To whom it may concern,

The highest finding in medical research on this globe, profound micro-psychology. It's on offer to a global level, to any country willing to approve the research and there is a price tag attached.

If the price is acceptable, I will respond. What price would you pay for finding dementia, cancer, asthma and joint operations? These are all diseases that can be treated and this treatment has not been used by anyone else in this world.

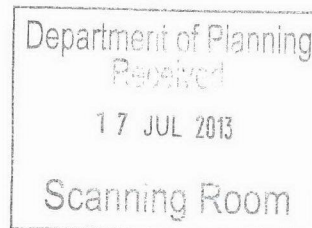

If you are interested, I invite you to contact me via post for more information.

Yours sincerely,

My ambition is to eradicate disease and that will improve health. That will in turn decrease all medical infrastructure.
