Dear Megan

We are very saddened, disgusted and angry to hear that St George Hospital has proposed demolishing Griffith House on the corner of Gray Street, Kogarah. This building is a 122 years old and is listed as heritage by the NSW Office of Environment and Heritage; it is a beautiful building with cultural significance and should be saved. My parents and I have lived on Gray Street close to 43 years and I can't help but wonder how great it is to have a heritage listed building so close to us and in such great condition.

So many old building have been bulldozed in Kogarah including heritage listed buildings, this is shameful practice and should not be allowed. When does it stop.

I saw this planned demolition in The Leader-newspaper, my friend who lives in Kogarah gave me your email, we did not receive anything in the mail regarding this proposed demolition and we strongly oppose it. The building should be saved. What's next, the School of Arts building in Kogarah near Bownes Road.

Regards

Popi Regas and on behalf of my parents Steve and Anna Regas
