Dear Mr Ramasundara,

Re: Statement regarding adequacy of Abercrombie Precinct archaeology

I refer to the modifications to the proposed Abercrombie Precinct development – I have reviewed plans 6423-AA200_F to 6423-AA210_F. As you are aware, Casey & Lowe undertook the archaeological assessment and subsequent testing of the precinct to inform the historic archaeological requirements for the site.

The testing showed that the site has a low potential to retain significant archaeological remains and no further archaeological input was recommended. The changes to the proposed development design have no implications for the archaeological assessment and the subsequent archaeological testing.

In conclusion, the Abercrombie Precinct does not require any further archaeological input and the existing archaeological reporting does not require modification.

Please call me on 9568 5375 should you require additional information.

Yours sincerely,
