Dear Sir/Madam,

When we first moved to Australia from Jakarta, Indonesia, we thought we wanted to give our two sons a better future; however, it turned out that what we have here is a lot less than what we used to have back then. Here, we have to work a lot harder for daily expenses, mortgage, bills, etc. It made us wonder what the point of travelling this far, leaving family and friends behind, leaving our comfortable lifestyle behind. We reached a point where we were thinking of going back.

One day, one of our friends from back home who have been migrating here for almost ten years said to us: "Lil, the ONE and ONLY thing we can give our kids here that we couldn't give back home is BLUE SKY." Yes, she is correct: Blue Sky. Blue Sky means cleaner air to breath; Blue Sky means clearer sky to see; Blue Sky means purer water to drink. These are simple things that we simply could not get in Indonesia which most Australian take for granted. These are simple things that keep us stronger surviving in Australia, thinking we ARE giving our sons a whole lot better future. Just these simple things.

And now, with your plan to build Moorebank Recycling/Waste Facility Plant close to our home, we feel we will be getting what we used to get back home. All the pollution, all the bad air quality, all the dust. Wonder what other environmentally bad things might happen as the effect of the Plant. We strongly oppose the development of the Recycling/Waste Facility Plant close to residential area, anywhere in Australia, especially the one close to our home. Australia is a beautiful country with well planned development in every aspect of life, which is why we don't understand how this Recycling/Waste Facility Plant was even planned, was even in the plan so close to residential area.

We understand that various tests were done to see the effect of the Plant; however, who could guarantee that it would not affect our wellbeing? Is this Recycling/Waste Facility Plant really necessary in our area? I see Liverpool Council still has area that is more suitable for this Plant which is far away from residential area, why is this Plant not happening there? We are sure when you build the Plant in remote area, away from residential area, all of us (you and us) can save our energy and time debating this and we all can focus on making our Liverpool Council a better place to live.

Please, Sir and Madam, with your authorities and capacities, we are begging you on our knees to please put a stop to this plan so the Plant is not happening in our area.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
