RE: Property Contamination

I have not been able to identify any controls in the EIS for employee movements and management during or around construction works.

There will be very large number of workers required to attend site each day, it is normal practice for construction workers to be on site as early as 6:00am. I have observed at other sites that areas where workers park and gather often build up with a high level of rubbish as they drink, eat and smoke before, after and during work and rest periods.

My concern is that areas around my property may be used as utility areas (i.e. parking, smoking, waiting, etc.) and as a result, that we may be subjected to rubbish from these area and the construction site being carried by various means into my property.

In addition, I have strong objections to smoking generally and the associated 'second hand smoke' as it has a large negative effect on my health. I am concerned that smoking related air pollutants and rubbish may be carried and evident on my property as a result of construction activities and workers as they enter site, work, rest and leave the site.

What is the parking plan for these workers, are they going to be taking existing street parking that is already at a premium?

I request that these detail be made available for public comment prior to the approval of any site works.

Yours Sincerely

David Manning
