Pitt Street integrated station development

Better connecting our global city with new places to live, work and play in the heart of Sydney.

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

This new standalone railway will deliver 31 metro stations and 66 kilometres of new metro rail, revolutionising the way Australia's biggest city travels.

The NSW Government has identified stations on the Sydney Metro system which can be better integrated with the areas around them and buildings above them, creating world-class places that will shape our city's future.

There are two concept proposals for above Pitt Street Station – one on the corner of Park and Pitt Street, referred to as Pitt Street North and one on the corner of Bathurst and Pitt Street, referred to as Pitt Street South.

The concept for Pitt Street North is a 43-storey mixed use building which could house a hotel, apartments and commercial office space. The concept for Pitt Street South is a 35-storey building which could house apartments or commercial office space.
