

Appendix : Lanark Trees “native” to NSW

Spotted Gum, Corymbia Maculata

Distribution: Open forest from south-east Queensland to southern New South Wales and an isolated population in east Gippsland, Victoria

Quote from “Australian Native Plants Society” website

anpsa.org.au/plant_profiles/corymbia-maculata/

Lemon Scented Gum, Corymbia citriodora,

Distribution: grows in undulating country in open forest and woodland in several disjunct areas in Queensland and as far south as Coffs Harbour in New South Wales.

Quote inaturalist

inaturalist.ala.org.au/taxa/334772-Corymbia-citriodora

Silky Oak, Grevillea Robusta,

Distribution: Rainforests in south-east Queensland and north-east New South Wales; has become naturalised on Queensland’s Atherton Tablelands

Quote from “Australian Native Plants Society” website

anpsa.org.au/plant_profiles/grevillea-robusta/