Dear Madame

University of Sydney – Centre for Obesity, Diabetes and Cardiovascular Disease – Section 75W Application

Section 75W application relating to the Part 3A approval for University of Sydney – Centre for Obesity, Diabetes and Cardiovascular Disease (CODCD) project has been submitted to the Department of Planning in January 2012.

In response to the abovementioned application the City of Sydney submitted comments noting concern that the revised design indicates realignment of the originally proposed access road to the CODCD facility without documentation supporting or explaining the proposed change. Furthermore, it was noted that the proposed road has been constructed – The University of Sydney clarified that the constructed road is a temporary construction road.

The design drawings forming part of the Section 75W application have since been revised to indicate the road in the originally proposed location.

The University of Sydney hereby states that the CODCD project will be constructed in accordance with relevant development approvals and that any temporary construction structures will be removed upon the completion of the construction works.

Yours sincerely

Wayne Burgess
