

A grayscale image of a city street scene. In the background, a roller coaster track winds up a hill next to a modern building. In the foreground, a multi-lane road curves to the right. Several cars are visible: a white car in the left lane, a dark car in the middle lane, and an orange sports car in the right lane. A bridge or overpass spans the road in the distance. Traffic lights are visible at the intersection. The sky is overcast.

Is this our future?

It looks terrible.

