Re: Support for Bloomfield Colliery Continuation Project (Modification 5)

To whom it may concern,

Quasar Electrical Pty Ltd writes to express our strong support for the Bloomfield Colliery Continuation Project (MOD 5) currently on public exhibition.

As a key supplier to the Bloomfield Group, we have worked closely with the organisation over many years and have seen firsthand the professionalism, environmental responsibility, and long-term community focus that underpins their operations. The continuation of this project is not only critical to the sustainability of ongoing mining operations, but also to the continued employment and economic stability of local businesses and workers who support this industry.

This project ensures:

- Ongoing employment for local people and contractors in the Hunter region
- Responsible environmental management, including progressive rehabilitation and reduction of final voids
- Continued investment in local communities through procurement, sponsorship, and support for regional programs
- Long-term planning that addresses historical mining areas and ensures final landform stability

The Bloomfield Group has demonstrated a clear commitment to operating with care for both people and the environment. This continuation project reflects that same approach and provides certainty for local suppliers like Quasar Electrical, whose operations rely on consistent, well-managed partnerships with major regional industries.

We urge the Department to approve this application and allow Bloomfield Colliery to continue its responsible and community-focused operations.

Yours sincerely,

Callan Sheldon
