. What would you prefer? I support the mines and yes I live in Muswellbrook on a small acreage overlooking Drayton, Mt Arthur and Bengalla. APPROVE DRAYTON SOUTH or Muswellbrook will be a ghost town as nobody will be able to afford to live as they will not have employment. My husband and I will both be without a job and we both sub contract to Drayton. Another example of how the 500 you quote is incorrect.

Dear Planning Minister

I work for Tutt Bryant Heavy Lift & Shift, who are located in Muswellbrook and we have a long proud history of servicing Drayton Mine providing crane and transport services. All our employees and their families are locals, with many of our employees considered 'true' locals living in Muswellbrook Region all their lives, as did their parents and grandparents. The mining downturn has significantly affected our business and most importantly, our people because there is no longer job security and many of our fellow workers have lost their jobs and have no local re-employment prospects to keep their families supported. Our company has recently had to significantly reduce our workforce to survive in this economic climate and proposals like the Drayton South Expansion Project give our company and our people hope that if they are approved we might not have to reduce our workforce further or ultimately close our gates. Our people believe it is the local people of the Muswellbrook Region who know what is best for our region, and we know ongoing developments like the Drayton South Expansion project that will keep us employed and keep us local, where our families are well established, that is best for our community.

Dear Planning Minister

Drayton has been a significant employer to the upper Hunter communities for 30 years. It's community support in projects and events goes beyond financial support. The people who work at Drayton, are the community. So their contribution to the community is real and heart felt. The mining industry provides not just the jobs directly, but the associated employment in the area is greatly strengthened through the employees and families in mining.

I support the extension of Drayton South believing that co-existence can exist between mine sites and horse studs. Dear Planning Minister

Although an non-dom and on a selfish motive I have family and friends that work in NSW mining and if this application isn't approved their jobs and outlook will be put in Jeopardy. On the bigger picture the approval of the application will inevitably serve the local community in jobs and commerce that will in turn help maintain local infrastructure, as well as maintaining and possibly improving social and leisure services and facilities in the area and profits of providers of the same. This will benefit all in the area but especially the young in the long term that may well be able to stay in the area if employment opportunities are available. It is very important that any decision must serve the majority and not any minority lobby.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Workers, families, local community, local businesses, government and many more people will suffer if the Drayton south project is not approved. The government will not only lose $ directly from Drayton's but indirectly from businesses having to close due to no customers. Surrounding towns will die..... The rejection of the mine doesn't only effect the 500 employees it effects the whole town, the whole Hunter Valley, starting from the new baby to the elderly people in the town, the small businesses to the large, everybody is effected one way or another. So I fully support Drayton South for the future because without their ongoing support to their employees, fundraising, community service, the hunter will no doubt suffer from the consequences of no Drayton South.. Dear Planning Minister,

As a Muswellbrook resident, it is critical that the Drayton South project be approved. Drayton South is crucial to the local economy with regards to keeping local people employed, providing work for other local businesses (and their employees) and ensuring local schools, sporting teams and other local charity/community groups receive continued support through donations/contributions. Without this project, Muswellbrook and surrounding communities will suffer. Please approve the Drayton South project.

Dear Planning Minister,

I have lived and worked in the Hunter Valley for over 35 years. In that time I have seen the Drayton mine support many community initiatives, with both financial and moral support. In that time I have NEVER seen the horse racing industry support anything other than their own race days where the strip money off the punters who are silly enough to attend. If the horse studs want to leave the Hunter Valley, I say good riddance. I will never again vote for any political party that costs miners and ancillary trades their jobs.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am a strong supporter of mining in the Hunter Valley and believe very passionately that the Drayton South project should go ahead. The Drayton mine has been part of the local community for years. The site directly employs a very large number of people and indirectly a lot more. You don't have to look far to see the devastation that is being caused by mines shutting down in the Singleton area. This site provides employment and direct revenue to the government but more than that it provides a career and lifestyle to a large number of families. I live in Singleton and my kids go to the Singleton High School. I am a proud community member and want to see everyone in Singleton share in the benefits mining & the Hunter Valley have to offer. Please approve Drayton South. Regards Darryl Messenger

Dear Planning Minister,

Many people are depending on Drayton south going ahead as it supports a massive percentage of the hunters income. Without Drayton South, people lose their jobs, houses and way of living. It doesn't effect just the miners but the smaller business' around the area. The business' around this area depend on the miners and their money to keep our towns running and our way of living in tact.

Dear Planning Minister,

As a current employee of Drayton, this mine desperately needs to be approved. The revised mine plan has been moved back behind the Planning Assessment Commissions arbitrarily chosen ridgeline, ensuring the mine will not be seen, will not be heard and will not make a discernible change in air quality to the horse studs. We employees have been open about wanting to coexist with the horse studs and believe this is a successful outcome. The horse studs threats to close if Drayton South is approved are idle and not reported in the legal financial reporting documentation under the accounting standards. Drayton South is also critical to the community and local economy. The mine helps support numerous local organisations and sporting clubs. There are 500 people's jobs on the line with the project approval along with ongoing work to 140 local businesses, $50 million in procurement and $60 million in state royalties and taxes which are funnelled back into community needs like roads, hospitals and schools. We need Drayton South approved and based on the facts and evidence, it already should have

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Drayton South is a critical business within the community of Muswellbrook, Singleton, Branxton, Greta and Maitland. Drayton South provides disposable income for 500 families. The employees then spend this money within the local area which supports businesses. Drayton South supports our local schools, without this mine people will leave the community and hence children will leave the schools. Without Drayton South the community will feel the knock on effect. I support Drayton South

Dear Planning Minister,

Having lived in Muswellbrook for 5 years i was always used to a bustling community, locals supporting the small business', I watched as new housing estates seemed to pop up over night as the town grew so fast. I went over seas last year and when i came back i almost didn't recognise the town. The growth had completely halted, empty housing lots sit as a testament to how rapid it was. Muswellbrook is a husk of what it used to be, its almost a ghost town, with empty shop fronts and more jobs being lost every week due to the loss of revenue that the miners would normally bring. If Drayton South don't get this expansion, not only will the towns around it suffer, but the people that are trying to live there as well, who rely on the money the miners spend to keep their business' open and their children fed.

Dear Planning Minister,

Dear Sir I am writing to you in support of the proposed Drayton South mining expansion. As a community Muswellbrook needs this mine expansion to be approved. What people fail to understand in the big offices, is that this town and community is bleeding. We are local business owners and have been for 16 years, as well as being interactive in local community in many ways. HOWEVER over the last few years with the downturn in mining and coal prices the demographics of this little town have changed. We have increasing problems with drugs (predominately ICE) and because of the multitude of empty houses we are attracting unsavoury welfare recipients by the truckload because housing is so cheap because the contractors have left town. The NSW Planning people need to be very very careful when making their final decision. Shops are closing down in the shopping malls, they're half empty. The reason is? No trade, certainly not like 2 years ago and businesses just cannot afford to survive. In the last decision one of the points that PAC referred to was that the didn't think it necessary and couldn't understand the expansion was of any use to anyone. REALLY - that's just none sense - it is VITAL to the survival of Muswellbrook. Mining and equine have successfully worked alongside each other in the valley for over 100 years. The fact that the racing trainers, signicates and the like sign a petition is just rubbish. They have NOTHING to do with this area and their lives are not being effected one scrap. Unlike the hundreds and miners and ALL THE ASSOCIATED INDUSTRIES and the community- schools, hospitals, Tafes etc etc. I do hope this decision is fair and in the best interests of main stream Australians and not the elite few who glean their wealth from gambling, thereby destroying thousands of Australian families. Best wishes Fiona Hobden

Our father works at the Drayton Mine, he really likes his job but he is really worried about his future and his fellow workmates future. Without the approval for South Drayton Mine our dad will be out of work. We are 15 & 17 years old and we have never seen our father out of work. He is a hard worker and still only young, not knowing if his future is secure is worrying to all of us. Not only will this expansion save our dad's job it will also continue to support the local communities and many important local charities. The horse studs and mine CAN coexist so please approve the application and save our dad's job.

I am an employee at South Drayton Mine and I have been there for 7 years. It is the best job I have had and I urge you to approve the new application for Drayton South project to help secure my future and my fellow workmates. If the application is approved it will keep 500 employees, including myself, in a job for the next 15 years. Not only will the new expansion secure peoples future's it will also continue to help the local community and local businesses. The mine can continue to coexist with neighbouring horse studs. All we want is a fair go and the expansion to be approved so 500 jobs can be saved and I can give my family a secure future.

Dear Planning Minister,

Coal is still going to play a huge part in the ASustralian economy for years to come and although I support the move to "renewable resources" such as wind and solar, I am not so naive as to expect that it can happen tomorrow. Anglo American are a huge employer in the Hunter with many families depending upon both direct and indirect employment that will be generated at Drayton South. The benefit to the community, State, and Australia that this proposal will bring far outweighs any benefit that could be generated by Coolmore etc. When all is said andy done, Coolmore chose to set up a horse stud in the midst of the coalfields and I see their proposal as expecting an airport to function without aeroplanes because they don't like noise, even though the new proposal by Drayton does address that problem efficiently.

Dear Planning Minister,

The Drayon Mine has been in the valley for a long time and has been the lively hood and future for many families. To see this mine close now is going to affect alot of other things not just families it goes down the chain which are some small and big industries that supply the mine with equipment and services. The horse studs around the area of the mines have been doing quite well in the past and I do not see that with the mine approaching a little closer is going to have that much more of an impact on them. People need to think of others and just not themselves. A change of life style or area to where some people may have to go to seek employment may be more damaging to the families that one could realise. Unemployment is growing fast enough now without adding another 500 or more in one hit

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Dear Planning Minister,

I don't work at Drayton but as a concerned community member I completely support the Drayton South project. I have lived in Muswellbrook for 31 years, my family all live here in Muswellbrook. Over that time Drayton coal (anglo) have supported many community events and charity organisations. Our community and NSW in general can not afford this application not to go ahead, house prices are falling rapidly, depression amongst the community is rising due to the uncertain future of the area. For a multi-national company to want to expand in these times gives a huge shot in the arm for our community. We need Drayton South.

Dear Planning Minister,

As a mining employee of Anglo America Drayton for 32 years I have witnessed the co-existence of our industry with that of the Thoroughbred and several others which rely on our existence. I therefore without doubt support this venture and look forward to continued employment with this company which I have devoted my life for. By supporting Drayton South we will continue to provide necessary employment to our skilled workforce and local service providers which is essential in these times for our local and state economies. I believe everybody that is associated with this project remains positive that commonsense will prevail. This being evident by the response of the public and local businesses toward the benefits we will provide with our future existence. I guess I may sound biased, but I'm a realist, and with the tough times that everybody is enduring in the Hunter Valley I strongly believe we need this mine. Yours Sincerely, Anthony Evans

Drayton South provide work for hundreds of families within the Hunter, these are hard working employees who deserve to keep their positions to support their families. Drayton South provides support for local schools, sporting teams and charities who would hugely suffer from the loss of this support. It has already been shown that changes to the mine would not impact the horse studs and has plans to stay well within the limits for noise and other disturbances. Give our hard working men and women a fair go.

Dear Planning Minister,

We need Drayton South to go ahead for the community, losing the 500 jobs will have a massive effect on the community as families will have to leave the area this would include my family. We do not want to leave the area as I will also have to leave my job but we will have to if Drayton does not go ahead. I was born here in the Hunter Valley and mining has always been here.

Yours sincerely,
Kim Fenton

Dear Planning Minister,

The reason I support Drayton South is because they support their community/ businesses and help improve the community as well. They provide a high amount of income for their employees and more. We should all help support this as it will benefit not only the mining industry but the locals, schools, businesses and more.

Dear Planning Minister,

draytons have employed my dad for 25 years. They also employ now or have employed family members in the past. This is local people with local jobs. draytons have also donated to numerous fundraisers I have been involved in with out the go ahead of drayton south not only will the charities suffer but so will the community businesses surrounding. with 500 ppl set to loose there jobs that's a hole lot of coffees, paper, fuel, bacon n egg rolls, pies n sausage rolls or what ever suit these employes fancy on the way to work from other local businesses. so not only will it harm the drayton workers but the other guys as well.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. •The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. •Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. •The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. •The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. •All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

From what i have heard, Drayton had amended their submission to support the horse studs distance requirements. If this is all good, let the workers keep their jobs and the community still thrive in mining when it is still possible. There is only so much coal around, lets keep the economy going while we can. My father In law is employed by Drayton Coal. It affects not only an individual but a whole family and community. Lets go ahead.

I work in one of the Support companies and we need this and other mining projects to go ahead for the sustainable future of our company - which incidentally employs 400 people. There are also many other support companies that need this to succeed as well. The economic impact is substantial and the Muswellbrook/Singleton economies need this project to go ahead.

Dear Planning Minister,

The mines have enabled the hunter community to grow and prosper. They have enabled other businesses to open in towns of Singleton, Muswellbrook and Scone giving the people a greater variety of shops to patronise. A number of community groups have received valuable assistance and the community has been able to receive a number of assets due to mining contributions to local councils.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am responding in support of the Drayton South project as I believe we need projects like this to have jobs for the present and future ,so long as we need coal for power and export ,It is my view that we keep mining confined to areas where mining now exists until the resource is exhausted then and only then move to other areas such as the Gunnedah basin . The infrastructure exists here so lets continue to use the resource from this area and not just move on and waste it. The end of this project will also mean the end of many hunter jobs and businesses ,this does not need to happen .

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South Project. This mine is already part of the local community and is an important industry for the NSW economy. There are a significant number of examples in the Hunter valley to show that mines can co-exist with other industries. One such example is the successful Muswellbrook Race Club and associated training facilities working within kilometres of 2 mining operations. The Drayton South Project is up against a segment of one industry that is selfish enough that they are not willing to work with AngloAmerican to come to a resolution. The campaign against Drayton South has the potential to significantly hurt the local community and will also be felt across the entire NSW economy. I support the coexistence of mining with other industries.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

I support the Drayton south project because it supports many people in my life either through direct employment or subsequence employment through the supply sector. The loss of this project would have a direct impact on me and my family not only financially but could well split my family as I would be forced to seek employment in another region. Please be fair and honest with yourselves and give Drayton the approval. Regards, Gavin.

Dear Planning Minister,

To Whom It May Concern, The Drayton South project has been developed over an extended period, and has made every reasonable effort to engage with community and business interests in the local area. It has complied with state planning requirements and made a number of amendments to address some challenging restrictions placed upon it. The mine is a critical part of the Upper Hunter community, and it's closure would see many families and businesses disadvantaged further in what is already a challenging time for the local area and the mining industry. The net benefit of operating this mine in the area is significant, particularly compared to the insular and offshore interests of the horse studs that have generated much of the unnecessary friction during the planning and approvals process. The Drayton South project deserves to go ahead, and I support its submission to the NSW Department of Planning and Environment.

Dear Planning Minister,

The Hunter Valley is a mining area. It has been for a very long time and I really do hope it will be for a very long time to come. The job situation is so dire at the moment and it affects all industry and times are extremely tough! This expansion will provide many jobs and security for many families that have been waiting for so long with their heads on the chopping block. I don't think the studs are a valid enough excuse to decline it, not approving it will be too of an impact on our community and we need some positive outcomes badly for everyone to feel like mining is not dying in the valley. Approve it already and let this town get on with what it does best!

And for us the move to Qld from Hunter NSW was inevitable due to the lack of employment there now is for him back there. Not letting Drayton South go through would completely crush millions of families & livelihoods. I cannot begin to imagine why such a huge decision with such a huge impact has been made due to another industry, we all have the right to feed our families & house them, don't take that away from anyone, this economy now days is hard enough. There's got to be a way to work together!!

The mining industry is vital to keep the hunter valley alive. Why move mining to other areas of NSW and disrupt there water tables when the water table in the Hunter Valley is already disrupted. Coal mining is an essential source for the whole world wether we like it or not. Come on NSW government get real and approve these mining extensions in the Hunter.

To whom it may concern I support the Drayton South Project as it will continue the employment of 500 people. The Project will generate vital income for local businesses in a time where the economy is in a downturn. I believe it is important to look after our local communities. Drayton South has shown that they are listening to opposing parties submitting this smaller mine footprint. Environmental studies show that the mine will have no impact on neighbouring horse studs. This mine has been coexisting with other local industries for years, so I think this should continue. Kind Regards Zara Boyce

Dear Planning Minister,

I have personally seen the many ways that drayton supports its community and am fully behind its extension. Our local communities rely on its continuation to flourish. I fear that a loss of this mine will result in further unemployment and depression which ultimately places the whole community at risk. I am aware that drayton has its own race horse in close proximity which is thriving and considering the distance to the horse studs, do not understand how drayton south is detrimental to the stud industry. Many environmental and animal studies have been undertaken to reduce risks and to try to co exist. It angers me that as a local, our studs hold more importance than mining, when drayton is such a fabulous supporter of our community and the horse studs make no contribution. The thought of another 500 families looking for work and possibly leaving the area is damaging for our mining community. I fully support this extension.

Dear Planning Minister,

I work for Rio Tinto, based in Muswellbrook. I strongly believe there is a need for Drayton Mine to continue. The mine and its employees play a really important role in the local community and environment. I have seen first hand the impact of the mining downturn, and if Drayton is not approved, I believe the local community and economy will take a massive hit. I think there needs to be a balance between the land uses. I believe that the current proposal offers this balance - I understand from the assessment that there will be no visibility of the mine from the horse studs, and air quality and noise have been managed to remain consistent with current levels. I hope the PAC reviews the application based on the merits, and considers the facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

To whom it may concern, Possibly no different to a lot of Singleton businesses. Our business is heavy reliant on the mining sector. To lose Drayton South would be another blow to an already fragile Hunter Valley mining community. We also support the horse studs and it only makes sense that the two industries work in cohesion. Drayton South have made considerable adjustments to their submissions to make this acceptable from their side. Why is it that the Horse studs are not doing this from their side, but rather only damning the project. For this to work as a joint "venture" the horse studs need to accept the mining community and provide reasonable evidence that they themselves are doing what they can to make it a successful partnership.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

Good morning I believe there is great opportunity, not only for the 500 people and their families if this job goes ahead, but for the whole industry. With the coal prices going down the entire industry is hurting. This in turn puts more people out of jobs, more competition in the market, more welfare and more pain. With Drayton South operating, not only is it the 500 people and their families that benefit, but so do the people and families of Newcastle and the Hunter. This is through greater job stability, more consumer confidence and therefore more satisfied happy spenders. A new mine also assists in the increased knowledge and development of our many talented Engineers and Operators/Trades. As we lose more and more of these opportunities, the more those people will leave Newcastle and the Hunter and even potentially Australia and go to places where they can find this knowledge, also sending money away from our shores. I see huge benefits in this mine being approved, not only for the people who already work there, but for the rest of us as well. Through job stability and spending and by increasing our knowledge and learning.

Dear Planning Minister,

The mines and Studs have co-existed for many years. The studs knew the mines were there when they came to the area. I find it hard to understand why the well being of horses being raised for racing (gambling) could be potentially put ahead of the livelihood of hundreds of families. While the studs looks lovely and the mines admittedly are a lot harsher to look at the studs do not and never will provide the economic benefits to the community or nation that the mines do. We need this mine to go ahead to save our community.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton has been a positive force behind many community events & business houses throughout their time in the Hunter Valley. Local businesses are always supported with functions & work which must be outsourced to Engineering companies & labour hire when required. Schools, Medical facilities, Sporting Groups & many chairty functions have had continued support from Drayton since its commencement - not just now that they need our support. Horse Industry has also been on the receiving end of the mining support in the form of racing sponsorship for many of their race day events - how two-faced can you be - accept the money but give nothing in return. Mining supports the community far & wide, not so for the horse industry. Give Drayton the support it needs.

Dear Planning Minister,

The Hunter Valley does not just support mining it supports hundreds of mining services companies, that employ engineers, accountants, clerks, marketing people - not necessarily people associated just with mining. It is imperative that the capital projects are allowed to continue in a sustainable manner so support these thousands of mining services roles. Please assess the project on its merits. The mining boom has created a lot of works for a lot of people, especially the contractors that support the mine. Due to the mining down turns there are less works but the number of contactors are still here but without, where do they go. I worked for Ampcontrol and in the last 12 months they have put off about 400 employees (tis is my figure not from Ampcontrol), that is a lot of people to be out of works and this is one company in the Newcastle/Hunter Valley area.

Dear Planning Minister,

I work in a business directly to service the mining industry. Drayton South would open the door to more business opportunity for the business as well as job opportunities for local people. It is of great concern to me the number of business that have closed there doors in recent years. I believe that Drayton South is critical to the survival and longevity of the community that I live in.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South Expansion is critical to the hunter community in providing much needed jobs to hunter mining residence. As we all know many miners have lost there jobs of the last couple of years. But the effected does not stop there. You have many workshops throughout the hunter that have closed down or had numerous redundancies with the mining down turn. Small businesses are not turning over profits. The hunter vallet economy is highly reliant on mining. With out mining there will be no hunter valley. Expand Drayton South to save the Hunter Valley.

Dear Planning Minister,

I have worked at Drayton for nearly 7 years. My young family deserves this expansion to go ahead because two industries should be able to coexist as they have happily for the past 10 years! It is ridiculous to suggest otherwise. The PAC's previous decision to suggest the expansion wouldn't be a good decision in the 'publics' interest' as it is a mining area already and has been for one hundred years. We know all the facts and figures in regards to mining and the money it brings to our local and national economies and they are miles above what the racing Industry contributes comparatively. Quite simply, let's cut the crap and co exist!!!

I am the wife, mother and small business owner that will be directly affected by the expansion of Dratyon South. My family has been apart of the Drayton Family for nearly 7 years, and having a young family we need the security of my Husbands future with Anglo coal to be a bright one, and for this, we simply need the expansion to be approved. To us it seems very clear after reading all literature on both sides of this ongoing battle between industries, we see no logical reason why both industries cannot continue, and I repeat, 'continue' to coexist!!

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton has employed my father for over 20 years and also my mum for 6 years it has been not just a workplace but a family as I have grown up around many of the staff that are still there. My mum fell sick with Multiple sclerosis last year and has been off since then, Drayton has been extremely supportive throughout this time to both my mother and father. I honestly do not know what my dad would have done if he was at another workplace with needing time off to care for my mum. Not only does Drayton support it's workers but also the community in funding many schools, charities and sporting without out them Muswellbrook and the surrounding communities would suffer. Drayton is not just a mine it's a family.

Dear Planning Minister,

The bottom line for the opposition to Drayton South by two horse studs is based solely on the argument of not in my back yard. It is an argument founded on the visual impact of a mine that was in existence long before the arrival of these two studs. It is akin to buying next to an airport and complaining about the noise. Drayton is vital to the communities of Muswellbrook, Singleton and surrounds which are already being severely impacted by the current downturn in the mining sectors. The horse industry despite their inflated claims of job and wealth creation cannot overcome the economic and personal hardship that will occur should the Drayton project be declined. Please consider the importance of the local people and communities who depend upon Drayton.

Dear Planning Minister,

I would like to give my support to the revised submission for Drayton South and the mineworkers at Drayton Coal. The company actually contributes not only to the state of NSW via enormous tax paid by the company, and the workers, but also contributes to the communities surrounding the mine. Environmental factors have been dealt with in this submission as per PAC's required standards. The contribution to the towns of Muswellbrook, Singleton and Denman by miners and their families are enormous and the impact of unemployment of miners on the economy of the Hunter Valley has caused untold harm to the local communities. Please consider the support that mining gives to our local communities, businesses, contractors and the local economies and our local and state governments. The horse studs can and have survived in our locale while contributing to overseas economies and paying low wages to employees with minimal input into local and state coffers. Please approve Drayton South and support the Hunter Valley, and New South Wales. regards E Hassett

Dear Planning Minister,

Anglo American has gone above and beyond to minimize the local community and environment impact associated with the Drayton South project. The latest changes to their plans further reduce these impacts, though at a cost to the benefit the local economy could have had under the original plan. I think they have done enough to deserve the broad support of the NSW government, and should be allowed to move forward with the project.

The changes to Drayton South project will NOT have any adverse impact on the horse studs which ensures that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. Drayton is a huge supporter of local schools, charities, sporting events, and community services. The huge benefits of Drayton South include injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the NSW Government annually - which the Government desperately needs!! This money can go towards hospitals, roads, schools etc. Drayton South will not be visible from operating areas of neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within current levels with no change in air quality! Subject: I support Hunter mining families

Dear Planning Minister,

Good afternoon Please look at the bigger picture and the flow in effect. The hunters private hospital is feeling the effect as it conducted elective surgery on many miners and their family members, however since the mining lay offs people are leaving their health fund. I'm sure I don't have to explain the impacts on both the private and public health systems, or the staff of these facilities as it's clear to see the horrific flow on effect leading to potential deadly consequences. I also feel the effect to small business and communities are very clear. How can with of those survive and prosper with declining numbers and less money being put into them. Where will the money come from to support all of these workers and their families? Centrelink? If the mine should not go ahead where will the billions of dollars it pays taxes come from? Yes these hard works do deserve to keep their workplace and employment as a horse should not be more important than a human being and family. Please look at the real picture of what the mine does for the community, for the state and for the country. Look at how much money the mine brings to the government and to the community. Please look into to runnings of the horse studs and the industry as a whole, in particular what it really brings to the community and Australia and not just believe the propaganda they are falsely showing as reality. Think of the families, if the mine extension is wrongfully denied who is going to explain to the children why birthdays are non existent or that Santa missed them or that food isn't in the pantry as much? Will you say it's because an animal is more important than their parent or that parents job. Allow coexistence to prevail and allow the newly revised plan to go ahead. Have a good look and realise how far away it is from the studs and how invisible it will be. Regards Shelley

Yours sincerely,
Shelley Ramsey

No one wants to see an environmental disaster from a poorly managed project, however we need to maintain industry and jobs for our people. The environmental management plan put forward is sound and the company have a good record for their work done to date, so there is no valid reason for rejecting the application. Dear Planning Minister,

It is nonsensical that in today's current economic climate that a proposal such as this is not allowed to proceed. Especially where there are no practical reasons (environmental or otherwise) to do so. What sort of message does this behaviour send out to other potential investors in NSW? If the NSW government can't get simple decisions like this correct then what hope is there for a prosperous economic future.

Dear Planning Minister,

Support our community. Support the 500 families who will be jobless if this project is denied the right to go ahead. Support an industry that provides unparalleled revenue to our State and National purses, and unrivalled community support. Our community needs this. Those families working at Drayton, the people employed in support industries, need this. They need an income. They need to be able to prop up our local economy. It should be considered that the majority of Drayton's current employees live locally. This is much more than can be said for other mines in the area, where a huge number of their personnel travel from as far as Newcastle to earn a mining income and return to spend their earnings in bigger regional centres. That's not the case with Drayton. Their employees buy their groceries from the local supermarket, they have their babies in local hospitals, they send their kids to local schools. This project deserves your support, because these people deserve your support.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am a born and bred local of the Upper Hunter Valley. The equine and coal industries have always coexisted in harmony, and will continue to do so under the expansion of Drayton's operations with the Drayton South Project. I believe Coolmore and Woodlands are issuing empty threats when they say they will move their operations elsewhere if the project proceeds, because the direct impacts on their operations from the expansion are non-existent. The Equine Health Assessment Report 2015 findings confirm this. Points made by Matthew Stephens in his Nov 5 article in the Financial Review need to be taken into account by PAC. How can two companies who contribute almost zero to our state and national purse be allowed to influence (and in my opinion bully) the powers whom decide the fate of over 500 local families? It has to be remembered by those making this decision the massive impact their resolution will take on these families. 500. This is no small consideration! That may well be 1000 children, whose parents will be without a job. Wives and husbands of those employed who will be forced to pick up the slack of the family's financial obligations should their partner lose their job as a result. And what about the indirect impact a refusal of this submission would have? The retailers, service providers and the real estate market who will all suffer from these newly unemployed community members. The NSW Department of Planning and a Environment have to do what's right here. They have to support a community already on their knees due to the we weakening of the mining industry as a whole. Support those families. Support our community. Support Drayton South.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South extension. Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

Our family just was involved in a Survey conducted by Coolmore. They asked some very one sided question with less than truthful facts. The new proposal won't be seen and is more than 900 meters away from the studs, we corrected them accordingly. This survey cannot be tacked seriously. All the community others who rely on this mine for income asked for the decision be made on the facts, NSW owes the community and employees that. We support Drayton South Coal Project.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South expansion, because fundamentally this is about an existing mine, wanting to continue operations on land they have owned for many years. The mine has been in operation for more than 30 years and those 30 years are proof it can co-exist with neighbours. The neighbouring Coolmore property was purchased in 1991 and Darley purchased in 2008. Both these thoroughbred studs were both fully aware that there was a fully functioning open cut coal mine as their neighbour and they proceeded with their purchase. They were both fully aware of the land that Anglo owned and the coal licences they held on that land and they proceeded with their purchase. For the horse studs to now run a campaign, stating they can no longer co-exist, is a bit like moving in beside an airport and demanding the airport close; it's not reasonable. The factionalism and at-any-cost-campaign style is also unreasonable. The campaign by the horse studs has become an anti-mining campaign and the local community and its people has become a casualty. I fully support Drayton south

Apprenticeships for our youth where unemployment is already high. I have lived in Muswellbrook all my life 51y. I am a third generation miner & mining has been a big part of this region for all those years. Drayton has co--existed with the horse studs all its mine life & I am sure both industries can co-exist in the future for the good of the region. I hope Commonsense prevails.

Dear Planning Minister,

To the NSW Department of Planning and Environment The people of the hunter need Drayton South just look around the towns of Muswellbrook and Singleton and you can see what the down turn in the industry has caused with businesses closing all around and the unemployment rate rising. The plain facts are Darley and Coolmore bought their studs knowing that there was a future mine on that site. We need to support local jobs we don't need to support some multi billionaire Sheik who does not give a care about NSW mineworkers or their family's. Darley and Coolmore give nothing to the community they pay no tax and gambling is destroying peoples lives, Drayton South has done everything to make sure there is no adverse impact on the studs. All I ask is that you do the right thing for the hunter workers and give Drayton South the go ahead as it deserves. We know Darley and Coolmore can co exist with the mine other wise they would never have purchased their land knowing Drayton South would one day become a mine. Regards

Dear Planning Minister,

The project should go ahead for numerous reasons. To boost the local communities is the main reason in my eyes. There are so many unemployed people looking for work already in this area that come into my office begging for any shift that can be made available. Also, the PAC requested Anglo reviewed the previous submission to reduce the size of the mine, along with many other components. These have all been addressed by Anglo. There is now no reason why it should be knocked back. The horse studs employ a small fraction of the community compared with the mines, get them to move.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton is a really important part of the upper hunter community, employing over 500 workers and thousands of local contractors and businesses benefit from it been a working and productive mine. Although I don't work at drayton, I do work in the local coal industry and mi believe that a fall in tide lowers all ships. The sole opposition to the Drayton project is purely the loud voice of an very small, vocal minority. I feel that this is a class war brought on by a small band of oligarchs intent on demonstrating their power and influence over our society. Some of these people profit from irresponsible industries such as gambling which do not benefit society. If the horse racing industry really was genuinely concerned about equine health, they would not have shot two horses after last years Melbourne cup. As a resident of the upper hunter, I don't believe that the local industry should be dictated by the likes of GErry Harveyand Gay Waterhouse. Gerry Harvey and Gay Waterhouse do don't live in the area and are not affected. By the loss of hundreds of jobs.

Dear Planning Minister,

I live and work in the region, and like many others we understand the need for all industries to co exist. My employer Blackwoods supplies to the mines, but we also supply to a wide variety of other businesses. Mining is a key component and without it we are going to lose jobs and services. As the Manager of the nearest Blackwoods branch I can assure you that this valley needs mining and we need Drayton South

Dear Planning Minister,

Being a Hunter Valley local, involved in the Industrial and workplace supply of safety and other equipment, and being proud to call Drayton a customer of my business, I would like to add my perspective to the expansion of the facility. I live in the region, my family lives in the region and like many others we are cognisant of the need for coexistence and sustainability of various industries in the Hunter. My employer, Blackwoods, supplies the mine, but we also supply vintners, horse studs, construction companies, hospitals, hotels, transport and utility companies, Universities and Colleges and numerous other organisations, which gives us a unique perspective of how interdependent Hunter businesses can be on each other. As the Manager of the nearest branch I can assure the relevant authorities we will work diligently to minimise the impact of our product deliveries, further reduce waste at our branch and at the site, and to work with the Drayton expansion team on their environmental program including offering dust suppressants and a range of Greener Workplace Products.

I support Drayton South! Muswellbrook and the surrounding communities need Drayton, we need it for the 500 jobs it provides we need it for 140 local businesses it supports. Our communities are really suffering from the mining downturn and here is a mining company willing to provide jobs and funding to our community and they are trying to be stopped by horse studs that wish to make no compromise' they won't the jobs to be lost and funding gone forever. Coexisting has happened for many years why can't it continue?

The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

I think mining is able to work alongside other industries within the community. I for one have lived in the Hunter Valley and found that mining is NOT the most disruptive of industries and in fact works very hard to be an integrated part of the community. I can't count the number of Anglo sponsored community events I have seen or been a part of. In particular I would like to mention the many times the IT department has made life changing donations of equipment to community groups, especially the hospital and schools. I think Drayton South should go ahead, not just for the 500 employees who would otherwise be without a job, but for the community at large. It would be a great loss to see Anglo leave the Hunter after so many great years.

Dear Planning Minister,

Muswellbrook needs jobs. The community has received a kick in the guts as the arse dropped out of coal over the last eighteen months or so. By opening up this new resource, the spurs will be dug in deep to kick-start our local community's economy. There are so many spin-offs that are created by mining. I was part of that, as I built locomotives for the Queensland coal industry, not to mention coal wagons, electric motors and drag lines. You name it, the mining industry can generate it - jobs that is. And not just for miners. That's why I support mining in the Hunter Valley. Just one thing though that I'd like to see rectified here, the roads are atrocious. The NSW government needs to get it's finger out and fix the damn roads. Queensland country roads are much better. I was shocked as I drove around here. But if the damn government is so intent on being corrupt, then the people will suffer with bad roads and other services. And young people will die as a result. Also, I'm not impressed with fascist multinational companies either, scum bags mostly, but I'm not writing this for those leeches. No, it's the people of Muswellbrook that need this mine. And I hope it will become a reality. Cheers. www.britishfortress.com

Dear Planning Minister,

Since the downturn in the mining sector muswellbrook and surrounding areas are like a ghost towns. We need the jobs that Drayton South will provide, not only for the mining industry but for the whole area. Im not usually in favour for new mining projects but Drayton South is only an extention on land that Drayton has own for many years and have owned for a lot longer then the horse studs have been there.

As a new resident to Singleton and a new worker to the mining industry I cannot state enough how much this project means to the community. That Drayton has been willing to go to such lengths to support social and environmental concerns just highlights their commitment to both. Dear Planning Minister,

With the Australian economy in slow decline and having been witness to so many of my friends now losing their entire homes and possessions, this project would represent a reprieve from the difficult situation most of us in the Hunter find ourselves in. We want to work hard to have a secure future, and prove that our mining industry can be competitive in the global economy. We are proud of our community, our culture, and most of all to be part of this naturally gifted country. PLEASE revise this decision and give people in the Hunter the opportunity to move forward and grow for the future, don't condemn us to a long life of government handouts and free housing. It is simply in the governments best interest to allow this project to continue.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. ridgeline

Dear Planning Minister,

I have grown up in a family that has been involved in mining from a uncle that was a OCE ... My father still work as a step up OCE and I now work in the mines driving trucks ... I understand that maining is not for everyone one but I bet if u ask the guys and girls and there family from Drayton south they all have there only little story why they work in mining and for u to take a way apart of the mining industry you are taking apart of them ... The family's and husband and wife's that work out at Drayton South have given there blood sweat and tears to that company and will continue to do so for the rest of there lives... Closing Drayton South is and always will be killing part of the hunter valley... It's not right and it should not be closed ... I don't work at Drayton South I work in a different mine but once u work in the mining industry it doesn't matter who u work for we are all one big family and we all will stand behind Drayton South and will continue to do so ... Thank u

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. I personally have been affected, this goes well beyond the direct jobs and businesses into the wider community. as of this week I am now unemployed as a single mother of two children. The indecision and resulting fear have drastically affected people's spending habits, so my business is closing.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

Because it will support 500 jobs in the community and the company supports the communities in which it operates. The horse studs don't contribute back to the community.

Dear Planning Minister,

I strongly support drayton south.the hunter needs mining and the horse studs need to co exist with this to build a strong economy for nsw and the hunter.There are so many more jobs in jeopardy if this doesn't go ahead. I am in the retail business and alot of these small business in the area are already affected by the down turn in the area next they will have to close as well leaving even more people out of work.The horse industry are using scare tactics to get the public on side instead of the facts the truth is there are no good reason they can't co exist.The mining industry even sponser their racing events so clearly they want co existence personally I think mining should pull their sponsorship if they can't work together and give the money back into the community instead of the horse industry

Dear Planning Minister,

As a retail store manager we as a town need the extension to go ahead . Since the down turn in mining our shire has taken a hit with people losing there jobs in mining and those who work for companies that deal in mining. With people moving away from our once thriving town where you couldn't even find a home to rent. Now there are as many for sale as there are for rent. Shops are closing and school numbers are down . Unemployment is high , we as a town need the extension please for the survival of our town .

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton south is important part of nsw economy and an essential industry as steel production and thermal coal. And pays a high wage to its workers Horse studs are built on gambling industry and owned by over seas interests that don't pay tax and mainly employ backpackers on a low wage.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to the whole Hunter Valley community because it provides jobs for local people who spend their income in the local community to help boost employment in other businesses and provides business to many small operators who service the mining industry. The mine also provides funding via Resources for Communities funding to local government areas. The area is already suffering from the fall in mining employment and there are too many vacant rental properties that owners would lose money on if they sold. Mining and the horse industry has been working side by side for many years and can continue to do so. The owners of these horse studs do not contribute near as much to the economy and community as the mines do. It would be a very sad thing to see the mine extension knocked back again and detrimental to not only my family but many others including the families of all the employees of the mine and the families of the people who have businesses that service the mining industry. Without these families there would be a severe downfall in spending in the region and therefore a further decline. Anglo American has met all the recommendations for the PAC in this submission and it should definitely be approved. This cannot happen soon enough.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton and every other mine in the hunter is crucial to the survival of the hunter, it isn't only the employees of Drayton that will be effected, my company and many other companies in the hunter valley will be severely effected, and I believe everyone deserves a fair go although I have heard rumours that these horse stables in the hunter valley are owned by different nationalities which isn't a bad thing at all, Except if they are taking their profits out of our country. My company contracts to several mines in the hunter and we are all striving our hardest to reduce any environmental impacts Please help protect the hunter community and their employment

Dear Planning Minister,

I would like to provide my positive support for the continuation and expansion of mining at Drayton South. No effective base load of energy will be readily available across the planet until 2050. Anthropogenic contributions to green house are still on a very small scale to the extent that there is satisfactory time to be conservative in the management of such concerns. We are just learning of the rate of exchange between plant life and carbon dioxide. It should also be recognised that the currently level of CO2 in the atmosphere is at 200 to 300 parts per million and that the ideal level as has been proven of the past is 1500 parts per million. It is important that we do not permit alarmists to hijack the agenda, what is of most concern is the power the horse lobby have over such an industry. Let us not forget the Horse industry is also a corporate and the outcome is always in favour of growth on return, I do not see the extent of safety, environment and sustainable processes and innovation that the mining community bring for the benefit of all Australians.

Yours sincerely,
Peter Sumner

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South project should go ahead to save the 500 jobs. The hunter valley needs these projects like this to support the local community. I beleive if not approved this will have a desvastating affect on the hunter and put at risk 140 local buisnesses, Royalties will be lost, schools and other recreational facilities will suffer.

The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

Please support the Drayton South extension. This mine supports 500 direct employees and numerous other indirect community members of the Muswellbrook area through supported businesses. The Muswellbrook and surrounding area has already been hit by high unemployment and very high youth unemployment. This community is suffering, local businesses are struggling to survive. Many community members are dealing with immense stress, due to uncertainty of their employment. We cannot continue to add to this. The Drayton Mine and the local horse industry can co-habitat. Muswellbrook township does it with all the surrounding mines. The local farmers have been doing it for years. Let's work together for a sustainable coal and horse industry. Please support the Drayton South extension.

Dear Planning Minister,

The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools.

The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

Put plainly, the Hunter Valley Community is suffering due to the current status of the mining industry, i.e. many cut backs both in employment as well as services as well as very unfortunate closures. To close Drayton and all but put an end to the livelihood of the immediate employees and their families (i.e. HISTORY OF NO LESS THAN 31 YEARS), as well as placing the many service providers who are affiliated and heavily reliant on Drayton for survival, spells CATASTROPHE. I applaud Anglo Americans and Drayton on their campaign, especially in light of their complete transparency from the very beginning right through to today. It is not only the immediate employees and associates of Drayton but the entire Community who will suffer the immediate and long lasting effects should the wrong decision be made.....please.....Drayton MUST remain.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South provides employment for local people, many with young families. To close down the mine would mean not only unemployment but families having to uproot children move them away from schools, sporting clubs and friends. The community would suffer and there would be a major impact on other industries in the area.

Dear Planning Minister,

As a local business owner & a local born and breed in Muswellbrook, Drayton has always been a part of the local community, and has brought jobs and stable employment to a lot of locals. Unlike a lot of other mines in our area whom employ a lot of people from Maitland Cessnock etc. Drayton employs mostly locals who spend their hard earned in the local area supporting local business. Drayton mine has never affected Muswellbrook with dust & visual impacts unlike some of the bigger pits that are built so very close to the township. As an estate agent I have noticed the coal down turn has hurt the area greatly, with rents returns dropping, vacancies and properties harder to sell. The Drayton decision is causing a lot of uncertainty in the local community and is effecting the market accordingly with lots of people just waiting to see the government's decision on the matter. Our local area has brought so much wealth to the NSW economy, now is not the time to kick us when we are down.

Dear Planning Minister,

The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence. Because this clearly did not happen last time with the 3 biased pac members.

Dear Planning Minister,

Anglo American has bent over backwards to satisfy the concerns of the horse studs. The mines were in the area long before the horse stud farms were developed. Drayton South (and mining in general) provide a huge economic benefit to the towns and the state. If 500 jobs are lost, there will be lost tax revenue and greater burden on social assistance system, as well as the loss of revenue from the mine. Mining won't affect the horses, that has been proven. all industries can co-exist in the Hunter. Please consider the facts and approve Drayton South.

Dear Planning Minister,

The Hunter Valley and Muswellbrook in particular is doing tough due to the downturn in mining, if Drayton closes that's 500 people out of work that's devastation for Muswellbrook, the so called horse studs aren't going to employ those 500 people nor pay anywhere near the wages that support this community, the studs are about the minority at the top, mining is about supporting the whole community.

I support Drayton South. I work in the mining industry training operators. I support it not only for the work opportunity that may arise from the approval of Drayton South but for the saving and creating of jobs for local people. Also for the flow on of businesses in the local area. My wife works for one of these businesses and it would give peace of mine for continuing business opportunities. Also the devastating effect that the loss of hundreds of jobs would have on the local community. Also the $ that would be added to the state revenue for the export of coal from this project. Please approve Drayton South. The notion of having no mining within 10 kms of a horse stud is ridiculous. I have horses and live between Drayton and Muswellbrook Coal and there are NO adverse effects to my horses.

Dear Planning Minister,

I definitely support the Drayton South expansion. Mining has supported our great nation for decades, and there is NO reason that should prematurely end this mine. I was born and raised in Singleton and have lived here my whole life. My family have been farmers, graziers, miners and during those decades, each and every industry has managed to coexist. The future of our nation hinges on the decision to be made. I am proud to support the Drayton South expansion, as this will ensure that my family and friends will be able to continue their lives in and around the Singleton and surrounding areas for at least another generation. It is vitally important to ensure a harmonious relationship between the existing horse studs and the mine (which has been achieved for many years to date). However, the sheer magnitude of the on flow effect of the expansion not being approved is something that I could not and would not like to consider. Lives of hundreds/thousands of families would be destroyed, putting hundreds of people into unemployment - this would place an incredible strain on the nations economy. Singleton, Muswellbrook and surrounding areas are so heavily geared to supplying the mines with resources that thousands more small businesses would be forced to shut their doors. There has been such an incredible downturn in the industry recently and the effects were noticeable almost immediately. Small business closed their doors, people being forced to move to seek work, school numbers decreasing, no little luxuries for families or attempting to sell their homes (in a time when people are too scared to buy) as there is no certainty with their jobs). The right decision is there to be made - approved the expansion. Guarantee thousands of jobs. Keep small business running (they represent a massive portion of the nations's economy). Keep families together. Strengthen the housing sector. Keep the states hospitals and schools the best they can be.

Dear Planning Minister,

Sir/Madam I have lived in the Hunter Valley for over 45 years (I'm 51yo), along with my family, and extended family. I remain, as always, an active participant within our community, and have never suffered from ill health whilst working within the mining industry for the last 35 years. I have seen the industry change, and evolve, to meet economic, environmental and social change. The opportunities afforded by my continued employment at Drayton, will ensure both my sons have a continuance of education within the private school system (Knox Grammar School), which unfortunately cannot be offered to them within our regional setting. It's not indicative of an educational standard, but based on limited choice, due to size. It represents a once in a lifetime opportunity to form future leaders, with a well-rounded grasp of the highest educational standards, whilst retaining the 'earthly' rural values. The betterment of their lives is what my wife Kelly and I strive, and sacrifice to achieve. Without the Drayton South continuation, this wonderful opportunity becomes unsustainable. It is not a journey we embarked on at a whim, and the realisation of a limited future within this industry has always loomed over our heads, but coexistence and sustainability have been fundamental to the Hunter Valley, and in fact, many regional areas. Please consider the implications, and the dire consequences of not allowing this project to continue, for not only our lives, but a region reliant on the employment and investment large companies, like Anglo America, make within our communities. I see growth and prosperity for our region, with all who share our community, benefitting and thriving both now, and in the future. David Harvison.

Dear Planning Minister,

For us as a community it's very important that Drayton South goes ahead. If another mine closes it will mean more people without a job and more people will be dependent on the government payments. It will also mean that the taxpayer will have to pay more taxes to accommodate those people. There is not a lot of work in the Hunter and we just bought our house 3 years ago. I personally feel that both the studs and the mines can co assist. I'm not against the studs myself but why does the government not look after his people. The mines put so much money into the Community what will happen if Drayton is not approved will the Studs support the Community???? I pray and hope that the Drayton South Project gets approved.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am writing requesting approval of the Drayton South mining project. Of the many reasons to support the approval is the fact that it will help to stabilise the work force and economy in our area because the spin offs are considerable affecting many tiers of the local community. Not only this but the taxes paid by the mines [$60 Million] to the state government benefit the whole state. With the new revised plan designed to lessen negative impact on neighbouring areas surely now the project is in a favourable position for approval. My opinion is that it should go ahead for the community's sake. Sincerely Yours Z Slupik

Dear Planning Minister,

Work for 500 workers equates to sustaining 500 hundred families and provides work for many industries locally and further afield. At this time the benefits far out weigh the disadvantages. The community would suffer quite drastically should the permit be denied, not to mention $60 million loss of royalties and taxes to the state government which could be used to benefit the wider NSW communities. Give them a go ahead.

Dear Planning Minister,

Resources are state owned assets and the royalties that the state receives from these royalties support both the state and local community. AngloAmerican has worked with the horse studs to develop a plan for co-existence and have made significant compromise on 2 occasions now but the horse studs have exhibited no compromise at all. We must do what is best for the State and local community and in this case the approval of Drayton South provides the best outcome.

The town of Singleton is hurting more than ever with the reduction with in the coal industry. My son is in year 11 and this year saw the larges ever return of year 10 students back to school. I believe that this was due to the fact that external work and apprenticeships are significantly reduced because of the uncertainty of not only this extension but other in the area. Singleton council report that youth unemployment is at 20% A walk down the main street tells the full story no one is out the shops are empty the doors are closing.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South and believe the project should be approved as soon as possible. The project is a continuation of the existing Drayton mine and the approval will enable the lawful continuation of work for 500 families, including my family. I am a contractor at Drayton and I see the visible commitment to rehabilitation and minimisation of air quality impacts everyday at the existing coal mining operation. There will be no direct visual or environmental impacts on the Darley and Coolmore horse studs from the ground level because of the sizable ridgeline between the land owners. Drayton supports the local Singleton community and is an exemplary corporate citizen. I wish my family to stay in Singleton and the approval of Drayton South will enable that to happen. The locals support Drayton South and I urge the minister for planning and the PAC to consider the proposal from the perspective of jobs in the hunter valley, continued revenue for the state of nsw through royalties and the granting of an exploration license should mean an economically viable mine can proceed if the impacts are reasonable. Finally Drayton South and the horse studs can co-exist and NSW needs both to prosper. Chris Smith B.E MBA CP (mining)

Dear Planning Minister,

My name is Phung Nguyen and I am currently studying mining and geotechnical engineering at The University of Queensland. I am writing this statement to express support for the Drayton South project. Our country is well developed, modern and is filled with opportunities. I believe the mining industry has significant contribution to the modern Australia. The Drayton South project will provide 500 jobs and continue to provide work for 140 local businesses. Its benefits also extend beyond the local community, by contributing a huge sum of $60 million in state royalties and taxes where it could be used for public infrastructures. I support sustainable mining and I believe in Anglo American leaders to continue to endorse this practice in mining. Multiculturalism and having a fair go are two values that Australia highly endorses. When I arrived in Australia in 2003, I immediately felt these values were and will continue to be reflected upon the people and communities. I believe the Drayton South was not given a fair go and its benefits were neglected in the assessment. I urge the government to re-assess their views on the project and reconsider their positive contributions to the communities. Yours sincerely, Phung Nguyen

I am really hoping something can be done to save Drayton. Coal mining is one of the very few industries that Australia has left and we need to support it as much as we can. I have seen so many mines close over the last 12 months for lots of different reasons and the Hunter Valley is struggling. Anglo Coal supports the local community, so lets support our coal mining industry.

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. • The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. • Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. • The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. • The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. • All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

My wife has a small business in Muswellbrook and I work as a field service boilermaker for Monadelphous Engineering (often at Drayton Mine). We see the benefits of Drayton's contribution to our community on many levels, especially the number of people it both directly and indirectly employs. We need to keep Drayton Mine operating to further benefit both the Hunter and New South Wales economies, and most of all, the families, businesses and community groups that rely on Drayton for their survival. Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer.

Dear Planning Minister,

Jobs are so very important to regional communities and I think that it is important to preserve any jobs, especially ones that have huge direct support for other parts of the community such as mining jobs. With the down turn in the mining industry I think there will be enough mines naturally shutting shop, so where companies are brave enough to expand during this period they should be supported.

Dear Planning Minister,

I strongly support Drayton South & coal mining in the Hunter Valley. Drayton South not only provides direct employment for 500 employees but also indirect employment for many businesses who provide goods and services to support the mine and businesses that benefit from the income earned by employees....as well as royalties and taxes paid to the State Govt. As a business, Anglo American also provides funding for local schools, charities and community services as part of their commitment to sustainably supporting the local communities. Drayton Mine existed when the horse studs came into the area. Drayton Mine is now at the end of its life and Drayton mine is a simple continuation of mining (NOT in addition).....the horses and studs have been profitable for the period that they have co-existed with mining.....it seems unreasonable and illogical to now state that they cannot co-exist with Drayton South..... I work for Anglo American Coal and strongly support my colleagues at Drayton.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South Project. Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. True co-existence means that the Drayton South Project should be approved - it will significantly benefit a greater majority than a small minority of wealthy horse stud owners who thrive on gambling and promoting social issues from gambling.

Dear Planning Minister,

Both my boys rely on coal mines, they work in mining service industries. No coal mines, another two unemployed, another two on welfare. Australia burns as much coal to produce electricity for our homes as we burn petrol/deisel do to power our cars. How would the Australian public react if they were told there is no more petrol for their cars. If there was no more coal to power the basic essentials of life? The water and sewage system requires electricity to provide these essential services. Mobile phone & internet services require electricity to function. We all need coal, whether domestic consumption or to export, it provides for Australia.

It is so important that we keep our mining industry going. When there is a drought in that area, it is so good that there are mining jobs. Families can live together rather than fly in fly out in more remote areas. City people forget how important mining is for all of us.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The mine was there long before the studs, by 20 years!! The land identified for Drayton South Project has been owned by Drayton for 30 years with the intention of being mined once the existing lease ran out. The studs purchased their land knowing full well they were next to a mine. If you buy land next to an airport there should be no surprise when airplanes start flying overhead and landing nearby. What's the difference with purchasing land next to a mine? My husband is gainfully employed at Drayton and would struggle to obtain employment at another mine due to his senior position.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South mine extension. The mining industry is an integral part of life in the Hunter Valley. I understand that mining needs to be able to work side by side with other industries but should a horse stud that pays little to no tax in Australia and does not provide nearly as much employment in the area be given the upper hand? I think not. I am a Kiwi so I have no say in this country but shouldn't a company that pays millions of dollars in taxes and royalties and employs 500 workers be given the support it needs to continue operating. I'm not against horse studs, just businesses that aren't giving back to the community they wish to reside in.

Dear Planning Minister,

Close the mine, the environment is more important than some families dependence on an outrageously high income. They'll have to sell their big houses, big cars, and big boats. The mine is owned and operated by a US company, and they don't care what legacy they leave behind. They'll just rip the earth up and leave. I'm dissappointed the workers cannot see past this. All they are worried about is their huge debt and their motorbikes. If mining continues and the environment is damaged, what kind of legacy are these people leaving for their chileno? I'm tired of this sense of self-entitlement in the mining industry. Maybe these people should get used to living on a more modest income, like the majority of us do. Close the mine, and all others in the region. Mining should be done a long way from these areas.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality.

Dear Planning Minister,

I had the good fortune to live and work in Muswellbrook for 15 years employed by mining organisations including Drayton. The positive economic impact mining has in Muswellbrook and other surrounding communities is measurable. The value they provide, not just for the families who work directly for mining companies but all the businesses that support mining and those who provide services to the local people of the Upper Hunter is very evident. So if we take away the earning opportunities from the 500 Drayton families we create a ripple effect that damages the much broader community and an industry that helps support a state and a nation. Drayton has a long history of its determination and capability to co-exist amicably and cooperatively with others, from traditional owners to local interest groups to government bodies - the workers and their community deserve the opportunity to continue this practice.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South mining project. I was born and raised in Muswellbrook, I believe if the project was rejected it will have a negative impact on the community. Already we have had a large downturn in mining effecting house prices and the investment market, local business etc. the rejection of this project would only make it work. Families had to leave town or be separated in order to find work elsewhere imagine the effect if 500 more people lost their jobs. The horse studs have coexisted with coal mining for many years and Drayton has considered this in there proposal ensuring there will be no adverse impacts on the industry.

Drayton Mine has been a significant contributor to the community in terms of both financial support and spirit. In the current economic conditions where so many miners are being put out of work, to lose another mine to something as simple as government approval would be devastating.

Dear Planning Minister,

I see no reason why the horse breeding and mining industries can not coexist in the region as they have done successfully in the past. Anglo American has made concessions to minimise any impact on the neighbouring horse studs and it is now time for the horse studs consider the local community in which they operate. Regardless of what they think a back bone of the local community is mining which provides employment for many local families, more than the horse studs I would hazard to guess, and supports local industry, again more than the horse studs in my estimation. The horse studs now need to think beyond their own limited interests, consider their local communities and make a concerted effort to coexist with an important industry that existed in the region before they were established.

Dear Planning Minister,

•The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. • The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. • Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. • The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. • The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. • All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

Sustainable Mining is a critical component of Australia's economy and provides multi benefits to the community not least of which is employment. Anglo American has produced a Sustainable Mine Plan which will ensure no adverse impacts on the horse studs - it is time now for the government to do the same to provide security to the community by approving this plan and allowing everyone to move forward.

Dear Planning Minister,

Not a worker on the mine I was part of the project team developing the business case for the development of the additional resources at Drayton South. I was to transition to implementation upon approval of the project. While I did not lose my job as a result of the project denial, I did lose my role on the project, get shifted backwards in the company and ultimately leave a project group and company that I had liked working with and for. The impacts of this go beyond the immediate neighborhood of the mine and those directly impacted by this process. The process governance attached to this project approval process leaves a lot to be desired and engineered an outcome sought by a minority group of notable individuals with limited or tenuous links at best to the area in which the large number of local workers will be displaced. In addition to the Anglo direct spend in the area, there will no doubt be added suppression to the economy if those local families are forced to move elsewhere to continue gainful employment in an industry they have supported for a long time (some of them for more than this generation) The NSW Government and watchdog bodies need to take a serious look at the approval processes being run in that state across the board.

Dear Planning Minister,

As a previous resident of Muswellbrook I can attest to the need for the Drayton South expansion. During my time there I saw local unemployment surge, businesses go into receivership property prices plummet and people leaving the region. If the State Government wants to back up its claim that it supports regional areas it needs large projects like Drayton South to continue to bring employment and money to these areas.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. • The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. • Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. •The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. •The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. •All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

With less jobs on offer, the Upper Hunter is becoming less desirable as a place to live and to raise the family. We moved to the area 14 years ago as it was a good place to raise the family and to have secure jobs, including jobs for the children when they enter the workforce. With more mines closing, the Upper Hunter is becoming less desirable all the time and we wonder whether we made the right decision given that our children are nearly ready to enter the workplace.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

To whom it may concern, Drayton South is critical to the local community and economy, it will save 500 jobs and continue to provide work for a 140 local businesses. The Drayton South plan has been revised to ensure that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the horse studs. Please give the workers at Drayton a fair go. These workers are people who live and raise their families in the Hunter community. Please assess the Drayton South project on merit using all the facts and evidence. Regards,

Dear Planning Minister,

It would be very sad for this mine site to close and 500 people loose there jobs, and the community would also suffer as a result of the mine closure, the government wants to create jobs and we are destroying the mine that provides 500 people with jobs. As a community can't we all come together for the greater cause and support each other at this time, this is the Australian way and lets exercise it.

Dear Planning Minister,

I can't believe that certain high profile individuals in the media could champion 2 horse properties over a low impact mining operation particularly where there is no direct evidence to suggest current or future impact. For the economic and social stability of the region, please support the Drayton project.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support drayton south. With out Drayton south the hunter valley will suffer. I laugh at the winery's and restaurants in the hunter valley who don't support drayton south. If the mine closes and there is no long any money in the region who will drink there precious wine and dine at their precious restaurants. No one will cause there will be no coal miners spending their money in the area cause they will no longer have a job. Not approving Drayton south just doesn't affect the miners and their family's it effects the whole region. I am the general manager of Restaurant and guest house and I know how much out business realise of the support and money of coal miners and their family's.

Dear Planning Minister,

Dear sir/madam I a writing in support of drayton south. I work here and have done so since the commencmebt of my apprenticeship 10 years ago. I love working in the industry and hope to do so for many years to come. However I believe thw horsestuds are very one minded and do no believe in co existence. Are horses more important that people because if I can work in a coal mine for a coal mine for 12 hours a day im certain a horse can live 1000 metres away as well. Recently I drove through the outskirts of muswellbrook only to discover a dairy farm operating successfully right next to a coal mine. Thw inly difference is that the coal owner the dairy farm. Common sense will hopefully prevail.

This project is so important for so many reasons, which have been expressed many times over. I am a former employees at Drayton. I was a contractor and lost my position along with many others last year. If I had the opportunity to work their again, I would in a heartbeat. This company treats the community and its employees well and it will be a devastating loss if the project does not go forward. Mining and horse studs have cohabitated for many years. Dear Planning Minister,

Hi, I support Drayton South. Drayton is huge on supporting and giving to the community and offers so much more to families in the hunter. We all know the mining industry is on an all time low where the majority of mines are cutting jobs, and small mining towns are struggling. It is very obvious that this topic is where it is because of some self centered people with more money than we will ever see in our lifetime think the government can be brought out. Tell me this.. who was here first? Did they not know the area was mining coal which gave the locals jobs and supported communities. I could go on. But I will be seriously disgusted and ashamed on the government if they do not pass this as the community needs jobs! And Anglo are doing more than I would to please these people. We know some politicians have shares in the racing industry, but what about Muswellbrook and the families that work there. It's a no brainer for me. I SUPPORT DRAYTON SOUTH AND HUNTER VALLEY. Don't be bought out by horse people with $. Go buy land somewhere else!!!! Not in the mining area!!!!

Dear Planning Minister,

My role as Branch Manager of a financial institution has enabled me to see how this uncertainty has affected all aspects of our community . My clients are small business, home owners, retailers, school teachers, professional as well as miners . This mine must go ahead to prevent the further job losses and negative community impact. It's not about 500 jobs it's about thousands of families that make up the communities of Muswellbrook, Singleton, Denman , Scone to name a few . The wider impact will affect Upper and Lower LGA . Approval is vital for the survival of this area and whilst other industries operate here it this cannot be a one over the other decision . Anglo have demonstrated a social ,economic and community conscience and the greed of a few should not count for the cost of our local communities .

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. Dear Planning Minister, Drayton south should be given the extension. It bought the land before the horsestuds. It employs the locals and benefits the local businesses within the community. It helps the growth of the economy. Horsestuds support gambling addictions and employ no locals. They give nothing to the community. Employ backpackers to work under award wage. Drayton have compromised the proposal to help horsestuds. What has the horsestuds done other than use money to bribe public. If Drayton does not go ahead what a sad day for Australia. To watch the richest man become wealthier whilst the community become poorer.

Dear Planning Minister,

Having lived in the Hunter Community for several years, mining is an integral support structure for the wellbeing and economy of the area. I have read that the horse studs will not be affected by the extension to the Drayton mine. I feel it is selfish to allow 500 families to lose their jobs when a rich sultan from Dubai wins. Let's improve Australia's economy and allow the extension.

Dear Planning Minister,

Why does the gambling industry (studs for race horses) have priority over an industry that provides export income from the supply of coal for energy and steel making? The project has been drastically reduced in size wasting millions of tonnes of resource. Part of the project could only be seen from the highest points of nearby stud. The power station can also be seen. Studs and mines can coexist. The PAC should have suitably qualified people with some who have experience in coal mining.

Dear Planning Minister,

I believe jobs are tantamount to our community and so I support the extension of Drayton Mine. I am a teacher and have already witnessed the loss of at least two classes since the downturn commenced. This has decreased the size of our school and the loss of a couple of teaching positions. Families have had to move to chase jobs and so interrupt their schooling and lose important friendships. Businesses are suffering making less money and then laying off staff. Businesses have closed and they have been lost to our community. People then lose confidence and go elsewhere for shopping etc. Uncertainty about jobs causes depression. My own husband irrationally and confusingly started worrying about his job security and other things in 2012. Sadly he took his life. I do not want any other family to suffer as my family has. These are but three reasons why Drayton should receive approval. Our community has mining in its life's blood for over a century. It provides more jobs than the horse breeding industry. My rationale jobs over horses any day.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

I am really pissed off with the horse studs and the PAC, Drayton is the only side willing to compromise we had a 27year mine life, had to compromise, then had a 20year mine life, now we are back to 15years and that's still not good enough for them. All the professionals have said the mine will have no impact on the horse studs but they would like to see another 500 jobs lost and added to the Upper Hunters unemployment rate which is already pushing 20%, The studs mainly employ backpackers wont get a job there. I am also cranky about company's paying no tax in Australia. Coolmore & Darley which pay no company tax in Australia, over 75% of there workforce are overseas workers which get there tax refunded when they leave the country, compared to the mining industry who pay company tax and mining royalties, I know which company helps out Australia the most. Millions of dollars per year compared to zero from those two horse studs. Just the employees at Drayton contribute around $50,000 a year each in personal tax, $150,000 a year to the Westpac Rescue helicopter and over $100,000 a year to the local PCYC, these are just personal contributions to the community from one mine that I work at. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. The horse studs have no economic benefit to the country and promotes gambling. Drayton can co-exist and the Upper Hunter community needs DRAYTON SOUTH APPROVED.

Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

It is imperative that this application is approved as the community needs it. I grew up in Aberdeen and mining have been part of the Hunter for as long as I can remember. Members of my family work in the mining industry and it will be devastating to see them and others lose their jobs. Please approve the application. Thanks

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

Whilst we do need to move away from coal exports and retain the resource for our own future generations instead of short term foreign profits, the Hunter needs this. We need a slow transition and other forms of employment need to be generated, this has not happened. The reduced plan shows a commitment to coexistence and social responsibility

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence. Would like to get some more apprentices back at the site as currently works at the TAFE

Dear Planning Minister,

Muswellbrook and the entire upper hunter are in steep economic decline , higher than state average unemployment , property values taking a dive , hundreds of vacant rental properties , local businesses struggling , lower enrolments at local schools , etc etc Approval of Drayton South will not remedy this situation entirely but will without any doubt be in the best interest of the local community by protecting the jobs of 500 locals employed at the mine but also the hundreds of contractors and suppliers jobs which are directly reliant on the mine being approved . A positive outcome for this mine approval is absolutely in the public interest , without approval the upper hunter and indeed NSW as a whole will suffer , any potential perceived impacts on neighbouring industries surely cannot be a reason to affect an entire region in such a profound negative manner .

As a long time resident of the hunter valley it is very important that Drayton south mine extension is given its approval . Mining is far bigger employer and contributes vastly more to the local communities than these horse studs.Don't let a small vocal minority Coolmore and Darley that contributes nothing to the local community dictate the outcome Just ask the local people and they will tell you there support is with the Draytons

Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South project to continue the employment of over 500 workers & their families in the NSW Mining Industry. My wife commenced her career at the Drayton operation and has many friends still employed there today. Their livelihood would be put at risk should the Drayton South Project not be approved, which would impact them, their partners, their children and the broader community. All of the PAC recommendations have been addressed in the revised mine plan and there is no valid technical or commercial reasons why this project should not be approved if a meritocratic approach to the decision making is undertaken by the NSW Government. I support Drayton South and believe the project should be approved. Kind Regards,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

the jobs the industry creates, supports the community. In reality the jobs in mining is the community. But its not only the 700 odd jobs directly impacted, its the thousands of jobs in supporting industry which will also be lost if drayton south doesnt go ahead.

Dear Planning Minister,

I live in Muswellbrook, my family have lived here for just over 70 years. Coal is a major part of this township and the greater hunter valley. When coal is down so is the valley. I support the Anglo American Drayton south project 100%, if the project doesn't go ahead Muswellbrook will decline rapidly, the housing market has declined already by over 20%, the unemployment in the hunter valley is at the states highest, without adding a further 500 Anglo workers to that and also the contractors who also rely on this project, teachers, supermarket workers, hair dressers everyone in one way or another is relying on the mining industry. Compare that to the horse industry which use backpackers and casual workers due to the seasonal work. They don't pay tax, most are paid cash and live on site. WE NEED DRAYTON SOUTH. PLEASE APPROVE THIS PROJECT FOR THE FUTURE OF MY FAMILY.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am a pensioner but I know that if the state and federal governments do not receive the mining revenue and the taxation income from all the employment generated by mining then I wont have a pension. The pittance generated by these two stud and the horse industry in general wont replace the lost revenue and jobs. I am also sure that the Sheik wont feel any compassion for all those families suddenly out of work with no jobs to go to and mortgages to pay. Government should be by the majority for the majority and not for foreign entities.

I fully support Drayton South mine. It provides employment for over 500 families and apprenticeships for the young. What happens to these people if the mine is forced to close. In the big picture what is more important horses or people? Mining also provides revenue for our state and generates revenue from exports. Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South provides direct income to about 580 families in the form of fulltime employees and contract employees. Then there are the suppliers and their employees. In short this means the loss of about 3000 jobs in the district if the mine closes using the accepted multiplier of 4. The horse industry is not effected and contributes very little to the community at large by comparison. We in the Hunter need our livelihood!

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South mine extension as I believe the approval of this venture and the continuation in employment for its workforce is critical to maintaining the economic stability of our local economy. In an industry struggling to maintain employment across the board, how can you overturn a proposal which will give job and financial security to the families of 500 employees. Drayton South and its neighbours can co-exist in a manner which is profitable and secure for all parties involved.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am submitting my application to support the development of the Drayton South project in the New South Wales Hunter Valley. The development of this project will allow for the continuation of the employment for the local workforce estimated at 500, continued business with and support of local business and approximately 30 Million in annual royalties with total royalties for the NSW government predicted at 233 Million (present value). The Anglo American Australia Drayton South project would thereby by assisting with the provision of services for the local community, which without the development of the Drayton South project would be drastically reduced. This in turn would lead to the development other socio-economic issues within the local community, which can be prevented through the approval of future development projects such as Drayton South. Anglo American Australia has provided evidence to the NSW Planning and Assessment Committee adequately addressing all possible concerns associated with the proposed development of the project. This includes addressing the impact of the project on equine health, the viability of horse studs adjacent to the mining lease, the economic benefit of the Redbank Pit as well as public interest as per the Drayton South Coal Project Environmental Impact Statement, vol 1, May 2015.

Dear Planning Minister,

If an industry meets all technical and environmental regulations I fail to see a reason for them not to be able to continue. An industry that is profitable, supports communities, provides jobs and a taxable revenue for governments at all levels and meets all government regulations will always have my support. If the NSW Department of Planning and Environment doesn't think these are worthwhile endeavours then they might like to consider planning for a future where no-one has a job, communities slowly die and the economy stumbles.

Dear Planning Minister,

There is no reason as to why the mines and horse studs could not co-exist in this area between Singleton & Mussellbrooke. Drayton South is providing employment for over 500 families as well as apprenticeships for young people. These are the people who will suffer if Drayton South is not allowed to continue. Drayton South has paid for studies of the air, dust, noise etc and it has been identified as not having a negative impact on the population as well as the horses from the studs. Drayton South is also committed to rehabilitating the landscape. A vote for Drayton South is a vote for families who depend on Drayton South for their future.

Dear Planning Minister,

I would like to make my support known for the continuation of Drayton mine. The decision between the continuation of Drayton mine or possible impacts on the neighbouring horse stud should reflect the needs and desires of those directly affected by the decision. The impact of losing 500 jobs and the repercussions on the community would be devastating to say the least and the decision to close Drayton mine will also include the decision to close small businesses directly reducing any economic growth in the future. The loss of jobs would put pressure on an industry that has already suffered great hardship due to low coal prices and increase unemployment across Australia. I have seen the effect of mines closing on townships before and would be saddened to think that one was closed for the wrong reasons. I implore the NSW Department of Planning and Environment to accept the revised plan and do what is best for the Hunter community, Australian employment and continual economic growth.

This plan addresses all the issues that the previous PAC's have recommended and should now be approved as it will have no impact on the horse studs. Drayton has supported the local community for over 30years and this approval will maintain the jobs of over 500 people

Dear Planning Minister,

Based on the revised mining plan, there is no justifiable reason why the NSW Department of Planning and Environment should reject the application. Both Drayton South and the nearby stud farm can co-exist. Above all else, saving the mine from closure and securing the futures of 500 jobs, and the families and local businesses that they directly and indirectly support should be of the highest priority to the NSW government.

Dear Planning Minister,

I think that the time has come to have a realistic view on fossil fuels and their contributions to the society and especially the community in the Drayton area. All the industries in the area including the Studs rely on energy to run their business. Drayton has been a part of this community since 1983 and plays a large role in the local economy, including small business in the area. This project should be approved and allowed to continue in the best interest of all concerned. SUPPORT DRAYTON SOUTH!

Dear Planning Minister,

Anglo American has shown itself to be a great supporter of the Hunter Valley region and through its support of schools, employees and the wider community. The loss of 500 jobs would not just affect those individuals, but would have wider ramifications for their families, the community and local businesses. With the revised submission there will be no adverse effect on farms, people or business nearby, and as such no reason to reject the new proposal. Approval of the submission would provide ongoing work and benefit to the local economy and community.

Dear Planning Minister,

I've previously worked down in the Hunter Valley and Mining plays a huge part in the survival of Singleton and Muswellbrook. Everyone is linked to mining in some way and the horse studs are supported to ensure their businesses have limited effects. They need to consider what effects not allowing such an extension to go ahead will have on the local community and I assure you it's much greater than the effects they say they will suffer from if it doesn't go ahead!

Dear Planning Minister,

I strongly support the Drayton South project because its approval is critical to the sustainability of the Hunter valley communities into the future. Anglo American has made significant efforts to minimise impacts on surrounding land users, particularly the horse studs to the south. This has involved sterilising almost two-thirds of the coal reserves. Co-existence is happening in the Hunter Valley so for the horse stud owners to say that they will leave if the project is approved is ludicrous. The horse studs have misrepresented their importance to the Hunter Valley community, with the industry well known for its poor working conditions for the majority of its employees, with only a few really benefiting from the industry. The horse studs have not paid royalties or tax in Australia since their inception, in contrast to Drayton South that will inject $60M annually in royalties and taxes. This is in direct contrast to the 500 employees of Drayton Mine who are well compensated and important members of local communities. The NSW government needs to take responsibility for its approval process and acknowledge that it is broken and needs to be fixed as a priority. This should not delay the approval of the Drayton South project which should be fast tracked given the significant and unjustified delays to date that have little to do with the mitigation of impacts associated with the development of Drayton South which is meant to be the focus of the planning approval process. Base the process on fact not politicised fiction, rumour and innuendo.

Dear Planning Minister,

Operations at Drayton South support both the local community, through sponsorship for local schools and community groups and providing 500 jobs and work for local businesses, as well as the wider NSW community, through $60 million in state royalties and taxes. Changes to the plan have been made in accordance with recommendations received from the Planning Assessment Commission to ensure air and noise quality is kept at an acceptable level. It does not make sense to refuse approval for Drayton South based on what is at stake for the local community.

Dear Planning Minister,

I fully support the Drayton South Project going ahead. Many jobs are needed for the Hunter Valley. The coal industry creates well paying jobs for the average person as well as royalties for the state. Australia's balance of payments relies on continued mining exports. In contrast, there is limited real new revenue for the country or state from horse breeding, and gambling associated with horse racing has a very high social cost to the community. It benefits very few. Please approve the Drayton South project as soon as possible to secure the existing jobs at risk.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. • The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. • Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. •The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. •The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. •All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

I work for Rio Tinto's Hunter Valley operation but have good friends and colleagues working for Drayton Coal. A friend works for Drayton Coal as the Technical Service manager, recently moved down from QLD. I have recently know him as his son plays in the same soccer team as my son, a brilliant wealth-of-knowledge and a good family will move out of Singleton if Drayton does not get the go ahead. I hereby voice my support for Drayton South, please gove them the approval to continue. Appreciate your favourable consideration. Lloyd Kila

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Yours sincerely,
Graeme Mitchell

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South 100% - I believe it can coexist with the horse studs and community and it will be the boost that the Hunter Valley needs after a huge down turn in the industry over the last few years. We don't want to drive anyone else out of town, and devastate families that rely on their job and stability and want to stay local and support this community.

Dear Planning Minister,

As a local and employee at Dayton I fully support Dayton south !!! I have worked for the company for a decade and in that time we have contributed to hospitals,communties,local business,people I need. If this project does not go ahead I am unsure what my family's future will be like we are in the process of building our dream home we are relying on this approval .words can not describe how much we/the town needs this vital coal mine . Please think of the family's if this project does go ahead we are proving there is room for coexistence both industries can play together as my young children would say Thank you A strong Dayton south supporter

Dear Planning Minister,

• Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

I am very concerned for what the future will hold for myself, work colleagues and contractors if the Drayton South Project does not go ahead. I have a young family of 5 and with only 1 income for the family I can not afford to be out of work, with currently less employment opportunities in the region this will put a large strain on myself, my family and other employees and contractors involved. Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South supports 500 families in a small town with little other industry prospects. What will happen to the families and supporting suppliers if the mine closes? It is truly worrying that the thoroughbred industry is able to derail a simple, straightforward extension of operations to an existing 30 year mine. It is not about us and them, it's about two successful industries coexisting as they have done for over 30 years. The science is there for the project to be viable, responsible and a major contributor to the state of NSW and the towns of Murrumbidgee and Singleton. This is what the project should be judged on, not on the big personalities who vocalise their own personal opinions through various media channels. This is appalling and mustn't be allowed to influence the outcome of a planning process for a viable and stable major mining project.

Dear Planning Minister,

Coal is essential for the prosperity of Australia & is Australia's principal energy source. We need to protect the jobs of the 500 workers at Drayton South Colliery. The two children I love most in the world are my grandchildren & their future relies on their father keeping his job well into their future. Anglo America is willing to abide by most of the horse industries wishes. We all need to let progress continue in our lives & live hand in hand with our neighbours. Without letting this mine progress a lot of families lives will be very grim. Where will all the workers find employment. It will not only be the mine but many other businesses will fall around the Hunter Valley, hundreds of miners have already lost their jobs & already many shops & businesses have closed because of lack of trading. Large companies like Anglo America are needed to invest in Australian minerals otherwise they will take their wealth to foreign shores. Julie Bennett

Dear Planning Minister,

i think the extension should go ahead because if it doesn't there will be a loss to the community not only will miners lose their job other people outside the mine will for example small business won't be making as much money to continue trading. In home educators and nanny that work for the mining families will lose shifts or their jobs. It will impact the whole community.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

Being a small business owner in Scone I truly support the approval of Drayton South. With the mining downturn over the past few years there has been an extremely negative effect on many businesses throughout the district. If Drayton South is not approved, jobs will be lost, not just in the mine itself but also in businesses throughout the area. Approve Drayton South!

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the extension of Drayton South. I have worked in the thoroughbred industry for more than a decade, I believe both coal and horse industries can co exist. I have reviewed the revised mine plan and also the environmental statement and in my opinion there will be minimal to no impact to the breeding of horses at coolmore and darley. From my experience, the studs currently & previously close th mines in muswellbrook have successfully bred and grown many Group 1 winning horses without any recorded affects the mines. Therefore, The the two major stakeholders will continue to produce elite thoughbreds and also be very financial sustainable if the extension of the mine is approved. I would like to see all Drayton employees retain employment. Therefore, I support the Drayton South Extension.

Dear Planning Minister,

Reliable Conveyor Belt Pty Ltd is a contracting company which has had an association with Drayton for many years. At all times we have found Drayton to be an organisation that works to the highest operating standards. We believe Drayton is held in high regard in the Region due in the main to their consistent approach in working to the highest Health, Safety and Environmental standards. We are confident that Drayton will work to meet any conditions of approval placed on the Project. We firmly believe that the Drayton South project will be of significant benefit to the Hunter, the local community and associated industries. At the same time providing job security for a large number of people within the Hunter and Newcastle Region. If the Drayton South project is not approved it will have an impact on the local community and our business, particularly on our Muswellbrook and Newcastle Branches. We believe the Drayton South project will have no impact on the neighbouring horse studs or the community. For our company, and many other companies, the Drayton South project will provide future job security, this can only be done if the project is approved. Our company fully supports the project.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

Anglo has shown its dedication to its employees and the local community by persevering and amending mine plans to ensure compliance and co-existence with the horse studs. The impact to the local community if this project is not given the go ahead will be far much greater than the benefits from keeping the horse studs. The economy needs Drayton, the local community needs Drayton and the nation needs Drayton. Please give Drayton a fair go.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South Coal Project and believe that the advantages of its approval in terms of continuing employment and other socio-economic benefits to the Hunter region, NSW and Australia far outweigh any potential impacts, actual or perceived. Having read relevant sections of the EIS, I am of the opinion that Anglo have, by way of compromise, done more than could have reasonably been expected to avoid any potential adverse impacts on the operations of the local horse studs, with there being no scientific reason to justify their continued and vocal opposition to the application or for a refusal of the application. Furthermore, I believe that, despite the rhetoric from some, coal is going to be a primary world energy source well into the future. Through the approval of projects including Drayton South, NSW has an opportunity to continue to be a major player in the supply of the coal to the overseas energy and steel markets but, unlike many other potential supplier states and countries which lack the rigorous assessment processes in force in NSW, to ensure that the coal mining is undertaken in a manner which minimises potential local and global impacts.

Dear Planning Minister,

i support the drayton south project because the revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South does not only effect the people of the Hunter Valley. Currently there are a number of people that work across the Anglo American business in some capacity to support all their operations. While this is not a direct 100% employment by this operation we still rely on this operaiton to provide a portion of the work we have to do. Drayton South will be a long term pospect for Anglo American emplyees across the business. I am sure that we can work closely with other stakeholders such as Coolmore and Darley to come to a solution that supports coexistence.

Yours sincerely,
Daniel Ryan

Dear Planning Minister,

There is no scientific reason that Drayton South should not go ahead. During the last PAC the horse studs stated that there horses were elite athletes and there were no elite athletes in the Hunter region. This is a load of crap. My daughter has made 2 Australian rep sides for Futsal and has just been selected to run in the all schools cross-country in July. If Drayton South DOES NOT go ahead then I will not have a job to support her and my family as there are no other jobs in this area.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am an Environmental Officer at Callide Mine (Biloela) and am in support of the Drayton South project for the reasons outlined below: • Local economy - The economic stability of the community and especially small business are extremely important, although Muswellbrook is not a typical mining community it is very dependent on the Drayton mine to ensure economic sustainability • Investment in the community – The Drayton South Project is very important in maintaining the services in the nearby communities. Drayton mine's continued support for health, education and cultural development adds to making the Hunter Valley a wonderful place to live. I am happy to endorse and support the Drayton South Project.

Dear Planning Minister,

The hunter valley needs mining to continue and be allowed to grow as this is a vital industry to not only the local region, but the state and country as well. Stopping mine expansion will not help the economy grow and become strong again as it was several years ago. Mines and local residents can coexist, they have for decades.

Dear Planning Minister,

I live and work on the North Coast where employment is already an issue. with mechanical and engineering industries closing up everywhere. Drayton supply a large amount work that provide employment outside their immediate area. My opinion is the pros for the extension far out weigh the cons. I also support the following statements. Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. • The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. • Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. • The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. • The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. • All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Subject: I support Hunter mining families

Dear Planning Minister,

Hi everyone, as an ex coal worker employee (made redundant) and father of two young kids in the area I have seen the positive contribution Drayton has made to the community as a safe and efficient operator. The extension at Drayton South is essential to improving the lives and providing certainty for young families in the area and as of a result I lend my full support behind Drayton South and am happy to tell everyone I meet the same thing. As a scientist, I firmly believe things should be taken on the facts and on the evidence to date, Drayton South is a rational and measured approach to expansion and will have to comply with a host of environmental benefits that will ensure a safe and clean operation. I wish them the best of luck. -Rob

Dear Planning Minister,

My partner has been with draytons since I met him and he has happily supported his family working there. We would have to move home if draytons closed. Please consider the devastation each of those 500 employees families will suffer.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

My name is John Boyle 26 years old from singleton nsw. I have worked at Drayton for over 4 years. In that time I have had 3 different employers as Drayton has had to wind back and slow production. I have just bought a house in singleton n rely on Drayton to keep it and stay in the hunter valley! Drayton is an amazing place to work filled with wonderful hard working Australians. The future of our state and country rely on projects like this to go ahead so we can all prosper. We can co exist with all our neighbours and make this project pull us through tough economic times. i am one of the 500 directly affected workers at drayton mine. i believe that there can be co-existence with both mining and horse studs. it is not just the 500 employees that will be affected if drayton closes, but also the families and other businesses/employees that provide services to drayton. there are also other businesses in the surrounding towns that will be affected if there are less people employed in the area to spend money.

Dear Planning Minister,

The company I work for relies on the mining industry for its survival. Drayton is part of the business that would struggle in the event of the project not going ahead. This would mean definite layoffs which will harm those local families. It is my opinion that if Drayton was to not get its approval the area would end up being a ghost town. We support Drayton and its employees, in turn they support us. Regards Brad Adams

I SUPPORT DRAYTON SOUTH. My DAD worked at Drayton and the site for 30years, during that time the company always supported him/our family (as all employees and families with the highest of standards. The conditions and support are what I have always believed to be generous and have helped form the hunter region. Drayton south fosters a community spirit and is seen as one of the safest working environments in the Valley. Support Drayton Support Our Community. I moved back to the Valley to raise my family if Drayton closes coupled with the continuing downturn in the area we could possibly have to leave to find a sustainable life.

Dear Planning Minister,

The Hunter valley needs Drayton South to continue to support local communities relying on the services they support. The Upper Hunter people are very aware of the what happens if Drayton South bid fails. Horse studs will not support whole communities as mines do. The distances to local horse studs from Drayton South are around 2.5km not the 500m they will have us believe. Support Drayton workers

Dear Planning Minister,

I was heavily involved in the campaign to get Drayton off the ground. My son completed his Plant Mechanics Apprenticeship at Drayton I know a lot of local people who work at Drayton Drayton has never been in the spotlight from its neighbors The local community needs some stimulus to kick start it, which hopefully the Drayton South approval will help towards Doubts over employment in the area are stifling spending throughout the upper hunter. The coal industry provides a lot of support to local community groups, something the horse industry does not The mining industry employs mostly locals The horse industry uses a lot of overseas workers for its seasonal needs. The horse industry promotes and benefits from gambling, something the government is trying to reduce in the club and hotel industry to their detriment. The local clubs and pubs support local sport, the horse industry does not Edinglassie Stud is located adjacent to Mt Arthur mine and its successes over the last 12 months or so clearly indicate their horses are not adversely affected by mining I worked in the mining industry for 40 years and still am in good health

Considering the existing pressure on the local economy due to down turn in the mining industry this expansion is required to ensure the long term viability and employment within the local community. Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South benefits not only the mining company, but it provides jobs for hundreds of people in the community – not just the employees. Benefits stretch to the community, the local businesses, the local economy, not to mention State Govt royalties and taxes – which are intended for community infrastructure – roads, education, medical care etc. The mine also provides supports to local community groups, charities, sporting clubs, etc. Drayton South should be allowed to continue.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer.

Dear Planning Minister,

The Hunter Valley needs the Drayton South Project to get the green light so the 500 employees remain employed. Being employed by a small family owned and operated company who is relying on the project to go ahead, which would mean job security for myself and my family and many more smaller companies and families in the valley. Support Drayton South. Regards Mark Cameron

Dear Planning Minister,

We own and operate a small business which contracts to the coal mining industry in the Hunter Valley. In these hard economic times, our contract with Drayton mine is crucial to our survival and our employees jobs. The flow on effect of the loss of 500 jobs and the closure of Drayton mine will be catastrophic on a lot of small businesses like ours and of course the local economy. We know the horse stud industry is also important and do not wish it to be adversely effected either. The changes made to the Drayton South project have addressed the previous concerns and issues and as such we hope that this project can be assessed on its merits using facts and evidence. The Hunter Valley needs this project to proceed. Our business needs this project to proceed. Thanking you.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

My husband & I built a house in 2011 & just weeks after we moved in we fell pregnant with our first child. Unfortunately not long after this my husbands employer in Newcastle, who's contracts depend on coal going through PWCS & NCIG, started to feel the pinch as a direct result of the downturn in the mining industry. My husband took a massive pay cut just to keep his job & we were one of the lucky ones as most lost their jobs. We could no longer afford to finish our house. As the house was not finished it was valued at less than we payed so we had no equity to borrow against & we now didn't even qualify for the loan we had. So our little boy who is now 3 years old has no back yard to play in, no trampoline & no swing set. As the downturn worsened so did our money situation & we came very close to losing our house. At the end of 2014 my husband took a FIFO job in QLD so he could support his family & so we could keep the home we worked so hard to build for our family. The only problem with that is that he is not here to enjoy his home or his family. He spends 4 weeks in a camp & 1 week at home. This is just my story, there are 1000's more families just like ours who are worse off than us. This mine will bring much needed jobs to not just those communities around the mine but to the whole hunter region. This region has been built on mining & it is an integral part of our economy.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support the Drayton South extension as there is no clear evidence that the equine industry can not coexist with mining. With the NSW government aiming at making the Golden Highway (which passes through Coolmore and borders Darby) the main access from Sydney to Dubbo and the Central West of NSW, the amount of noise and light from all types of road traffic would be more acute and possibly disturbing to the horses than a constant glow and low level noise some two km's away. I have been an employee of Drayton Mine for almost 29 years. For most of this time my wife has been able to be a stay at home mum, caring for our three kids, volunteering at school and transporting them to all the after school activities that they wish to try. All three have attended the Upper Hunter Conservatorium of Music with my eldest completing university with a Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Teaching and now teaching in the public school system. Without my job at Drayton, we would not have been able to afford UNI and College fees. My daughter is now doing what she loves & helping grow the next generation of Australian workers. The approval of Drayton South Extension will allow my second kid to complete university (2nd year in IT) and my youngest (year 9) to plan her future which I hope includes university.

Dear Planning Minister,

My husband and I both work in the mining industry giving us almost 45 years of experience between the two of us. Although we are not at retirement age or even ready to retire when all your work experience has comes from one industry it makes it difficult to be re-employed. Even though we are not employed in the Hunter Valley at present we feel for these people and also the roll on effects that these job losses will have on the entire community. We need the resources that are mined. With regulations, legislations and laws today mining has become extremely environmentally friendly.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am an employee of a mining company and worked at Drayton Mine near Muswellbrook for a 4 year period from late 1996 to 2000. Despite there being a number of open cut mines around the town, my family and I found that our time was one of the best and most memorable of our lives. In our time there a large mine (Bengalla) was established quite close to town, the local race course and surrounding farms. We found that there was no loss of amenity as a result and in fact the emergence of new operations like Bengalla helped the town grow considerably with improved facilities. Drayton has always been a great supporter of the local community and charities and we found that the operation had a great reputation among the community as a supporter of local business and an employer of choice. I struggle to see how mining at Drayton South with the southern-most boundary now roughly 2km from the major horse studs, Darley and Coolmore, could have any detrimental impact on those operations. I expect that farmers have been successfully raising quality livestock of all sorts for many years in happy co-existence with the mines. It was my understanding that the main concern was the potential visual impact of mine spoil piles on potential visitors to the horse studs. I believe this will no longer be an issue. The likely loss of jobs at Drayton and the impact on local businesses will have a dramatic impact on Muswellbrook and surrounding areas. The potential loss of revenue to the people of NSW at a time when mining royalty revenue continues to decline would be a real shame and a waste of resources. Drayton Mine has been a great place to work for generations of local employees, contractors and service providers. I can only hope that common sense prevails and those who are assessing the proposal look at all of the facts objectively and make the right decision. From my personal point of view and on behalf of my family, I sincerely hope that results in Drayton South mine going ahead.

Dear Planning Minister,

My family settled in Singleton two and a half years ago when I started work as a graduate Geologist at an RTCA mine. Since that time we have seen many of our friends move away and services close due to the mining downturn. My children attend a local school and daycare and we know people that work at both as well. They are constantly telling us about dwindling enrolments and kids being pulled out of daycare. This is something my wife and I had to do as a means to save money when she lost her job. In a time where job security is low, the industry is struggling and a respectable company which supports the local community with more than just jobs is striving to stay open, it should be endorsed and applauded. I and my family of four fully endorse the Drayton South Extension.

Dear Planning Minister,

Mining has been responsible for the establishment of the majority of the excellent infrastructure and facilities in the Hunter. Open cut mining has coexisted with agriculture and tourism (mining is a drawcard for tourists) since the late 1940's. Coal is still a vital component in maintaining our quality of life (and helping others in developing countries on the journey to having what we have come to expect as basic needs) While viable alternative technologies are being established to meet our energy needs and alternative employment opportunities are developed for Hunter Valley miners who have established their families in the area we must extent the life of the Drayton mine. The concessions in the revised Drayton application along with recent Anglo offerings give the Horse studs what they are asking for, lets get back to sharing the area.

I am in support of the Drayton South project approval. This extension of mining impact the local communitys economically and also damages the social fabric of several communities. Consumer confidence and uncertainty effects local spending and puts local jobs outside the mining industry at risk as well as those directly employed by the project. Dear Planning Minister, the amount of money that the mining industry generates in the hunter region has kept the us afloat during the GFC, and beyond. the small business in the local communities that benefit would also be hurt. job are hard enough to find at the moment, what would happen to the families of the mines workers? i know a lot of them are single income families. and the small businesses that rely on the miners business? imagine not only the workers but their partners trying to find work if the mine were to close, 140 businesses will be adversely affected! Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. Dear Planning Minister,

This mine has sustained the hunter and its families for years... i was a third generation miner and proud to follow in my grandfather and fathers career choice. This mine has been the backbone of many hunter jobs, charity organisations and children play funding.. how will the towns cope with another substantial fall from through is mine closing.. the domino effect will see many job losses and people in more dire straights than they already are!! How are these families supposed to cope with the already decline in the hunter economy. . How are they supposed to feed there families and put their money back into the community... how is it right that our children face such an uncertain future! How many more families need to leave the hunter to find jobs that no longer exist there before you relise that maybe it was a mistake!! Growing up in the hunter it was anglo and other mines that helped shape our future not the horsestuds..

Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. Dear Planning Minister,

Not only do the workers of Drayton need this extension, the whole community needs it! Money is getting spent in our towns! If the money isn't here we may as well not be either therefore little towns like aberdeen, denman, sandy hollow etc will be ghost towns once again. The upper hunter is thriving. Our little towns schools shops etc rely on this. I'm a horse lover, rider and work on a horse stud. Hubby and friends work at Drayton. There is no reason whatsoever that we can't coexist!!

Dear Planning Minister,

The rejection of Drayton South would see our community take a massive step backwards. With the recent downturn we have seen dramatic changes. Empty houses, shop closures, people relocating and a general negative feeling in the community. The approval will see a flip of this and reinvigorate our community.

Dear Planning Minister,

I have been a supplier and an employee to the mining industry and can honestly say that mining is a positive contribution to local community and to our nation as a whole. 500 jobs more likely equates to 3000 jobs. That is a lot of income tax. In addition, I can also say that the environmental controls at the many mines that I have worked in are far superior to those of traditional workplaces. In short, and in my opinion, Australian mining is an industry leader in environmental and safety accountability. Do the right thing and reduce negative the impact on these families.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South, I have completed work experience at the mine and was really impressed by the workplace's positive atmosphere amongst employees. I support the mine for the reason that it will put a lot of money and support back into the local community. I am currently at high school completing my HSC, following the completion of my HSC I would really like to gain an electrical apprenticeship with Anglo American. Should the Drayton South project go ahead, and should I be successful in gaining an apprenticeship with Anglo American at its Drayton South project, it would provide me with a very strong foundation to start my career as an electrician. I would be very disappointed if the Drayton South project was to be knocked back again and not go ahead. Thank you for considering my submission and I look forward to the Drayton South project going ahead. Yours Faithfully, Ben Croaker.

Dear Planning Minister,

Once again I find myself fighting for jobs to be saved in the mining industry. 500 jobs are on the line if Drayton does not go ahead. Worse still is the impact on the community that is suffering from mining job losses from other mines in the area. It is critical not only for the 500 immediate positions at Drayton but for the community and the State of NSW that this continuation be granted the go ahead. Remove $50 million in local spending with businesses in the area and more jobs outside the mine will be lost. Schools, hospitals etc will miss out on the $60 million that will not longer be available for the State Government to spend as that money will no longer be available. This new plan will also no longer impact the local horse racing breeders nor will air quality change nor will the mine be visible from any stud. It is impurities that this plan get the go ahead. I support the plan and the miners plus the community for this plan to be given approval. Thank you for your time. David Power

Dear Planning Minister,

The company I currently work has a maintenance contract with Drayton, if the expansion doesn't go ahead obviously we have no contract. For this not to go ahead affect many more than just the people that work at Drayton permanently if contributes to potentially making our company unviable in the future. We employee bout 100 people across 5 branches and with the down turn in the mining industry are struggling to stay viable as a company, to this point we have made 10 - 15 people redundant in the past 6 month, with Newcastle being a tough place to get a job the majority of these people are still unemployed. You must support this expansion to guarantee the viability of so many struggling contractor companies in the hunter.

Dear Planning Minister,

Mines are the back bone of communities. Any loss of jobs impacts across those communities. Businesses will suffer, towns will lose residents and local economies would be devastated. The increase of welfare assistance is an inevitable added cost. If Drayton South is not approved, people will not only lose jobs but lose their well deserved income and in many cases lose hope. Horse studs can operate anywhere. Mine or no mine, Horse studs continue to receive income. People in communities should be the priority. Approve Drayton South.

Dear Planning Minister,

I have worked in the coal mining industry for over three decades. It has provided food on our table and helped pay the mortgage on our house. I am proud of what mining has done for Australia. Our national, state and local economies relies heavily on mining. Mining benefits all Australians. It provides the materials to build our houses and other buildings, our vehicles, television sets and whitegoods. Coal mining provides coal for steel making, cement manufacture and generates over 80 per cent of the electricity for the three eastern states of Australia. The coal mining industry in Australia also provides coal for the generation of cheap electricity in developing nations so that they can improve their standard of living and their quality of life. I urge the Planning Assessment Commission to give this project its consent.

Dear Planning Minister,

I encourage you to approve the Drayton South coal mining proposal. Coal mining is an integral part of the Hunter economy, and it offers new hope for 500 workers and hundreds of local businesses, suppliers and local community groups that rely on the mine. The revised plan has significantly reduced the size of the mine, increased the buffer between the mine and the neighbouring horse studs, and kept mining activities behind the natural ridgelines.

Dear Planning Minister,

Muswellbrook is a mining town, always has been. Who has also sponsored Muswellbrook race days in the past? Mines, who supports their race days, the employees. Drayton have done everything they can to please the horse industry and then they turned on them by pushing the boundary even further. Rediculous. Horses before humans is disgusting, Drayton and other mines put sooooo much support into the community and Muswellbrook wouldn't have what it does without it. If it gets the go ahead think of what Muswellbrook could have in another 10 years. What is happening is childish, the two industries can coexist.

Dear Planning Minister,

We support Drayton South. We are an established horse stud with imported horses from the United States of America. We also lease land from Anglo- America at Drayton and grow out our foals on rehabilitated mining land with great success. The ongoing support and sponsorship to the Cutting and Campdrafting industry which includes several thousand participants from the Hunter Valley, rely on the support from Drayton. The ongoing relationship with Drayton is imperative to the financial support and survival in the local region. Our horse stud and the mining have co-existed for some time. Regards, Forrest and Kim

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement. The benefits of Drayton South also extend beyond the local community, injecting $60 million in state royalties and taxes to the New South Wales Government annually, which could be used for roads, hospitals and schools. Drayton supports local schools, sporting teams and many important local charities and community services. Without Drayton South our community will suffer. The revised Drayton South plan has moved the mine behind the Planning Assessment Commission's nominated ridgeline, ensuring that the mine will not be visible from the operating areas of the neighbouring horse studs and noise will remain within the current backend levels, with no discernible change in air quality. The changes to the Drayton South project will mean there are no adverse impacts on the horse studs, ensuring that the mine can continue to successfully coexist with other local industries. All that the workers want is a fair go, with the project assessed on its merits using facts and evidence.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South, As a former Drayton coal apprentice I was given the opportunity by Anglo America to gain my trade and enter the industry. Drayton South plays a vital role within the local community by providing young people with a pathway to enter the mining industry either through mining traineeships or apprenticeship programs, they also support local charities and sporting teams and make a massive contribution to my local community. Drayton South have been fair in listening to key stakeholders and providing a more than suitable buffer zone between local horse studs. In these difficult times for the mining industry its important that we can find ways to coexist with all industries to maintain local employment. Regards Mark Tutt

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton mine has been a critical part of the Hunter community, the state of NSW and Australian economy for over 30 years. For most of those 30 years Drayton has helped supply energy to NSW, Australia and the world. Drayton has also helped build and shape the world with its steel making products. To not allow this project proceed will send a clear message to the world the Hunter mining industry is no longer open for business with detrimental consciences to the community, the state of NSW and Australia. There is no reason why this project should not be able to co exist with surrounding industries. The new plan has addressed and accommodated the previous PAC recommendations and this alone should allow the project to proceed. This topic has brought out the best and worse in the community. The orchestrated manipulation of the facts in this issue by some Groups, none local community members and individuals has be nothing short of disgusting. I call on the PAC and state of NSW to approve this project on the facts of the submission. My family and I fully support Anglo American and we fully support the Drayton South Coal Mine Project.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South. Drayton South plays a vital role within the local community by providing young people with a pathway to enter the mining industry either through mining traineeships or apprenticeship programs, they also support local charities and sporting teams and make a massive contribution to my local community. I believe its vital that all industries coexist, Drayton South have listened to the community and key stakeholders to come up with a mine plea that will ensure that there will be no impact on nearby horse studs. Dear Planning Minister,

I believe that the Drayton South Project should be allowed to proceed. The Drayton South Project is vital to the health of the Hunter Valley communities and broader NSW economy. In a time when many people in the mining industry are facing the prospect of losing their jobs, this project offers the prospect to secure 500 local jobs. Continuation of operations at Drayton will pump millions of dollars into local businesses each year and allow them to continue to employing many other people. Drayton has been a proud and loyal supporter of local community sporting and charity programs over many years. It would be very sad to see this valued support for our youth and less fortunate folk cease. Drayton South have listened to the concerns of the horse breeding studs and modified their mine development proposal to reduce the impacts on their neighbours. Let's look at the facts and not pander to emotion when deciding what is best for the community. We need to give all industries in the valley a fair go in the region to ensure that we maintain a strong economy and continue to provide opportunities for our children to work and live in this beautiful part of the world.

I am 100% support of Drayton South as without this job i will be at a huge emotional, financial and personal loss. I am 55 years old and if Drayton south does not go ahead it will be extremely hard to find a job to support my family and this will cause great trouble for me. Not approving Drayton South would significantly impact the local communities in a negative way. I believe both industries can co exist as they have done for many years and we at Drayton are committed to the guidelines put in place to ensure this co-existence can continue. Drayton Mine is where my family's income comes from. In the current unemployment situation in the Hunter Valley, our family of five are unlikely to find work and will most probably lose our home. The local high school and primary school will lose out, as well as the local sporting teams that we are involved in due to the sponsorship we have always given. We have been able to help the community because my husband is employed by a contractor to Drayton. Regards, Kim

Dear Planning Minister,

I was a casual out at Drayton before we lost our jobs. This community and the businesses that rely on mining need this pit to survive. For each person that loses a job affects one whole family and it snowballs through out the region. horse studs don't help keep this community going, mining does. Think about it.

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South. The mine is vital to the local community. Job losses arising due to closure of the mine cannot be replaced by non mining ventures. The mine supports the local community and has done so for decades. That support will continue if the project is approved. Every worker in the community who has invested in housing will be negatively affected by the closure. This will create an inability for those workers to have employment mobility and risks the ability of the worker and their family to continue to contribute to the wider community in the future. The impact of non-approval on the local community cannot be overstated.

Dear Planning Minister,

I think the Drayton South project should go ahead. It means jobs for my daughter and so many other people in our community. Drayton has been supporting our community for the last 30 years. They use lots of local suppliers and have always employed locally. Their apprenticeships and traineeships have always been given to local kids. The horse studs in comparison who are also a multi million dollar industry do not show the same support. They hire most of their staff from overseas. The mine has scaled back its plans and have proven coexistence for the last 30 years. I am concerned what the future of Muswellbrook will be if this project is not approved.

Dear Planning Minister,

As a Muswellbrook local the approval of Drayton South is vital for this community. We have already seen effects from the mining downturn and our housing market has been heavily affected. Drayton use so many of our local business as their suppliers and it will not only be the Drayton workers affected by job losses but these businesses as well will have to scale back. Drayton has scaled its project right back behind the ridgelines which was the major concern of the horse studs. Please approve this project.

Dear Planning Minister,

The approval of Drayton South will secure the future for myself and my family. We are heavily invested in the Singleton community and will be forced to leave our home and move town if Drayton South is not approved. The Singleton economy has suffered over the last 3 years and if Drayton South is not approved, the local economy will suffer more. It defies logic that mines are approved in other towns that do not have the infrastructure for mining when there are countless vacant homes for rent in Singleton. There is no reason why mining and horse studs cannot coexist as they already do in other areas in the Hunter Valley. If there are legitimate horse health concerns then one must ask what are the health conditions like for the children of Singleton and Muswellbrook, two towns in very close proximity to open cut mines. I support Drayton South!

Dear Planning Minister,

I am in full support the extension of the Drayton South project. The furtherance of the mine will undoubtedly secure the future of my career in the coal mining sector. This obviously has a chain line effect; I keep my job, I can afford to support my wife and family; I can pay for high education for my children; I can afford to invest and become a contributor to the society of the Hunter Valley and so on. Unfortunately horse breeding and horse racing will not support me or my family. We need the mine, the families need the mine, the country needs the mine, and as the horse breeders will come to find... they too need the mine to survive!

Dear Planning Minister,

I support Drayton South for the following reasons: I'm sure the horse studs that might be affected by Drayton South, don't account for 500 jobs in the local community, or provide work for 140 local businesses or contribute $60 million in state royalties. People in the rural sector have always opposed the mining industry because it lessens their prominent position in the local community and often absorbs most of their skilled workers. For why would you want to work long hard hours, earning a minimum wage for someone in the rural sector, when you can be remunerated properly for your efforts in the mining sector? You might think this is just the opinion of another miner, which I am, but I grew up on cattle stations and had decided from a young age, that; I wasn't going to work my ass off keeping someone else wealthy..... To be reasonable, if it was prime farming country, supplying food to the nation, you might oppose the mine but they're horse studs and people don't eat horses (well I have up in the gulf but most don't) and they're hardly used for work on many properties anymore. So they are mostly used for sport, one of which is horse racing and just have a look all the problems that causes all over the world with gambling, not mention the way most race horses are treated if they don't cut the grade!

Dear Planning Minister,

We need Drayton south to be approved under the new condition to promote jobs in Muswellbrook otherwise you might as well say goodbye to the area. Ive had to find work near mudgee as the power station & mining downturns resulted in job redundancy. Laing Orouke, Subzero, MonaDelphos, Thomas & Coffee are gone or severly downsized. I dont like mining but we need Drayton to keep muswellbrook alive. But we need shops & interests as well, its a combined problem a community that needs direction. Thanx steve

Dear Planning Minister,

I believe both industries can coexist as they have done for the last 35 years that i have lived and worked in the upper hunter . Mount Arthur south lays to the north of the two main horse studs that believe they will be affected by this project and because our predominant winds in this area are from the south ,south east, west, south west ,i believe there would be minimal dust blowing onto either of these two horse studs ,with careful planning and procedures put in place light emitting from the mine site would be kept to a minimum.So with planning and consultation between the two parties i believe the two industries can co exist

Dear Planning Minister,

The benefits of Drayton South to local communities far outweigh any perceived inconvenience to the wealthy few who own horse studs. Drayton South means real jobs for locals and Royalties for the state. I would like to think that one day I might also regain employment in my local area, rather than travelling 700km west for work, away from my home and family in the Hunter. That can only happen if new mining projects are approved.

Dear Planning Minister,

I am extremely sad that the government would not support the proposal to extend the drayton south mining lease. The horse industry is all about gambling which in turn destroys the lives of so many. The cost of the gambling on the families is enormous as they are constantly living on the edge worrying what their loved one will gamble their weekly pay that should provide food clothing and shelter for their children. In addition when there is so much focus on mental health it is obvious to everyone that gambling is one of the highest contributors to mental health issues and cause many more mental health issues for those who love and live with these addicts. The horse stud that is trying to stop drayton south going ahead is causing the moral character of society to deteriorate because it encourages gambling and it is causing huge financial burden on society as governments have to increasingly provide family support payments and society to provide social and mental health support. So what is the new mine costing to the government nothing in fact it the mine pays taxes to the government and provides community support to schools etc and employment for many local families. I urge the government to support the development of the drayton south mine.

Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton south would be a really positive thing for our community, continuing to provide jobs and work for associated businesses in the area. As someone with property in the area who works in the mining industry - I feel really pessimistic about the future, when it seems that all I hear about it job losses and falling house prices so you can't even afford to leave the area. The opening of new mines, instead of closures would inject new life into the area, and would be some much needed positive news.

The mines are what keeps our towns alive, they support local business and do everything they can to keep the natural surrounds. They should not be prevented from operating because another group are too selfish to share what belongs to everyone, causing hardship to families.

Dear Planning Minister,

This proposal must be approved not only because of the employment and economical benefits but also the environmental concerns have now been adequately addressed in the modified proposal. It is also very obvious that this proposal delivers much the same environmental protection with the mine retreating back behind two ridgelines as Saddle Ridge gave Bulga in the 2003 MTW approval. With NSW Planning now in the process of removing this protection in the MTW proposal now before it and give approval to the proposal surely this means the Drayton South proposal must be approved.

mining has been in my family for 5 generations. most of my grandfathers brothers and the sons also. The job loss in the hunter valley is already at an all time low as a business owner in Muswellbrook I have personally felt this loss. Im sure we can all work together to get this sorted out as I don't think horses should even have a look in unless they are going to employ the hundreds of man and women that will be jobless if this extension is not approved

Drayton Coal is a significant customer of our business and if the Drayton South project doesn't receive approval I believe we will be forced to make more of our employees redundant and possibly run the risk of having to close our NSW businesses units. The last thing the Hunter area needs now is more job losses as the unemployment rate in the area now is at what I believe to be unacceptable levels and the area needs some sought of stability and confidence. Dear Planning Minister,

Drayton South is critical to our community and the local economy, saving 500 jobs and continuing to provide work for 140 local businesses and $50 million a year in local procurement.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Planning Minister,

I strongly support the Drayton South extension as my husband and I have lived and worked and raised a family in the area for the last 30 years. We built a home in Singleton and have raised a family and made many friends. This would not have been possible without stable employment from this industry and the benefits of which it offers to the community.

Yours sincerely,
