

To whom it may concern,

I would like to voice my objection against the proposed gas fired power station being built in Wellington NSW. All the research obtained from places that have these plants are that they are noisy and are not suitable for for

Our town where it is proposed. We live in a little valley with a mountain range and two rivers and to have the constant drone of this thing in the background is unacceptable and is wrong of the government to think that they can just put it here because of the low population of Wellington is wrong. Other towns with these power plants have said they vibrate their houses and the constant noise in the background is unbearable. So I strongly object to this plant being placed in our town. There must be somewhere it can be built away from urban areas where it is going to be a constant nuisance to people trying to live their lives.
