

We get the industry.

Cumulus Visual Effects have delivered top quality work many times before and are passionate about not only producing the best visual effects at a reasonable cost, but also providing the best service and professionalism through every stage of the process.

Producing stunning Visual Effects for Film, Television and other visual mediums including Virtual Reality (VR), Cumulus VFX is located in the idyllic surrounds of Australia's most sought-after destination, Byron Bay.

At Cumulus we pride ourselves on our ability to collaborate closely with major studios, on VFX projects of any size. The Cumulus team has the in-house abilities to take on shots from straight compositing through to complex effects challenges. Our ability to deliver tent-pole film standard Nuke compositing gives us an advantage over most other outsourcing studios.

Cumulus is looking to build ongoing relationships with major VFX studios. The advantages our location provides are;

- Time offset work hours, which means we work while you rest
- Access to Australian artists without the need to relocate
- 30% tax rebate for post production services over $500k
- Happy, motivated artists living in an idyllic location
- Cheaper studio overheads
- State of the art infrastructure, software and hardware
- Syclone, Cumulus's custom built, remote data management software
