Subject: SIMTA MODIFICATION – SSD 5066 [Early Works]

I object to these modifications, on merit and on principle because there is absolutely NO NEED for yet another terminal to be built in metro Sydney.

There is already a huge white elephant of a terminal sitting idle in Enfield. What a waste of money.

Why are we proposing another one 20mins away in Moorebank?

IF there is a need for one in the future, do some planning ahead, with a bit of research and develop it away from dense population areas.

Perhaps somewhere out past Badgery Creek would work. Few people live there and it could be a major hub, especially when construction on the airport commences.

Yours sincerely,
