Executive Summary

This Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment report is submitted to the Department of Planning, Housing and Infrastructure (the Department) on behalf of Mirvac Residential (NSW) Pty Ltd (the Applicant) in support of a State Significant Development Application (SSDA) for a staged residential development at 2 and 2A Bullecourt Avenue (the site).

An archaeological survey of the Project Area was undertaken by Jenna Weston of Heritage Now and Justine Coplin of Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation on 13 August 2025. No Aboriginal objects or areas of potential archaeological deposit were found, and the majority of the Project Area has been extensively disturbed. As such, the archaeological sensitivity is assessed to be low and no Aboriginal heritage impacts are anticipated from the proposed works.

The Project Area is assessed to be of low historic, archaeological and aesthetic significance, and moderate cultural significance.

Heritage Now makes the following recommendations.

Recommendation 1

All on-site personnel are to be made aware of their obligations under the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974, which includes protection of Aboriginal sites and the reporting of any new, or suspected, Aboriginal heritage sites. This may be done through an on-site induction or other suitable format.

Recommendation 2

In the unlikely event that Aboriginal or suspected Aboriginal archaeological material is uncovered during the development, then works in that area are to stop and the area cordoned off. The Project Manager is to contact the Heritage Consultant to make an assessment as to whether the material is classed as Aboriginal object/s under the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974 and advise on the required management and mitigation measures. Works are not to re-commence in the cordoned off area until heritage clearance has been given and/or the required management and mitigation measures have been implemented.

Recommendation 3

In the unlikely event that human remains, or suspected human remains are uncovered during the development, then works in that area are to stop and the area cordoned off. The Project Manager is to contact the NSW Police to establish whether the area is a crime scene. If it is not a crime scene, and the remains are determined to be Aboriginal ancestral remains, then Heritage NSW is to be notified via the Environment Line on 131555 and management measures are to be devised in consultation with RAPs. Works are not to recommence in the area until the management measures have been implemented.

1 Introduction

This Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment report is submitted to the Department of Planning, Housing and Infrastructure (the Department) on behalf of Mirvac Residential (NSW) Pty Ltd (the Applicant) in support of a State Significant Development Application (SSDA) for a staged residential development at 2 and 2A Bullecourt Avenue (the site).

The key objectives of this assessment are to identify cultural heritage values through consultation with Registered Aboriginal Parties (RAPs), and provide recommendations to manage and protect Aboriginal objects and values identified during the assessment.

1.1 Project Area

The site is currently owned by Western Sydney University and is located within the Canterbury Bankstown LGA at 2 and 2A Bullecourt Avenue, Milperra, being legally described as Lot 2 in DP1291984 and Lot 1 in DP101147 ((Figure 1, Figure 2).

The total site has an area of approximately 19.64ha and is the subject of numerous easements affecting the site, including two easements to drain water, easements for electricity and other purposes, and a right of carriageway.

Since the demolition of the previous buildings on the site, the site currently comprises:

- Existing at-grade car park (within Zone 4) repurposed as parking and hardstand area for the temporary sales office.
- Existing at-grade car park for the Childcare Centre (generally within the location of the future Road 2B).
- At-grade roads off Bullecourt Avenue.
- A large oval to the south.
- The Western Sydney University Early Learning Centre (Child-care centre).
- Vegetation of varying significance, including Cumberland Plain Woodland.

The site is bound by the M5 Motorway to the south, Ashford Avenue / existing residential dwellings to the west, Bullecourt Avenue / existing industrial development to the north, and Horsley Road / existing industrial development to the east. Adjoining the site along the southeastern boundary is Mount St Joseph Catholic College.

A substantial number of bus stops are located along Bullecourt Avenue and Horsley Road, servicing routes that connect passengers both within and beyond the LGA, including direct links to Bankstown Central (approximately 8.5km drive from the site), Westfield Burwood, and Westfield Miranda. While the nearest train line is the T8, accessible via East Hills, Panania, and Revesby stations, the T6 line at Bankstown Station can also be reached via bus services operating near the site.

1.2 Relevant SEARs

This Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment Report (ACHAR) addresses the following relevant Secretary's Environmental Assessment Requirements (SEARs) set out in Table 1 below.

Table 1 SEARs Compliance Table

SEARS Request	Response
21. Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Where there is known, or reasonably likely, to be Aboriginal cultural heritage on or near the site demonstrate that impacts have been adequately investigated and assessed by: - Identifying that an appropriate prior planning process has already considered these impacts, e.g. a rezoning or development application, or - Providing an initial assessment of the potential impacts. If potential impacts are significant, provide an Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment Report (ACHAR) which: - Identifies, describes and assesses any impacts to Aboriginal cultural heritage sites or values associated with the site. - Is prepared in accordance with relevant guidelines.	Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment Report

1.3 Project Methodology

This ACHA report was prepared in accordance with, but not limited to, the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974 (NPW Act), the National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019 (NPW Regulation), the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A Act), Canterbury Bankstown Local Environmental Plan (LEP), and the State Environmental Planning Policies (SEPPs). The following guidelines and codes of practice have been used in preparing this ACHA report:

- Guide to Investigating, Assessing and Reporting on Aboriginal Cultural Heritage in NSW* (OEH 2011)
- Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Consultation Requirements for Proponents* (DECCW 2010a).
- Code of Practice for Archaeological Investigation of Aboriginal Objects in NSW* (DECCW 2010b)

In accordance with the guidelines this report has:

- outlined the Project Area and proposed activity (project proposal) (Section 1.2 and 7.1)
- outlined the Aboriginal consultation process (Section 3 and Appendix 1),
- provided relevant background information (Section 4.1 and 4.2),
- undertaken an assessment of cultural heritage values (Section 6),
- undertaken an impact assessment, including consideration of avoidance and/or mitigating harm (Section 7), and
- provided recommendations (Section 8).

1.4 Overview of Project Proposal

The project will be delivered in stages and across two separate SSDA Projects, and comprises the construction of up to 430 dwellings, three (3) public parks, new roads and shared paths, civil infrastructure, a car park, and the management of conservation land.

Specifically, across the two SSDAs, consent is sought for:

- Tree removal
- Site remediation (excluding works carried out as category 2 remediation works)
- Construction of bulk earthworks, public roads and landscaping, and services
- Augmentation of existing services and road infrastructure
- Construction of three (3) public parks
- Construction of up to 430 dwelling houses
- Construction of a carpark to service the existing childcare centre and E1 Local Centre zoned land
- Subdivision resulting in up to 430 residential lots, infrastructure lots, and the creation of a community title lot for land zoned C2 Environmental Conservation and E1 Local Centre
- Conservation works including the management of >2Ha Cumberland Plain Woodland Species.

This SSDA comprises of all Civil works across the entirety of the site as well as the construction of all 62 dwellings in Stages 1 and 2 only, which are as follows:

- Stage 1 – Commencement of site-wide tree removal and land remediation, creation of two (2) super lots and total of 22 residential lots, and construction of 22 dwelling houses fronting Ashford Avenue. This will be the first stage to be delivered and will connect into the existing infrastructure that located within Ashford Avenue.

2 Legislative Context

This section provides an outline of the Acts, Regulations and guidelines under which this assessment was undertaken. It is for information purposes only and should not be taken as legal advice.

2.1 Native Title Act 1993 (Cth)

The Native Title Act 1993 recognises and protects the native title rights and interests of Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders. The Act established the National Native Title Tribunal as an independent body to administer native title claims. It also authorises the making and registration of Indigenous Land Use Agreements about the use and management of land or waters.

A search of the National Native Title Tribunal registers of native title information was undertaken on 24 March 2025. There are no relevant entries for the Project Area on the Register of Native Title Claims, National Native Title Register, or Register of Indigenous Land Use Agreements.

2.2 Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983 (NSW)

This Act provides land rights to Aboriginal people through the Local Aboriginal Land Councils. It details a process for claiming unused Crown land in NSW and for enabling land use. It also allows for agreements to permit traditional hunting, fishing and gathering. The Office of the Registrar, Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983 (NSW) (ORALRA), registers land claims and maintains the Register of Aboriginal Land Claims and Register of Aboriginal Owners.

No part of the Project Area is Crown land and no claim against the land under this Act can be made.

2.3 National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974 (NSW)

The NPW Act contains provisions for protecting Aboriginal objects and declared Aboriginal places in NSW. An Aboriginal object is defined as:

...any deposit, object or material evidence (not being a handicraft made for sale) relating to the Aboriginal habitation of the area that comprises New South Wales, being habitation before or concurrent with (or both) the occupation of that area by persons of non-Aboriginal extraction, and includes Aboriginal remains.

An Aboriginal place is an area of land that “is or was of special significance with respect to Aboriginal culture”, and is recognised by a declaration published in the Government Gazette by the Minister for Environment and Heritage.

Under Section 86 of the NPW Act, it is an offence to harm (destroy, deface or damage) or desecrate an Aboriginal object or an Aboriginal Place. The definition of harm includes moving an object from the land on which it is situated. The NPW Act sets out tiered strict liability offences and penalties for harming or desecrating Aboriginal objects or places.

Under Section 87, there are certain defences to the offence of harm. These include that harm was carried out under an Aboriginal Heritage Impact Permit (AHIP); that due diligence was exercised to determine if an action would harm an Aboriginal object; or that the activity was prescribed as a low impact act in the NPW Regulation.

The Aboriginal Heritage Information Management System (AHIMS) holds information about Aboriginal sites (Aboriginal objects and declared Aboriginal Places) in NSW. Under Section 89A, the location of an Aboriginal object must be reported to Heritage NSW within a reasonable time, unless it has previously been identified and a record submitted to AHIMS.

2.3.1 National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019

The National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019 (NPW Regulation) provides a framework for exercising due diligence and identifies codes of practice to determine whether an activity is likely to cause harm to Aboriginal objects (Section 57), as well as specifically defines certain low impact activities (Section 58). Compliance with the Due Diligence Code of Practice for the Protection of Aboriginal Objects in NSW (DECCW 2010c) or other industry specific code adopted under the NPW Regulation constitutes a defence against prosecution if an Aboriginal object is unknowingly harmed without an Aboriginal Heritage Impact Permit.

The NPW Regulation also outlines requirements for Aboriginal consultation (Section 60) and matters to be dealt with in an Aboriginal cultural heritage assessment report (Section 61), to be submitted with an Aboriginal Heritage Impact Permit application.

2.4 Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (NSW)

The EP&A Act provides triggers for undertaking environmental and heritage assessments as part of the wider land-use planning framework. Part 4 details how authorities are to determine development applications, as well as identifying whether projects require an Environmental Impact Statement. Part 9 outlines the implementation and enforcement of the EP&A Act.

The EP&A Act also allows for the making of environmental planning instruments: SEPPs that deal with matters of state or regional planning significance, and LEPs for the purpose of planning within a local government area.

2.4.1 State Environmental Planning Policy (Housing) 2021

There are no specific Aboriginal cultural heritage policies or requirements in relation to the Project Area within the SEPP.

2.4.2 Canterbury Bankstown LEP 2023

The Canterbury Bankstown LEP 2023 requires development consent to demolish, disturb, excavate or develop land on which an Aboriginal object is located or that is within an Aboriginal place of significance. Council must consider the effect of a proposal on an Aboriginal Place and any Aboriginal object located within an area of works. Council must inform the local Aboriginal community about the application where impacts to Aboriginal cultural heritage may occur. Protected heritage under the LEP is listed in Schedule 5.

There are no Aboriginal objects or places of significance within the Project Area listed on Schedule 5 of the LEP.

2.4.3 Canterbury Bankstown Development Control Plan (2023)

The Canterbury Bankstown 2023 (amended 2024) Development Control Plan (DCP) supplements the Canterbury Bankstown LEP and contains more detailed provisions to guide development. Chapter 11.13 sets out the general provisions related to the Former WSU Campus, Milperra. Section 3.9 addresses Aboriginal cultural heritage within the area and lists the following conditions:

- An Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment (ACHA) is required before any ground disturbing works commence, for any subdivisions or developments on land adjacent to or containing C2 Environmental Conservation Zone.
- An Unexpected Find Protocol is required prior to any works (remediation, earthwork, or construction) within lands identified in the Heritage Interpretation Map.

3 Aboriginal Consultation

This section documents the Aboriginal Consultation that was undertaken for the project in accordance with the Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Consultation Requirements for Proponents (OEH, formerly DECCW 2010b) and will be referred to as the 'Aboriginal Consultation Requirements'. The four stages of Aboriginal consultation were undertaken, and additional documentation is available in Appendix 1.

3.1 Stage 1

In accordance with Stage 1 of the Aboriginal Consultation Requirements, requests for information on the names of Aboriginal people who hold knowledge relevant to determining the cultural significance of any Aboriginal objects and/or places in the Project Area were sent to:

- Heritage NSW, Department of Planning and Environment,
- Gandangara Local Aboriginal Land Council,
- the Registrar appointed under the Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983,
- Canterbury Bankstown Council,
- National Native Title Tribunal,
- NTSCORP Limited, and
- Greater Sydney Local Land Services.

The National Native Title Tribunal has undertaken steps to remove itself from the formal list of sources for information about Aboriginal knowledge holders. Information on native title claims, native title determinations and Indigenous Land Use Agreements is available by searching the Tribunal registers (Section 2.1).

Based on information provided by these agencies, Aboriginal people identified as potential knowledge holders were notified of the proposed project on 2 May 2025, and invited to register an expression of interest in the community consultation process.

A public notice providing a description of the proposed project and inviting expressions of interest from the Aboriginal community was also placed in the Koori Mail on 21 May 2025.

Following the project notifications and publication of the public notice, 16 Aboriginal people and organisations nominated to become RAPs for the Project (Table 2).

3.2.1 Archaeological Survey

An archaeological survey of the Project Area was undertaken on 13 August 2025, attended by Justine Coplin (Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation). Opportunities for feedback were also provided during the fieldwork (Table 4).

Organisation	Representative	Date	Information Provided
Justine Coplin	Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation	13/08/2025	Justine agreed that the majority of the Project Area has been extensively disturbed, and that there is low potential for harm to Aboriginal heritage. Justine identified the importance of ongoing caring for country, and ensuring that native plants and animals can continue to find habitat in the Project Area post-development. Justine agreed that the north-east portion of the Project Area should be kept as a conservation area, and recommended that rehabilitation be undertaken to remove weeds and encourage the growth of native plants. She suggested that the area could be visited by nearby schools (for example, for Clean Up Australia Day), to teach students about conservation. She also recommended retention of as many mature trees as possible throughout the Project Area, particularly near the existing childcare centre and along the northern boundary, to ensure ongoing habitat for native animals.

3.4 Summary

As a result of the Aboriginal consultation process, 16 RAPs were identified. Feedback from the Aboriginal consultation was incorporated into the assessment of significance and the development of heritage management and mitigation strategies for the Project.

4 Environmental and Heritage Context

This section outlines the environmental and heritage context for the Project Area.

4.1 Environmental Context

This section provides the environmental context for the assessment of past Aboriginal occupation in the Project Area, focusing on whether there are any landscape features likely to indicate the presence of Aboriginal objects. Such landscapes include undisturbed land:

- within 200m of waters, or
- located within a sand dune system, or
- located on a ridge top, ridge line or headland, or
- located within 200m below or above a cliff face, or
- within 20m of or in a cave, rock shelter, or a cave mouth (DECCW 2010c, 12).

4.1.1 Geology and Soils

The Project Area is in the Cumberland subregion of the Sydney Basin bioregion. This sub-region, comprising the Cumberland Plain, is a broad basin of Wianamatta Group Ashfield Shale, consisting of dark grey to black claystone-siltstone and fine sandstone-siltstone laminate (Clark and Jones 1991). While sheets of flat fine-grained sandstone could have been utilised for engravings/art, and for grinding axes and other stone artefacts if in proximity to water, and suitable outcrops of sandstone could have been used for rock shelters and art, no such sandstone is known to occur within the Project Area.

Overlying the geology is the Blacktown soil landscape, which is residual and comprises gently undulating rises with broad rounded crests and gently inclined slopes. Local relief is typically up to 30m and slopes >5% (Chapman and Murphy 2020, 39). On crests and ridges, this soil landscape is expected to consist of up to 30cm of friable brownish black loam (A₁ Horizon), overlying between 10-20cm of hard setting brown clay loam (A₂ Horizon), overlying clay (B Horizon) (Chapman and Murphy 2020, 40–41) (Figure 3). Aboriginal archaeological deposits within duplex soils are generally limited to A horizon soils, as B horizon clay soils (or bedrock) form a compact barrier through which artefacts typically do not penetrate. Therefore, if the Blacktown soils have not been subjected to erosion or stripping, and depending on the landform upon which they are located and in consideration of surrounding archaeological indicators, they may consist of 40-50cm of potential artefact bearing deposit.

4.1.2 Topography, Hydrology and Landforms

Access to fresh water is known as a primary consideration for Aboriginal people when selecting camp site locations. The sensitivity of waterways for Aboriginal campsites is also reflected in the Due Diligence Code of Practice, which considers areas within 200m of waters archaeologically sensitive (DECCW 2010c, 12).

The Project Area is situated across a hill crest and slope landform, with an elevation of 22m AHD in the north-eastern corner, sloping down to 6m AHD in the south-west (Figure 3). It is 250m north of a non-perennial 1st order stream which flows westward to the Georges River, 1.7km west of the Project Area (Figure 4). The stream is fresh water and may have been permanent in the past. Hydrology in the region has been extensively impacted by development, and south-west of the Project Area were wetlands according to a military map of 1929 (see Section 4.1.4). This proximity not only to fresh water, but the resources of wetlands and a position elevated above the floodplain, may have made the Project Area an attractive location for Aboriginal people in the past.

4.1.3 Flora and Fauna

This section is intended to give a general overview of the flora and fauna that may have been used by Aboriginal people in the past. The information is supplied for understanding the past Aboriginal use of the landscape and is not intended for ecological assessment purposes.

Past Aboriginal people may have encountered vegetation similar to Cumberland dry sclerophyll forest in the Project Area, dominated by ironbark eucalypts and paperbarks. Cumberland Dry Sclerophyll Forests are associated with gravelly clay soils on flat to undulating terrain with extensive shale plains. Fauna that inhabited these woodlands would likely have included bats, gliders, quolls, goannas and birds (Keith 2004).

Some of these species may have been used by Aboriginal people as raw materials for implements and weaving, as well as food and medicine. The hardwoods of eucalypts can be used to create tools such as digging sticks, clubs, throwing spears, shields, and boomerangs as well as vessels for carrying and collecting food (Nash, Daphne 2004, 7–8). The seed heads of kangaroo grass can be collected and used to produce flour to bake into damper (Nash, Daphne 2004).

4.1.4 Land Use

Land is disturbed if it has been the subject of human activity that has changed the land's surface, being changes that remain clear and observable. Examples include ploughing, construction of rural infrastructure, roads, trails and tracks, vegetation clearance, construction of buildings, structures, utilities and other impacts involving earthworks (DECCW 2010c, 18).

The Project Area is within a grant of 650 acres made to George Johnston Junior (Figure 5) in 1819, who grazed cattle and sheep including government herds (Yarwood 1967). A military map of 1929 (Figure 6) shows the western edge of the Project Area aligned with Ashford Avenue and subdivided into five lots with small houses along the roadway. In the north, next to Bullecourt Avenue, there is a school. This map appears to evidence the 'soldier settlement' which started to be developed in Bankstown in 1917 over an estate which included the Project Area (Figure 7). The aim of the soldier settlement was to provide suitable land for returning soldiers and their families with different capacities and suitability (Allison 2009). The surveyor of the estate, S. F. Arnheim, prior to subdivision, described the land as:

... undulating sandy soils partly sandstone formation partly shale formation... There is suckling timber generally on the land, with thick undergrowth ti tree scrub thorn tree scrub of the usual coastal variety. There are some matured trees of little or no value... I would suggest that the land should be used for orchard and poultry farming (Allison 2009, 148).

Figure 7. Bankstown Soldiers' Settlement 1918 showing the location of the Project Area. (Source: Department of Lands, Sydney, NSW in Allison 2009, 149, with Heritage Now additions)

On the 1929 map, the Project Area is not marked as forested, unlike the land on the other side of Ashford Avenue or to the south-east. Directly south of the Project Area, there is swampland. A contemporary photograph of Bullecourt Avenue (Figure 8) shows the soldier settlement beginning to develop. There are thin stands of trees and low earth banks along the road, behind which the earth is flat, cleared and sandy. The topsoils of the Blacktown soil landscape have high levels of fine sand and silt (Chapman and Murphy 2020, 26), and it is possible that the removal of most of the vegetation has resulted in significant erosion and leaching as well as the transferral of windblown sands from closer to the river by this time.

An aerial photograph from 1947 (Figure 9) confirms that most of the land has been cleared of vegetation except for a forested area in the north-east and an area on the eastern boundary. The forested areas, however, are likely to be recent growth rather than original forest based on the observations of the 1917 survey. Industrial buildings and hardstand areas appear along Ashford Avenue, with the exception of three lots towards the south which appear to retain domestic architecture and paddocks.

A new College of Advanced Education was formed at the site after 1973. In 1976, 'general purpose Building 1' (Figure 10) was opened to cater for increased student numbers (University of Western Sydney 2017) and as the 1978 aerial photo illustrates, earlier market gardens, houses and industrial buildings had been removed to make way for further development of the site for education facilities. At this stage the forested area along the eastern margin of the Project Area had been removed, as had nearly half of the trees to the north-east. An oval sporting ground and an agricultural area were being constructed in the south and south-east. A photograph from 2005 (Figure 11) shows increasing development at the site, including multi-storey buildings on the western side of the Project Area north of the oval. There is an increase in the number of trees in the north and in the extent and thickness of the forested area in the north-east and there are two areas of asphalt carpark between this area and the buildings.

A satellite image of the Project Area from February 2025 (Figure 12) shows building along the whole western side on Ashford Avenue, building into the forested area on the north-east and demolition in the centre of the site with earthworks. A water detention basin has been installed in the south-western corner. An August 2025 image of the Project Area shows that all of the buildings in the western portion have been demolished (Figure 13).

The majority of the Project Area has been heavily disturbed by earthworks and building over the past 50 years, with disturbance through clearing, building, earthmoving, agriculture and pastoral practices for 150 years before that. The forested area in the north-east may retain some topsoil and the potential for intact deposit, since it appears to have been the least disturbed terrain in the Project Area, although the vegetation is likely to be regrowth, considering particularly that it is not marked as forested on the 1929 map.

4.2 Heritage Context

A review of the archaeological, ethno-historical and post-contact history of an area provides contextual information for Aboriginal sites within the local and regional landscape. Previous archaeological research undertaken in the region, as well as environmental factors, can inform predictive models for the locations of Aboriginal sites. Predictive models can be further refined by the consideration of the post-contact land use of the area, which may identify potential sources of post-depositional disturbances that may have occurred.

4.2.1 Historic Records of Aboriginal Occupation (Ethnohistory)

The Project Area falls within the traditional country of the Darug (also spelt Dharuk, Dharruk, Dharug and Daruk) language group. Darug territory extends from the Hawkesbury River in the north, to Appin in the south, and west into the Blue Mountains, an area which incorporates some of the oldest archaeological sites in the Sydney region (Attenbrow 2010, 18–19).

Available sources indicate that two distinct dialects of Darug were spoken at the time of European contact. These comprised a ‘coastal’ dialect, spoken on the Sydney peninsula and the country to the north of Port Jackson, and a ‘hinterland’ dialect, spoken on the Cumberland Plain from Appin in the south to the Hawkesbury River in the north (Attenbrow 2010, 34). This linguistic division is suggested to correspond to a broader economic division between ‘coastal’ and ‘hinterland’ Darug-speaking peoples.

A wide range of marine, freshwater, terrestrial and avian fauna were exploited by Darug-speaking peoples for food. Coastal groups are reported to have exploited a wide range of fish and shellfish, as well as crustacea such as crabs and crayfish, and marine mammals such as seals and whales. Hinterland groups, on the other hand, relied heavily on land mammals such as kangaroos, wallabies, possums, fruit bats and echidnas, with freshwater fish, shellfish, crustacea and tortoises and mammals (e.g. platypus and water rats) also eaten. Complementing faunal resources in both areas, were a range of plant foods, some of which were also used for medicine and implement manufacture. As highlighted by Attenbrow (2010, 18–19), although only about 20 plants in the Sydney region can be confidently identified as sources of food or raw materials on the basis of colonial observations, the presence in the region of over 200 plant species known to have been consumed in other parts of south-eastern Australia, suggests that the total number of plant foods exploited was likely much higher.

As in other parts of south-eastern Australia, a wide range of hunting and gathering gear was employed by Darug speaking peoples. Known tools and weapons include wooden fishing and hunting spears (variously barbed with shell, chipped stone tools, fish/shark teeth, sharpened fish or animal bone), wooden spear-throwers and boomerangs, fishing hooks (typically shell but also bird talons, bone and wood), lines and sinkers (small stones), ground stone hatchets, stone pounders and wedges, chipped stone tools such as ‘bondi points’ and scrapers, as well as wooden shields, clubs and digging sticks, bark baskets, net bags and wooden dishes (Attenbrow 2010, 85). Bark canoes were also widely used, and two major forms of shelter appear to have been utilised at the time of European contact: rock-shelters and small huts built from sheets of bark, branches and bushes.

Despite these general associations and historical records, there are no specific historical records of Aboriginal people in association with the Project Area.

4.2.2 Archaeological Background

Australia and New Guinea were connected as a single continental landmass called Sahul and have been occupied by humans for at least 65,000 years (Clarkson et al. 2017). Eastern NSW has been occupied from at least 50,000 years ago (Williams et al. 2017). The earliest archaeological evidence of occupation for the Sydney Basin comes from alluvial deposits at the Cranebrook Terrace, on the banks of the Nepean River about 25km north-west of the current Project Area, dating to approximately 41,700 ±3000/-2000 years ago (ANU-4016), however most sites in the Sydney region date to the last 3,000 to 5,000 years (Attenbrow 2010, 18–19; Nanson, Young, and Stockton 1987, 77).

Most details of known Aboriginal archaeology in the region are contained in the AHIMS, discussed below (see Table 6 for a description of site types identified in the AHIMS search for the Project Area and its vicinity).

Table 6. Aboriginal site features description, as per OEH 2012 unless otherwise referenced.

Site Features	OEH 2012 Description
Aboriginal Resource and Gathering	Related to everyday activities such as food gathering, hunting, or collection and manufacture of materials and goods for use or trade.
Art	Art is found in shelters, overhangs and across rock formations. Techniques include painting, drawing, scratching, engraving, pitting, conjoining, abrading and the use of a range of binding agents and the use of natural pigments obtained from clays, charcoal and plants.
Artefact	Objects such as stone tools, and associated flaked material, spears, manuports, grindstones, discarded stone flakes, modified glass or shell demonstrating evidence of use of the area by Aboriginal people.
Grinding Groove	A groove in a rock surface resulting from manufacture of stone tools such as ground edge hatchets and spears; may also include rounded depressions resulting from grinding of seeds and grains.
Modified Tree	Trees which show the marks of modification as a result of cutting of bark from the trunk for use in the production of shields, canoes, boomerangs, burials shrouds, for medicinal purposes, foot holds etc; or intentional carving of the heartwood of the tree to form a permanent marker to indicate ceremonial use/significance of a nearby area, again these carvings may also act as territorial or burial markers.
Potential Archaeological Deposit (PAD)	An area where sub-surface stone artefacts and/or other cultural materials are likely to occur' (DECCW 2010b, 38).
Shell	An accumulation or deposit of shellfish from beach, estuarine, lacustrine or riverine species resulting from Aboriginal gathering and consumption. Usually found in deposits previously referred to as shell middens. Must be found in association with other objects like stone tools, fish bones, charcoal, fireplaces/hearths or burials. Will vary greatly in size and components.

4.2.3 Aboriginal Heritage Information Management System (AHIMS)

Aboriginal sites recorded in NSW are registered with geographic co-ordinates in the AHIMS and are protected under the NPW Act. Data in AHIMS can provide information on Aboriginal site patterning, as well as showing if Aboriginal sites occur in the Project Area.

The AHIMS was searched on 21 March 2025 from coordinates GDA, Zone 56, Eastings 309895 to 318895, Northings 6238125 to 6247125 (Appendix 2). The search produced a result of 79 sites (Figure 14), which include 18 that have been classified as not archaeological sites (and have therefore been removed from Table 7). The majority of the sites identified in the search are valid, usually meaning that they have not been subject to an AHIP. The AHIMS search indicates that two sites have been completely destroyed.

Over two-thirds of the sites within the search area include stone artefacts, and a third of sites are associated with sandstone (art, grinding groove or closed/shelter sites). The remaining sites are Potential Archaeological Deposits (PAD), modified trees, shell or Aboriginal resource and gathering sites (Table 7).

There are no registered sites within the Project Area, and the closest site is an area of PAD located 862m to the south-west.

4.2.4 Heritage Report Summaries

Heritage reports relevant to the Project Area have been summarised in this section to provide an understanding of the previous assessments that have been undertaken and the implications for Aboriginal site patterning.

Biosis (2023) Archaeological Survey, 270-286 Horsley Road, Milperra

Investigations were conducted into a 7.63ha study area located at 270-286 Horsley Road, Milperra for a proposed industrial development. This study area is located approximately 20m east of the current study area.

Geotechnical testing results were included in the report, noting:

- There were generally shallow to moderate fill deposits within the Project Area, overlying moderate to deep alluvial and residual clays.
- The Project Area has experienced considerable cutting and filling
- Fill deposits ranged between 0.7-4m in the east and 0.2-0.5m in the west of the Project Area
- Clay depths within the north-eastern portion of the Project Area ranged between 7.5-13m, suggesting the Project Area is on a transitional area between the Blacktown and alluvial Birrong soil landscapes

A pedestrian survey was conducted encountering poor visibility as the majority of the study area was sealed by asphalt and concrete. Ground surface exposures show soils consisted of imported materials. The study area was highly disturbed and may have been bulk excavated and filled with imported material to level the site. No Aboriginal sites or objects were identified.

The study area is considered to have high cultural significance, as it belongs to the broader cultural landscape that is connected to the Georges River; however, it has low archaeological potential. It was recommended Aboriginal site officers be present during the removal of the concrete and sealed surfaces, so soils can be inspected. If A horizon soils are identified an archaeologist is to be called to determine whether further investigation is required (Biosis 2023).

Haglund (1984) Archaeological Survey, Freeway No. 5, between King Georges Road Beverly Hills, and Heathcote Road Moorebank

An archaeological survey was conducted of a 12.7km long proposed freeway route from Moorebank to Beverly Hills. This study area is 30m south of the current Project Area. The survey identified two sites. Greenwood 1 was identified within the Greenwood Golf Course, comprising isolated artefacts sometimes spaced 100m apart, over an area approximately 750m x 80m. Isolated Find 1 was a silcrete flake, located behind Freda Place, west of Nuwarra Road. No Aboriginal sites or objects were identified within or near the current Project Area. As the proposed freeway would impact the edge of the artefact scatter (Greenwood 1), it was recommended that a permit be obtained for the partial destruction of the site, with care taken not to damage the remainder of the site; a permit to destroy Isolated Find 1 was also recommended (Haglund 1984).

Biosis (2006) Archaeological Survey, Agility Gas Main, Sydney Primary Loop: Liverpool to Marrickville

The route of a proposed new 30km natural gas main between Casula and Marrickville South was investigated. This study area is 252m south of the current Project Area.

A targeted archaeological survey was conducted along the route of the gas main. Over all, the survey identified that the majority of the route was highly disturbed and had low archaeological potential. The only areas with moderate archaeological potential were where Aboriginal sites were identified. A total of three sites were identified during the survey: SPL 1, SPL 2, and SPL 3.

An open campsite and PAD (SPL 1) was identified in the area of the Lieutenant Cantello Reserve, Hammondville. A total of seven artefacts of mudstone and quartz were identified along a 40m stretch of road verge, and may have been washed down from further uphill. The associated PAD is located across a river flat landform, extending from the western gate of the Reserve, to the western bank of the Georges River. The sites SPL 2 and SPL 3 were identified within Deepwater Park, Milperra. A scarred tree (SPL 2) consisted of a dead Eucalypt tree that has two scars: scar 1 is probably of Aboriginal origin due to its symmetrical growth, and scar 2 is possibly of Aboriginal origin as it has asymmetrical regrowth. Drill holes were observed on the trunk and on several trees nearby, suggesting the trees may have been poisoned. Site SPL 3 is an identified PAD within the Park, and encompassed the pond banks and river flat landforms within the Park.

The cultural significance of the identified sites was not provided by Aboriginal stakeholders. However, in terms of scientific significance, the sites SPL 1 and SPL 3 were considered to have low significance and SPL 2 had moderate significance. It was recommended that a consent to destroy permit should be obtained for the sites SPL 1 and SPL 3 for the destruction of the associated PADs, as they have low archaeological integrity. Under this permit, the artefacts identified at SPL 1 should be removed and deposited in an agreed upon repository. The site SPL 2 should be fenced off and protected during the works. It is recommended for the site's long term management that the tree is inspected by an arborist to assess its condition, stability, and potential for deterioration (Biosis Research 2006).

Austral Archaeology (2022) Archaeological Survey, 339-349 Horsley Road, Milperra

A study area at 339-349 Horsley Road, Milperra was investigated for a proposed new two-story multi unit warehouse facility. It is located approximately 340m north of the current Project Area. A pedestrian survey was conducted, encountering low visibility and extensive disturbance from the industrial development within the study area. No Aboriginal objects or sites were identified. The archaeological potential of the site was considered to be low. It was recommended no further assessments of the study area are required (Austral Archaeology 2022).

AHMS (2012) Archaeological Survey, Riverlands Golf Course, Milperra

The area of the Riverlands Golf Course was investigated for a potential rezoning of the southeastern portion. This study area is located approximately 1.246km west of the current Project Area.

Geotechnical testing was undertaken within the study area in 2006. A total of seven test pits were excavated to depths between 1.6-3.4m. The results indicated that 0.2-1.6m of soil consisted of either fills (sandy clay mixed with brick, plastic or ironstone fragment) or dark brown silty clay top soils. This overlies dark brown medium grained sand to grey sand with some silt between the depths of 0.8-2m. In the southern and eastern portions of the study area the fill and top soils deposits overlaid yellow brown mottled clay deposits that had weathered sandstone and/or silty clays.

A pedestrian survey was undertaken, encountering low visibility due to vegetation coverage. Exposure were inspected and not natural soil profiles were identified. Parts of the study area were found to be extensively disturbed from the construction of buildings and dams and water features.

The southeastern portion of the study area was at a higher elevation compared to the rest of the study area, and while it was difficult to determine the level of disturbance in this portion, it was likely to have been used and occupied by past Aboriginal people. No Aboriginal sites or objects were identified.

Overall, almost the entire study area is considered to have low-moderate archaeological sensitivity, while the south-eastern portion has moderate-high archaeological sensitivity. It was recommended that subsurface investigations be undertaken across the entire study area, to compare the results of the moderate-high and the low-moderate archaeologically sensitivity areas (Archaeological & Heritage Management Solutions 2012).

Heritage Concepts (2007) Archaeological Survey, Riverlands, Milperra

Investigations were conducted into a 90ha area on the eastern side of the Georges River, where the Riverlands precinct is proposed. This study area includes the Riverlands Golf Course and an area that has been sand mined. The proposed development includes the construction of residential developments; outdoor recreation areas; marine, hotel and retail precincts; and relocation of the existing golf course. This study area is located approximately 1.246km west of the current Project Area.

An archaeological survey was conducted across the study area. The study area was found to be extensively disturbed by past land use practices, such as sanding mining and the construction of dams and drainage channels, and many areas are considered to have no potential for Aboriginal sites to survive. No Aboriginal sites or objects were identified and was considered to have very low potential to retain archaeological material. There are no archaeological constraints for the proposed development (Heritage Concepts 2007).

Urbis (2024) Archaeological Survey, 61 Milperra Road, Revesby

The site of a proposed new multi-story private hospital was investigated. This study area is approximately 1.8km northwest of the Project Area.

Geotechnical investigations were conducted within the study area. A total of 31 boreholes were drilled, finding the natural soils had been removed and fill used to level the site. In the southern portion of the study area, topsoil consisting of fill material overlies natural clay soils.

A pedestrian survey was conducted, encountering low ground surface visibility due to the existing warehouse buildings and sealed surfaces. The site had experienced ground disturbance from cut and fill activities to level the site, as well as for the construction of warehouses, vehicle access, and parking. No Aboriginal sites or artefacts were identified.

It was considered the study area had low archaeological potential and low archaeological significance. There are no archaeological constraints for the proposed development (Urbis 2024).

4.2.5 Synthesis and Predictive Modelling

The Project Area is located within the Cumberland subregion of the Sydney Basin bioregion and is situated across a hill crest and slope landform. It is 250m north of a non-perennial 1st order stream and 1.7km east of the estuarine Georges River. As the Project Area is in the vicinity of water, estuarine and woodland resources, it may have been attractive as a resource and food gathering location for past Aboriginal people. However, an analysis of past land-use suggests that ground disturbance has occurred throughout the majority of the Project Area, as a result of vegetation clearance and the construction and demolition of education buildings and associated services and amenities.

A search of the AHIMS database identified no registered sites within the Project Area, the closest being an area of PAD approximately 862m south-west. Within the AHIMS search area, artefact sites represent over two-thirds of registered sites, with a third of the total number of sites associated with sandstone (art, grinding groove or shelter sites); however, no suitable sandstone outcrops are known to occur within the Project Area.

Previous investigations nearby (Biosis 2023; Haglund 1984, Austral Archaeology 2022) have not identified any Aboriginal sites near the Project Area. These previous investigations have generally found the Milperra area to be highly disturbed from past land use activities, and unlikely to retain any evidence of past Aboriginal occupation.

A review of the environmental and heritage context indicates that the most likely site types to occur within the Project Area are low-density artefact sites; however, any such sites are likely to occur in disturbed contexts.

5 Archaeological Survey

The aim of the survey was to identify Aboriginal sites within the Project Area as per the guidelines (DECCW 2010b, 12)

The Project Area was surveyed by Jenna Weston of Heritage Now and Justine Coplin of Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation on 13 August 2025. All landforms were sampled, and the survey units are shown in Figure 16.

5.1 Survey Results

The Project Area was surveyed in two survey units, based on landform and levels of prior disturbance (Figure 16). The overall visibility of the Project Area was generally good, despite being somewhat affected by vegetation coverage and areas of hardstand, particularly in the north and east (Table 8, Table 9). No Aboriginal objects or areas of potential archaeological deposit were found.

Survey Unit 1 (SU1)

This survey unit comprises the forested crest in the north-east portion of the Project Area. It is the least disturbed terrain in the Project Area, although the vegetation appears to be regrowth (Plate 1). Weeds and rubbish were prevalent around the boundary, adjacent to the fenceline along Bullecourt Avenue (to the north) and Horsley Road (to the east) and the ATF fencing along the driveway (to the west). There was also a telecommunications facility adjacent to the eastern fence (Plate 2). The interior of this area was relatively free of weeds and rubbish, with a low grass and small tree layer amongst the taller trees (Plate 3), and there were some larger trees to the north of the existing childcare centre (Plate 4). Visibility in this area was relatively limited due to vegetation but there were some small areas of exposure, which showed dark brown topsoil with natural stone inclusions (Plate 5). No stone artefacts or modified trees were found.

Survey Unit 2 (SU2)

This survey unit comprises the slope down from the crest in SU1, and has been heavily disturbed by building construction and demolition, installation of services and drainage control/earthworks. Visibility was good, and soils were predominantly clays and sands with extensive demolition rubble throughout (Plate 6). Other than disturbance in the former location of buildings, there was evidence of services and other major earthworks/landscape modification, particularly in the east and south (Plate 7). This modification appears to have been undertaken to control drainage, as the landform slopes down towards the south-east; the south-east portion of the Project Area was low-lying and likely floodprone prior to the landform being built up (Plate 8). There were casuarina trees between the southern fenceline of the Project Area and the adjacent M5 motorway, indicating a water-prone area (Plate 9). There were some larger trees, particularly along the northern boundary, but no evidence of Aboriginal modification was seen (Plate 10).

5.1.1 Aboriginal Consultation

Justine Coplin of Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation agreed that the majority of the Project Area has been extensively disturbed, and that the archaeological sensitivity is low. Justine identified the importance of ongoing caring for country, and ensuring that native plants and animals can continue to find habitat in the Project Area post-development. Justine agreed that the north-east portion of the Project Area should be kept as a conservation area, and recommended that rehabilitation be undertaken to remove weeds and encourage the growth of native plants. She suggested that the area could be visited by nearby schools (for example, for Clean Up Australia Day), to teach students about conservation. She also recommended retention of as many mature trees as possible throughout the Project Area, particularly near the existing childcare centre and along the northern boundary, to ensure ongoing habitat for native animals.

5.1.2 Summary

No Aboriginal objects or areas of potential archaeological deposit were found during the survey, and the majority of the Project Area has been extensively disturbed. As such, the archaeological sensitivity is assessed to be low.

6 Significance Assessment and Aboriginal Cultural Values

Cultural heritage refers to the tangible and intangible values that we choose to pass on to future generations. In order to identify the values worth passing on, a significance assessment needs to be undertaken. The significance assessment needs to identify the range of values present across the Project Area and assess their importance.

6.1 Methodology

Identifying the Aboriginal cultural values is part of the significance assessment process and is guided by the Burra Charter and the Guide to Investigating, Assessing and Reporting on Aboriginal Cultural Heritage in NSW.

There are four recognised classes of values under the Burra Charter (Australia ICOMOS 2013):

- Social,
- Historical,
- Aesthetic, and
- Scientific.

Within this significance assessment, Aboriginal cultural values are captured within social, historical and aesthetic values. The archaeological values are contained within scientific values.

Social value refers to the spiritual, traditional, historical or contemporary associations that Aboriginal people have for place. Historical value refers to the associations of a place with a historically important person, event, phase or activity in the Aboriginal community. Aesthetic value refers to the sensory, scenic, architectural and creative aspects of the place.

Archaeological values refer to the importance of the landscape, area, place or object because of its rarity, representativeness and the extent to which it may inform our understanding of Aboriginal culture.

6.1.1 Aboriginal Cultural Values Methodology

Aboriginal cultural values are identified through the Aboriginal consultation process. Formal opportunities for the Aboriginal community to contribute to identifying cultural values are provided in the ACHA methodology review period, during fieldwork and during the draft report review period. In addition, RAPs are invited to provide feedback at any time through the consultation process, by phone or in writing (email or letter).

6.1.2 Archaeological (Scientific) Values Methodology

Archaeological (scientific) values relate to whether the Project Area can contribute to our understanding of Aboriginal culture. Under the Guide to Investigating, Assessing and Reporting on Aboriginal Cultural Heritage in NSW, archaeological values are to be considered within the below sub-categories:

- Representativeness,
- Rarity,
- Research potential, and
- Educational potential.

Significance is expressed as grades: low, moderate or high.

6.2 Aboriginal Cultural Values Assessment

Phil Khan of Kamilaroi Yankuntjatjara Working Group has identified that the Project Area is significant and sensitive to their people. During the survey, Justine Coplin of Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation identified the importance of ongoing caring for country, and ensuring that native plants and animals can continue to find habitat in the Project Area.

6.3 Historical and Aesthetic Values Assessment

The Project Area is not known to be associated with a historically important person, event, phase or activity in the Aboriginal community, and is therefore of low historical value.

The Project Area is of low aesthetic value in terms of sensory, scenic, architectural or creative aspects.

6.4 Archaeological Values Assessment

This section assesses the archaeological values of the Project Area according to the criteria in the Guide to Investigating, Assessing and Reporting on Aboriginal Cultural Heritage in NSW.

No Aboriginal objects have been found in the Project Area, and there is assessed to be low archaeological potential/value.

6.5 Summary: Statement of Significance

The Project Area is assessed to be of low historic, archaeological and aesthetic significance, and moderate cultural significance.

7 Impact Assessment and Mitigation

This section assesses the potential impact of the proposed works in relation to Aboriginal heritage values in the Project Area and provides options for mitigating loss of Aboriginal cultural values.

7.1 Proposed Works

The proposed development involves the construction of 49 dwelling houses, three (3) public parks, new roads and shared paths, civil infrastructure, a car park, and the management of conservation land. The proposed development also involves the subdivision of 49 residential lots, lots for land to be dedicated to the Council including parks and infrastructure and remaining residential super lots across the site.

Specifically, the proposed SSDA will seek consent for the following:

- Tree removal
- Site remediation (excluding works carried out as category 2 remediation works)
- Construction of bulk earthworks, public roads and landscaping, and services
- Augmentation of existing services and road infrastructure
- Construction of three (3) public parks
- Construction of 49 dwelling houses
- Construction of a carpark to service the existing childcare centre and E1 Local Centre zoned land
- Subdivision resulting in 49 residential lots, infrastructure lots, remaining super lots across the site, and the creation of a community title lot for land zoned C2 Environmental Conservation and E1 Local Centre
- Conservation works including the management of >2Ha Cumberland Plain Woodland Species.

The SSDA will seek consent for the staged delivery of the development (Figure 17). The general breakdown of each construction stage includes:

- Stage 1 – Commencement of site-wide tree removal and land remediation, creation of two (2) super lots and total of 22 residential lots, and construction of 22 dwelling houses fronting Ashford Avenue. This will be the first stage to be delivered and will connect into the existing infrastructure that located within Ashford Avenue.
- Stage 2 – Creation of four (4) super lots, a new lot (Lot 25) across the RE1 Public Recreation zoned land, and 27 residential lots. This stage also involves the construction of 27 dwellings within Stage 2, and the construction of new roads and the new public park referred to in the Civil Plans as the 'Central Park'.
- Stage 3a – Creation of a new super lot, and the construction of perimeter roads surrounding the existing childcare centre and C2 Environmental Conservation zoned land. It is proposed all associated civil works required to enable the operation of the existing childcare centre will be delivered under this stage. The new traffic intersections at both Bullecourt Avenue and Horsley Road will be constructed.
- Stage 3b – Creation of three (3) lots to be delivered under a Community Title Scheme, and the construction of a new car park to service the childcare centre and E1 Local Centre zoned land.

- Stage 4 – Creation of eight (8) super lots, a new lot (Lot 50) across the RE1 Public Recreation zoned land, and a new lot (Lot 49) across the SP2 Infrastructure zoned land. This stage also involves the construction of new roads, the stormwater infrastructure Basin 1 and Basin 2, and the new public park referred to in the Civil Plans as the ‘Southern Park’, all to be dedicated to Council. It is noted that the eight (8) super lots are designed to accommodate 107 final residential lots, but this additional subdivision will form part of a future application.
- Stage 5 – Creation of six (6) super lots, and construction of new roads and civil works. which make up a total of sixty-three (63) final residential lots and all associated road and civil works. It is noted that the six (6) super lots are designed to accommodate 63 final residential lots, but this additional subdivision will form part of a future application.
- Stage 6 – Creation of nine (9) super lots and a new lot (70) across the RE1 Public Recreation zoned land. This stage also involves the construction of new roads and civil works, and the new public park referred to in the Civil Plans as the ‘Northern Park’, all to be dedicated to Council. It is noted that the nine (9) super lots are designed to accommodate 92 final residential lots, but this additional subdivision will form part of a future application.
- Stage 7 – Creation of six (6) super lots, and construction of road and civil works. It is noted that the six (6) super lots are designed to accommodate 59 final residential lots, but this additional subdivision will form part of a future application.

7.2 Impact Assessment

No Aboriginal objects or areas of potential archaeological deposit were identified in the Project Area, and the archaeological sensitivity is assessed to be low. As such, no Aboriginal heritage impacts are anticipated from the proposed works and no AHIP is required.

7.3 Management Measures

The below strategies have been developed to prevent harm and/or loss of Aboriginal cultural values as a result of the proposed works.

All on-site personnel are to be made aware of their obligations under the NPW Act, which includes protection of Aboriginal sites and the reporting of any new, or suspected, Aboriginal heritage sites. This may be done through an on-site induction or other suitable format.

In the unlikely event that Aboriginal or suspected Aboriginal archaeological material is uncovered during the development, then works in that area are to stop and the area cordoned off. The Project Manager is to contact the Heritage Consultant to make an assessment as to whether the material is classed as Aboriginal object/s under the NPW Act and advise on the required management and mitigation measures. Works are not to re-commence in the cordoned off area until heritage clearance has been given and/or the required management and mitigation measures have been implemented.

In the unlikely event that human remains, or suspected human remains are uncovered during the development, then works in that area are to stop and the area cordoned off. The Project Manager is to contact the NSW Police to establish whether the area is a crime scene. If it is not a crime scene, and the remains are determined to be Aboriginal ancestral remains, then Heritage NSW is to be notified via the Environment Line on 131555 and management measures are to be devised in consultation with RAPs. Works are not to recommence in the area until the management measures have been implemented.

7.4 Consideration of Sustainable Development

Under the NSW Protection of the Environmental Administration Act 1991, ecologically sustainable development principles (ESD) are to be considered in the assessment of environmental impacts; and this includes impacts to heritage. The consideration of ESD principles is required under the Guide to Investigating, Assessing and Reporting on Aboriginal Cultural Heritage in New South Wales 2010. In particular, the precautionary principle and the principle of inter-generational equity are to be considered where there are proposed impacts to the environment (which includes heritage).

7.4.1 Precautionary Principle

The precautionary principle states that if there are threats of serious or irreversible damage to the environment, then a lack of full scientific certainty should not be used as a reason to postpone measures to prevent environmental degradation.

The proposed works do not pose a threat of serious or irreversible damage to the environment, as no Aboriginal objects have been identified and no Aboriginal heritage impacts are anticipated from the proposed works.

7.4.2 Inter-generational Equity & Cumulative Harm

The principle of inter-generational equity states that the present generation should ensure the health, diversity and productivity of the environment are maintained or enhanced for the benefit of future generations. Cumulative harm is understanding the cumulative effects of the Proposal.

No Aboriginal objects will be impacted and thus the proposed works do not pose a threat to inter-generational equity.

7.5 Summary

No Aboriginal objects will be impacted by the proposed works and no AHIP is required.

8 Conclusions and Recommendations

An archaeological survey of the Project Area was undertaken by Jenna Weston of Heritage Now and Justine Coplin of Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation on 13 August 2025. No Aboriginal objects or areas of potential archaeological deposit were found, and the majority of the Project Area has been extensively disturbed. As such, the archaeological sensitivity is assessed to be low and no Aboriginal heritage impacts are anticipated from the proposed works.

The Project Area is assessed to be of low historic, archaeological and aesthetic significance, and moderate cultural significance.

Heritage Now makes the following recommendations.

Recommendation 1

All on-site personnel are to be made aware of their obligations under the NPW Act, which includes protection of Aboriginal sites and the reporting of any new, or suspected, Aboriginal heritage sites. This may be done through an on-site induction or other suitable format.

Recommendation 2

In the unlikely event that Aboriginal or suspected Aboriginal archaeological material is uncovered during the development, then works in that area are to stop and the area cordoned off. The Project Manager is to contact the Heritage Consultant to make an assessment as to whether the material is classed as Aboriginal object/s under the NPW Act and advise on the required management and mitigation measures. Works are not to re-commence in the cordoned off area until heritage clearance has been given and/or the required management and mitigation measures have been implemented.

Recommendation 3

In the unlikely event that human remains, or suspected human remains are uncovered during the development, then works in that area are to stop and the area cordoned off. The Project Manager is to contact the NSW Police to establish whether the area is a crime scene. If it is not a crime scene, and the remains are determined to be Aboriginal ancestral remains, then Heritage NSW is to be notified via the Environment Line on 131555 and management measures are to be devised in consultation with RAPs. Works are not to recommence in the area until the management measures have been implemented.

To Heritage Now | Hello <hello@heritagenow.com.au>

Good Morning,

Thank you for your email seeking assistance to identify Aboriginal stakeholder organisations and persons who may hold an interest in Country at the project area designated in your correspondence.

Greater Sydney Local Land Services (GS LLS) acknowledges that Local Land Services (formerly as Catchment Management Authorities) has been listed in Section 4.1.3.(g) of the Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Consultation requirements for proponents 2010, to support Part 6, of the NSW National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974 as a source of information to obtain the 'names of Aboriginal people who may hold cultural knowledge relevant to determining the significance of Aboriginal objects and/or places'.

GS LLS understands and respects the significant role and values that tangible and intangible Aboriginal Cultural Heritage holds for First Nations/Aboriginal people with Country. GS LLS also partners with many First Nations communities on Caring for Country projects that aim to protect and enhance those tangible and intangible values in Country including Aboriginal Cultural Heritage. GS LLS considers Aboriginal Cultural Heritage matters in relation to its role in land management and considers cultural heritage issues in the context of Natural Resource Management.

However, GS LLS feels that it is not a primary source of contact for First Nations (Aboriginal) communities or persons that may inform or provide comment on development or planning issues.

GS LLS strongly recommends you contact Heritage NSW to seek their advice on all-inclusive contact lists of persons and organisations who 'speak for Country' and that may assist with your investigation.

Kind Regards

Customer Service Team

List of Aboriginal Stakeholders held by the Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water for the purposes of the Aboriginal Heritage Consultation Requirements for Proponents 2010.

The purpose of this letter is to assist you as the proposed applicant in undertaking Aboriginal community consultation in accordance with the relevant legislation and guidelines.

The consultation process involves getting the views of, and information from, Aboriginal people and reporting on these. It is not to be confused with other field assessment processes involved in preparing a proposal and an application. Consultation does not include the employment of Aboriginal people to assist in field assessment and/or site monitoring. Aboriginal people may provide services to proponents through a contractual arrangement however, this is separate from consultation. The proponent is not obliged to employ those Aboriginal people registered for consultation. Consultation as per these requirements will continue irrespective of potential or actual employment opportunities for Aboriginal people.

In accordance with Clause 60 (10) of the National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019, where an agreement of the kind listed below specifies or identifies a modified or alternative consultation process for the purposes of Part 6 of the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974, the applicant is to undertake consultation in accordance with the modified or alternative process. The applicable agreements are:

- a) a registered Indigenous Land Use Agreement under the Native Title Act 1993 of the Commonwealth entered into between an Aboriginal community and the State,
- b) a lease entered into under Part 4A of the Act,
- c) an agreement entered into by the Secretary and a board of management reserved under Part 4A of the Act that has the consent of Aboriginal owner board members for the land concerned,
- d) an agreement entered into between an Aboriginal community and the Department of Planning, Industry and the Environment.

Where you believe your application is wholly or partially located within an area subject to any of the above agreements, please provide further correspondence (including mapping, if required) detailing the applicable agreement and its relationship to the application area to heritagemailbox@environment.nsw.gov.au. Heritage NSW will respond with further advice.

Where the above does not apply, please proceed with consultation in accordance with the Clause 60 (1-9) of the National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019 and Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Consultation Requirements for Proponents 2010 (the "Consultation Requirements"). A copy of the Consultation Requirements can be found on the OEI website at: <http://www.environment.nsw.gov.au/resources/cultureheritage/commconsultation/09781ACHconsultreq.pdf>.

Under the Consultation Requirements, a proponent is required to provide Aboriginal people who may hold cultural knowledge relevant to determining the cultural significance of Aboriginal objects and/or places as relevant to the proposed project area, with an opportunity to be involved in consultation. Section 3.3.1 of the Consultation Requirements states that Aboriginal people who can provide this information are, based on Aboriginal lore and custom, the traditional owners or custodians of the land that is the subject of the proposed project.

The Consultation Requirements also state that:

Traditional owners or custodians with appropriate cultural heritage knowledge to inform decision making who seek to register their interest as an Aboriginal party are those people who:

- continue to maintain a deep respect for their ancestral belief system, traditional lore and custom
- recognise their responsibilities and obligations to protect and conserve their culture and heritage and care for their traditional lands or Country
- have the trust of their community, knowledge and understanding of their culture, and permission to speak about it.

This list is provided to proponents in accordance with Clause 60(2)(a)(i) of the National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019 and section 4.1.2 of the Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Consultation Requirements for Proponents 2010.

The stakeholders identified on this list may have an interest in the proposed project area and may hold knowledge relevant to determining the cultural significance of Aboriginal objects and/or places.

How to use this list

- Contact the organisations/individuals who have indicated an interest in the relevant LGA/s and invite them to register an interest in your project.
- Do not reproduce the attached list in publicly available reports and other documents. Your report should only contain the names of the organisations and individuals who you have invited to register an interest in your project and those who have registered as stakeholders for your project.
- Note that the provision of this Aboriginal stakeholder list does not override a proponent's requirement to also advertise in the local newspaper and to seek from other sources the names of any other Aboriginal people who may hold cultural knowledge as required under clause 60 (2) of the National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019.
- Please refer to Clause 60 of the National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019 and the Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Consultation Requirements for Proponents 2010 for further information on the requirements of the consultation process.
- If contact details of stakeholders are found to be incorrect or outdated, please contact heritagemailbox@environment.nsw.gov.au

Dear Holly

Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment – Proposed residential subdivision and development at 2 & 2A Bullecourt Avenue Milperra NSW: request for list of potential Aboriginal stakeholders

We refer to your email and letter to this Office dated 18 April 2025 requesting contact information for Aboriginal organisations, stakeholders and/or people who may have cultural knowledge relevant to the proposed residential subdivision and development at 2 & 2A Bullecourt Avenue Milperra NSW, as part of an Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment (ACHA).

Under Section 170 of the Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983 (NSW), the Office of the Registrar is required to maintain the Register of Aboriginal Owners (RAO) for New South Wales. A search of the RAO has shown that there are currently no Registered Aboriginal Owners in the project area.

Using the project map provided in your email “Figure 1. Location of Project Area” it appears the proposed works falls within the boundaries of Gandangara Local Aboriginal Land Council (LALC). We suggest you contact Gandangara LALC (contact details provided below), as they may wish to participate or contribute.

Yours sincerely

Good morning,

I am writing in regard to the list of registered Aboriginal parties provided by you on 22/4/2025 for an ACHA we are currently undertaking in 2 & 2A Bullecourt Avenue, Milperra.

One of the potential RAPs is Darug Land Observations (c/- Jamie Workman, Anna Workman & Anna O'Hara) and none of the contact details supplied appear to be current. We have had return to sender for both postal addresses, both phone numbers are not ringing, and the email fails to deliver due to full inbox of recipient. Can you advise if you have updated contact details for this organisation or if they are still operational?

Kind regards,
Holly

Dear Amanda,

RE: HN1460-A 2 & 2A Bullecourt Avenue, Milperra — Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment Methodology

Thank you for your registration of interest in the for the 2 & 2A Bullecourt Avenue, Milperra Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Assessment (ACHA). The purpose of this letter is to present information about the project, provide a proposed assessment methodology to Registered Aboriginal Parties (RAPs) for review and comment.

Project Information

Heritage Now has been engaged by Mirvac Residential (NSW) Developments Pty Limited (the Proponent) to prepare an ACHA report addressing a proposed mixed-use residential and commercial subdivision and development at Milperra (Figure 1). The works include land clearance, demolition of current university buildings and ground preparation to make way for the construction of residential buildings, a commercial area and green spaces. Included in the works are the installation of above and below ground services, the construction of access ways and roads and the installation of a temporary sales office, and alterations and additions to a preexisting childcare centre.

Archaeological Background

A search of the AHIMS database resulted in 61 valid sites in the region. There are no registered sites within the Project Area; the nearest sites are a modified tree and area of PAD located approximately 1km and 800 metres southwest of the Project Area.

Regionally, open sites containing artefacts are the most commonly occurring site type, primarily located on the lower slopes and undulating plains, with a concentration of closed sites containing art located to the southeast of the Project Area, where steep hills and ridgelines overlook the Georges River. Potential Archaeological Deposits and modified trees were also identified in the search area.

No prior archaeological investigations have occurred in the Project Area. Previous investigations within 500m (Biosis 2023; Haglund 1984, Austral Archaeology 2022), did not identify any Aboriginal sites. Overall, while some cultural associations between the landscape and the Georges River were noted, these investigations have suggested that historical land use within the Milperra region indicated a significant level of disturbance that may have impacted intact evidence of past Aboriginal occupation.

Proposed Methodology

The ACHA report will be prepared in accordance with the following guidelines:

- Guide to investigating, assessing and reporting on Aboriginal cultural heritage in NSW (Office of Environment and Heritage 2011)
- Code of practice for archaeological investigation of Aboriginal objects in New South Wales (Department of Environment, Climate Change and Water 2010)
- Aboriginal cultural heritage consultation requirements for proponents 2010 (Department of Environment, Climate Change and Water 2010)

The report will include the following:

- a description of the Aboriginal objects located within the area of the proposed activity;
- a description of the cultural heritage values, including the significance of the Aboriginal objects and declared Aboriginal places, that exist across the whole area that will be affected by the proposed activity and the significance of these values for the Aboriginal people who have a cultural association with the land;
- documentation of Aboriginal consultation in accordance with Section 60 of the National Parks and Wildlife Regulation 2019;
- documentation of the views of those Aboriginal people regarding the likely impact of the proposed activity on their cultural heritage;
- documentation of actual or likely harm posed to the Aboriginal objects from the proposed activity, with reference to the cultural heritage values identified; and
- practical measures that can be taken to protect and conserve those Aboriginal objects;
- practical measures that may be taken to avoid or mitigate any actual or likely harm, alternatives to harm or, if this is not possible, to manage (minimise) harm.

Survey Methodology

A pedestrian survey of the Project Area will be undertaken in accordance with the archaeological survey requirements of the Code of practice for archaeological investigation of Aboriginal objects in New South Wales. The purpose of the survey will be to record all (or a representative sample) of the material traces and evidence of Aboriginal land use, and identify where it can be inferred that potential archaeological deposits have a likelihood of being present under the ground surface.

The survey will be conducted by an archaeologist in conjunction with representatives of the Registered Aboriginal Parties (RAPs), using the following strategy:

- A sample of all landforms that have the potential to be impacted by the project will be surveyed, with a proportional emphasis on landforms deemed to have archaeological potential.
 - Transects or survey units will be defined by landform, extent of the project area and area of potential impact, a significant change in survey conditions, or other arbitrary boundary.
 - Representative photographs will be taken of survey units and landforms, where informative.
 - Landform and general soil information will be recorded for each survey unit.
 - Land surface and vegetation conditions encountered during the survey will be described, accounting as appropriate for how these impact on the visibility of objects.

- Survey coverage, including ground surface exposure and visibility, will be estimated for each survey unit and used to calculate survey effectiveness.

Proposed Timeline

An indicative timeline for completion of the ACHA is set out below:

- Presentation of project information and proposed ACHA methodology for review (this document) – early July 2025
- End of review period – late July 2025
- Field investigation – early August 2025
- Provision of draft ACHA report for review – mid August 2025
- Finalisation of ACHA report – mid September 2025

Feedback

If you would like to provide feedback on the proposed assessment methodology in accordance with Stage 2 and Stage 3 of the Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Consultation Requirements for proponents 2010, please respond by phone or in writing by 31 July 2025 to:
