MESSAGE

These have been received for the Modscape works, being Structural Certificate for the building works.

I can confirm that, based on the Structural Certificate issued by the structural engineer that the structural works have been completed.

Note: we have relied upon the structural engineers design and installation certification to confirm this, as we are not qualified or experts in structural matters nor have we inspected any structural elements, so the receipt of certification from the structural engineer is how we were satisfied that the structural elements have been completed.

Regards,

Charles Slack-Smith

These have been received, as has the Structural Certificate for the building works

I can confirm that, based on the Structural Certificate issued by the structural engineer that the structural works have been completed.

Note: we have relied upon the structural engineers design and installation certification to confirm this, as we are not qualified or experts in structural matter, so the certification is how we were satisfied that the structural elements have been completed.
