Submitter identification number reference table

Submitter identification number reference table

Issues raised in submissions from community groups, individual community members and other stakeholders have been grouped into common issues, which are described in this appendix. Submitters can locate the issues raised in their submission and the relevant section of the report where these have been addressed. Each submission author has been assigned a submitter identification number based on their submission form number assigned by the NSW Department of Planning and Environment (DP&E) on receipt of the submission. A submitter can access their submitter identification number by locating their submission on the NSW Major Projects website¹.

Where a submitter has provided additional comments within a form letter, those additional comments are represented by the submitter identification number and cross referenced against the relevant responses in this appendix.
