

Subject:

Nundle submission 28/1/2021 OBJECTION Hills of Gold Wind Farm proposal ID no. SSD 9679

Submission for Objection

The Proposed Destruction of Nundle's Sublime Environment

- Nundle is a vast Aboriginal gravesite. Their graves from 74,000 years of continuous existence in the Nundle area are everywhere as far as the eye can see in the land they protected and cared for, for 74 millennia, since before the Dreamtime.
- The ancient and sacred hills of Nundle are memorial to the Old Ones who lived here since Toba was in eruption 74,000 years ago. Nundul became the physical and spiritual home to the great Gamilaraay nation. For tens of thousands of years, the people never left the land nor migrated with their main tribe. They stayed to care for and protect the land and their fellow beings, all living things.
- Nundle is an area of stupendous natural physical and spiritual beauty, the home of rare flora and fauna, magnificent, unique fragile bird and bat life and tens of thousands of years of uninterrupted mammal, bird and insect life. It is an entire ecological system evolved over billions of years to live in harmony with land and sky above these sublime hills.
 - The hills are home to the tallest snow gums in existence and extremely rare. The proposal demands their death by clearance to blast and level the hilltops ready for the tons of concrete to hold the tower and steel structures in place.
 - The awesome snow gums unique to these hills would cease to exist in this area and are already being illegally cleared. The catastrophic effect on the environment is incalculable.
 - The exquisite Euphrasia arguta plant thought to be extinct was re-discovered in the Nundle area causing great excitement in the world of botany.
- Nundle people vehemently, officially and publicly object to the destruction of the environment and quiet, orderly life prized in this quintessentially Australian country town. The quiet ambience and country lifestyle would be overwhelmed by the tremendous increase of heavy traffic and distressing noise the transportation and construction of wind turbines and the distraction and disturbance brought to this small, peaceful town.
- There are blatantly incorrect plans on paper which border on fantasy, put forward by the construction company planning mass destruction of the environment and the billions of beings who live and thrive in the pristine Nundle hills.
- Residents have chosen to live here because of the unspoiled countryside, exquisite views and the good character and integrity of Nundle neighbours.

- Tourism is a mainstay of Nundle bringing people who enjoy the atmosphere and charm of this unspoiled area and seeking relief from the troubled world far away with every mile distanced from the highway.
 - Tourists to Nundle are unusually loyal in their frequent visits, this would change with any disruption to the tranquil haven visitors have always enjoyed.
 -
 - Businesses would suffer significantly with lack of tourists.
 - Tourists repeatedly return in the safe knowledge Nundle will never change and fall to invasion through greed and outside control.
 - The spiritual aspect of Nundle is recognised by all who can think and feel and connect to Nundle's natural energy in the purity of the land and the sky above.
 - The streets of Nundle are safe, the children are safe, there is nothing here to endanger children and adults.
 - This would change drastically with the presence of outside workers and continuous heavy traffic compromising the safety of residents of all ages. The constant pollution from lorries would poison people and animals of Nundle who have never faced such a lethal threat.
 - The proposed wind turbine plan would desecrate the land and destroy all carbon-based life forms within range of said wind turbine towers.
 - The planned blasting of 20 miles (32ks) of hilltops and the succession of dozens of heavy haulage trucks bringing thousands of tons of cement to pour into the 20 to 30 ft (6 -9meters) deep crater to support just one tower. Concrete dust spreads over a wide area floating on the winds and falling to the ground to cover agricultural land and food growing areas.
 - * Electromagnetic interference from wind turbines on the land and above has been termed "safe" by scientists paid to support the business. However, thousands of reports concerning the health of residents situated within range of the towers are negative in the extreme.
 - The crucial question to ask: What is the quantum ratio of the electromagnetic field of just one of the proposed wind turbines? I am sure Infrastructure Capitol Group cannot
 - tell you, and am certain their scientists do not know either and as the company nears victory, it is irrelevant.
 - Anyone with imagination and vision can understand quantum, the interaction of atoms and the infinitesimal microscopic world of colliding particles but now controlled by artificial intelligence, not humans.
- Wind turbines=*
electromagnetism =waves = plasma = affects gravity= time / time distortion
- In the near future wind turbines are to be controlled by A.I. controlled satellite; a lose-lose situation involving all future proposals for wind turbine grids. A.I. is still in early infancy and not a technology to trust, living beings are at risk. This is the future which Nundle would be forced to accept.
 - The secret plotting over ten years with pro-wind turbine residents who were promised monetary rewards for the use of their land has ultimately resulted in betrayal by the company 'Wind Energy Partners' which spent years, grooming pro-turbine residents by hiding the vastness of the plan from them. The company took them for dumb fools whilst negotiating the sale. It is highly dubious and secretive industry which now impacts on the little town of Nundle.
 - What should be a major concern is the fact that Tamworth's mayor has visited China six times. Why? The mayor of Liverpool Plains Shire, among others, has also visited China. There

- is clear evidence that China's heavy industry companies are involved and they do not financially support a losing concern. Wind turbine grids and A.I. technology to control
- control them are gargantuan money-makers for China.
-
- China does not lease. China owns you.
- The proposed Nundle wind turbines have particular and mysterious significance for the Australian grid, the site was chosen not for the wind which does not blow half the year,
- year, but for a nefarious reason not available to the public, perhaps to aid China's space bid?

• There is nothing "green" or "clean" nor reputable nor even eco-friendly about the wind turbine industry, nor is it "renewable" having a maximum of a mere 20 working years. The steel from China is often defective, produced in illegal factories in China in which hundreds of workers are dying every year. This detail, conveniently, is never mentioned. Lives are irrelevant in the pursuit of money and Australia has made deals with the devil.

• Payments from the present company attempting to build the wind turbines, Infrastructure Capital Group, are on the whole very poor, not enough to sell one's soul. Such bewitched folk obstinately refuse to see the big picture and the long-term effects on the Nundle area area community.

The proposed Nundle wind turbines site has particular significance for the Australian grid, the site was chosen not for the "wind" which does not blow half of the year, but for a nefarious reason not available to the public. Why?

• The only statement apart from the environment. worth making is, as always:
"business as usual" and the only words to remember.....

"FOLLOW THE MONEY"

To everyone reading this - in the grand scheme of things
YOU ARE BEING LIED TO!

