that restricts the development of the land because of the likelihood of land slip, bushfire, tidal inundation, subsidence, acid sulfate soils or any other risk, other than flooding.

Council’s policies on hazard risk restrictions are as follows:

(i) Landslip

Under Fairfield Local Environmental Plan 2013, the land is not affected by a policy adopted by Council or adopted by any other public authority and notified to Council (for the express purpose of its adoption by that authority being referred to in Planning Certificates issued by Council) that restricts development on the land because of the likelihood of landslide risk or subsidence.

(ii) Bushfire

Council has been supplied by the NSW Rural Fire Service with a hazard map for the purposes of a bush fire risk management plan applying to land within the Fairfield local government area. Based on that map, it appears the land referred to in this certificate is not bush fire prone as defined in section 4 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

(iii) Tidal Inundation

This land is subject to the flood related development controls included in the Fairfield City-Wide Development Control Plan 2013 in relation to the above development types. These controls apply (either directly, or indirectly by reference in site-specific DCPs) to all land in the Fairfield Local Government Area.

Generally, development controls will apply to development if the land (or part of the land) is within the floodplain or is affected by overland flooding.

Based on the information currently available to Council, this land is not affected by mainstream flooding. However, this is subject to future flood studies and reviews.

Part or all of this land is within the floodplain and may be affected by local overland flooding. This parcel is not in an area in which Council's current program of overland flood risk mapping has been completed. The term local overland flooding means inundation by local runoff rather than overbank discharge from a stream, river, estuary, lake or dam. If you are planning a development proposal, you will be required to undertake an Overland Flood Study prepared by a suitably qualified civil engineer experienced in flood analysis to identify the overland flood levels and velocities for the site.

2. Whether or not development on that land or part of the land for any other purpose is subject to flood related development controls.

This land is subject to the flood related development controls included in the Fairfield City-Wide Development Control Plan 2013 in relation to the above development types. These controls apply (either directly, or indirectly by reference in site-specific DCPs) to all land in the Fairfield Local Government Area.

Generally, development controls will apply to development if the land (or part of the land) is within the floodplain or is affected by overland flooding.

Based on the information currently available to Council, this land is not affected by mainstream flooding. However, this is subject to future flood studies and reviews.

Part or all of this land is within the floodplain and may be affected by local overland flooding. Council is in receipt of information by the NSW National Parks and Wildlife Service indicating the land either contains or is in close proximity to an area possibly containing remnant vegetation associated with a Cumberland Plains Endangered Ecological Community that is listed under the Threatened Species Conservation Act. On request Council will supply such information available from its records; however, interested parties must take and rely on their own advice and enquiries.

Information from NSW National Parks and Wildlife Service indicates that the land either contains or is in close proximity to an area possibly containing remnant vegetation associated with a Cumberland Plain Endangered Ecological Community. NPWS have identified the community as Cumberland Plain Woodland (Shale Hills Woodland, Shale Plains Woodland) that is listed as endangered under Pt. 3 Sch. 1 of the NSW Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995 and the Commonwealth Environmental Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999.

NPWS mapping indicates that the remnant vegetation is part of an area that is greater than 0.5 hectares with tree cover with agriculture but no major urban or suburban development.

The attached Flood Information Sheet provides flood levels where they are available together with other relevant flooding information.

The land is subject to the provisions of Clause 5.9 - Preservation of trees or vegetation, under Fairfield Local Environmental Plan 2013.

Land must not be cleared or filled except with the consent of Council.

The applicant's attention is drawn to the Department of Infrastructure, Planning and Natural Resources map at the 1:100,000 scale 'Salinity Potential in Western Sydney 2002' that indicates there is potential for salinity in the Region. The map can be viewed at Council's Customer Service Centre (86 Avoca Road Wakeley).

Council's policy 'Building in Saline Environments', applies to all areas of Fairfield City and requires use of construction measures and materials in new development to minimise risk of salt damage to buildings from urban salinity.

Clause 2.7 of Fairfield Local Environmental Plan 2013 requires development consent for the demolition of a building or work.

Council has adopted a policy on flooding which may restrict the development of land. The Fairfield City-Wide Development Control Plan 2013 (which includes provisions for flood management) applies to all of the Fairfield Local Government area.

Part or all of this land may be affected by local overland flooding.

LOCAL OVERLAND FLOODING

Description

Part or all of the land may be affected by local overland flooding. This parcel is not in an area covered by overland flood risk mapping completed by Council.

An overland flood notation may be placed on a property based on information from a number of sources. Typical sources include: information from residents, investigation of local drainage problems and hydraulic analysis of local catchments by engineering consultants and Council staff.

Local Overland Flood Details

A preliminary analysis of this catchment to quantify the amount of stormwater in the vicinity of this property has not been carried out.

Size of Flood	Flood Level (m AHD)	Flow (m³/s)	Velocity (m/s)
Probable Maximum Flood (PMF)	Not Known	Not Known	Not Known
100 Year ARI	Not Known	Not Known	Not Known
50 Year ARI	Not Known	Not Known	Not Known
20 Year ARI	Not Known	Not Known	Not Known

Advisory Note:

If you are planning a development proposal, you will be required to undertake an Overland Flood Study as the flood level for this site is not known. The study shall be prepared by a suitably qualified civil engineer experienced in flood analysis and in accordance with Council's Flood Risk Management Policy in Chapter 11 of the Fairfield City Wide DCP 2013 and Council's Stormwater Drainage Policy.

Please contact Council's Development Engineers in 9725 0222 for further information on this process.

GLOSSARY

m AHD	metres Australian Height Datum (AHD).
Australian Height Datum (AHD)	A common national plane of level approximately equivalent to the height above sea level. All flood levels, floor levels and ground levels are normally provided in metres AHD.
Average Recurrence Interval (ARI)	The long term average number of years between the occurrence of a flood as big as the selected event. For example, floods with a discharge as great as the 20 year ARI event will occur on average once every 20 years. ARI is another way of expressing the likelihood of occurrence of a flood event.
flood	A relatively high stream flow that overtops the natural or artificial banks in any part of a stream, river, estuary, lake or dam. It also includes local overland flooding associated with major drainage before entering a watercourse, or coastal inundation resulting from raised sea levels, or waves overtopping the coastline.
flood risk precinct	An area of land with similar flood risks and where similar development controls may be applied by a Council to manage the flood risk. The flood risk is determined based on the existing development in the precinct or assuming the precinct is developed with normal residential uses. Usually the floodplain is categorised into three flood risk precincts 'low', 'medium' and 'high', although other classifications can sometimes be used. High Flood Risk: This has been defined as the area of land below the 100-year flood event that is either subject to a high hydraulic hazard or where there are significant evacuation difficulties. Medium Flood Risk: This has been defined as land below the 100-year flood level that is not within a High Flood Risk Precinct. This is land that is not subject to a high hydraulic hazard or where there are no significant evacuation difficulties. Low Flood Risk: This has been defined as all land within the floodplain (i.e. within the extent of the probable maximum flood) but not identified within either a High Flood Risk or a Medium Flood Risk Precinct. The Low Flood Risk Precinct is that area above the 100-year flood event.
local overland flooding	The inundation of normally dry land by local runoff rather than overbank discharge from a stream, river, estuary, lake or dam.
mainstream flooding	The inundation of normally dry land occurring when water overflows the natural or artificial banks of a stream, river, estuary, lake or dam.
probable maximum flood (PMF)	The largest flood that could conceivably occur at a particular location.
