Just looked at the map of the proposed new ramp and note that there will not be any toll for the 2 existing on ramps at this intersection with the M2

Where is the equity and common sense in that

You would think that after 18 months of traffic disruption by the works on the M2, when we have had to pay full tolls the building of this ramp could be free as a gesture to a long suffering motoring public.

The proposed charge of $1.80 for using this access ramp could be waived as a gesture by the motorway.
