Dear Mike.

Sorry I have been very busy, and so these dot points are the issues which warrant addressing.

1. NSW Health requires to do a full health impact study on the cumulative impact, taking in new information released from W.H.O related to outdoor pollution and PM, and direct result in the cause of cancer
2. Cumulative is just not the mine next door, it is the whole area of the hunter, relation to the movement of pollution
3. The concern of Minister resigning today Chris Hartcher, related to ICAC, as it is unknown of the reason but due to this action it has to be considered the portfolio could be the issue.
4. The actions of the department in relation to the deed, and the court case pending result, to do a deal to suit the Rio Tinto, so a breach of procedure and process,
5. The use of the section 75W in a manner, to prevent a judicial review.
6. The people of Bulga have been unfairly treated in who will be impacted, now the department is well aware what happened in other areas. So this is clear indicator of full cumulative impact study on health, related to noise, mental health, air quality, blasting.

regards
Deidre
