I love visiting Nundle as I enjoy the unspoilt small town, its lack of hustle and bustle and the quaint architecture of all the old buildings. It is full of hidden surprises which display its role in the history of this nation.

At night the galaxies of stars appear brighter than what we see elsewhere because of the lack of bright lights in the town.

The proposed EIS states on page 82 under obstacle lighting states that 2 flashing red lights per turbine are required to be on at night. As there are a large number of turbines it would certainly ruin the present night sky.

I do not want to look at christmas lighting every night of the year for 30 years!!!

Would you like to be looking at this???

I object to the wind farm proposal for this unspoilt location.
